Before leaving the old high school in 1965, Dyer Central's Student Council, presently our SGA, asked the Journalism Department if they would change the names of the publications so that it would relate to the Indian mascot. The yearbook was called the Echo and the newspaper, the Comet.

The Intro-Journalism classes considered several names, such as the "Brave", "Wampom", "The Tee-Pee", "Scout", and "Quiver". From these, "Quiver" and "Scout" were chosen as the names of the publications for Lake Central High School.

As the Quiver was a case in which the Indians held their arrows, our yearbook, the Quiver holds the history of our high school years.

Elvis Presley, alias Ed Cobb, tries to calm down some of his admirers at the Mr. Ugly Contest.

Senior, Rick Wood, is busy working on his class football homecoming float that took first place this year.

FOCUSING ON STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Before school, lunch hour, in-between classes; the benches in the foyer are always kept occupied.

Although a little late in arriving, glasses and mustaches covered the faces of freshmen during initiation week.

Senior, Pat Kapitan, keeps herself busy drawing designs on a clay pot she molded in Crafts II.

Another year gone by—Maybe these 1, 2, 3, or 4 years spent at LC are still somewhat unclear or meaningless to you at the present time.

Or maybe the blurriness and uncertainty you felt when you first came to LC began focusing itself on something special this year.

Your school?

Your future?

The world?

A friend?

Or did you bother to focus on anything?

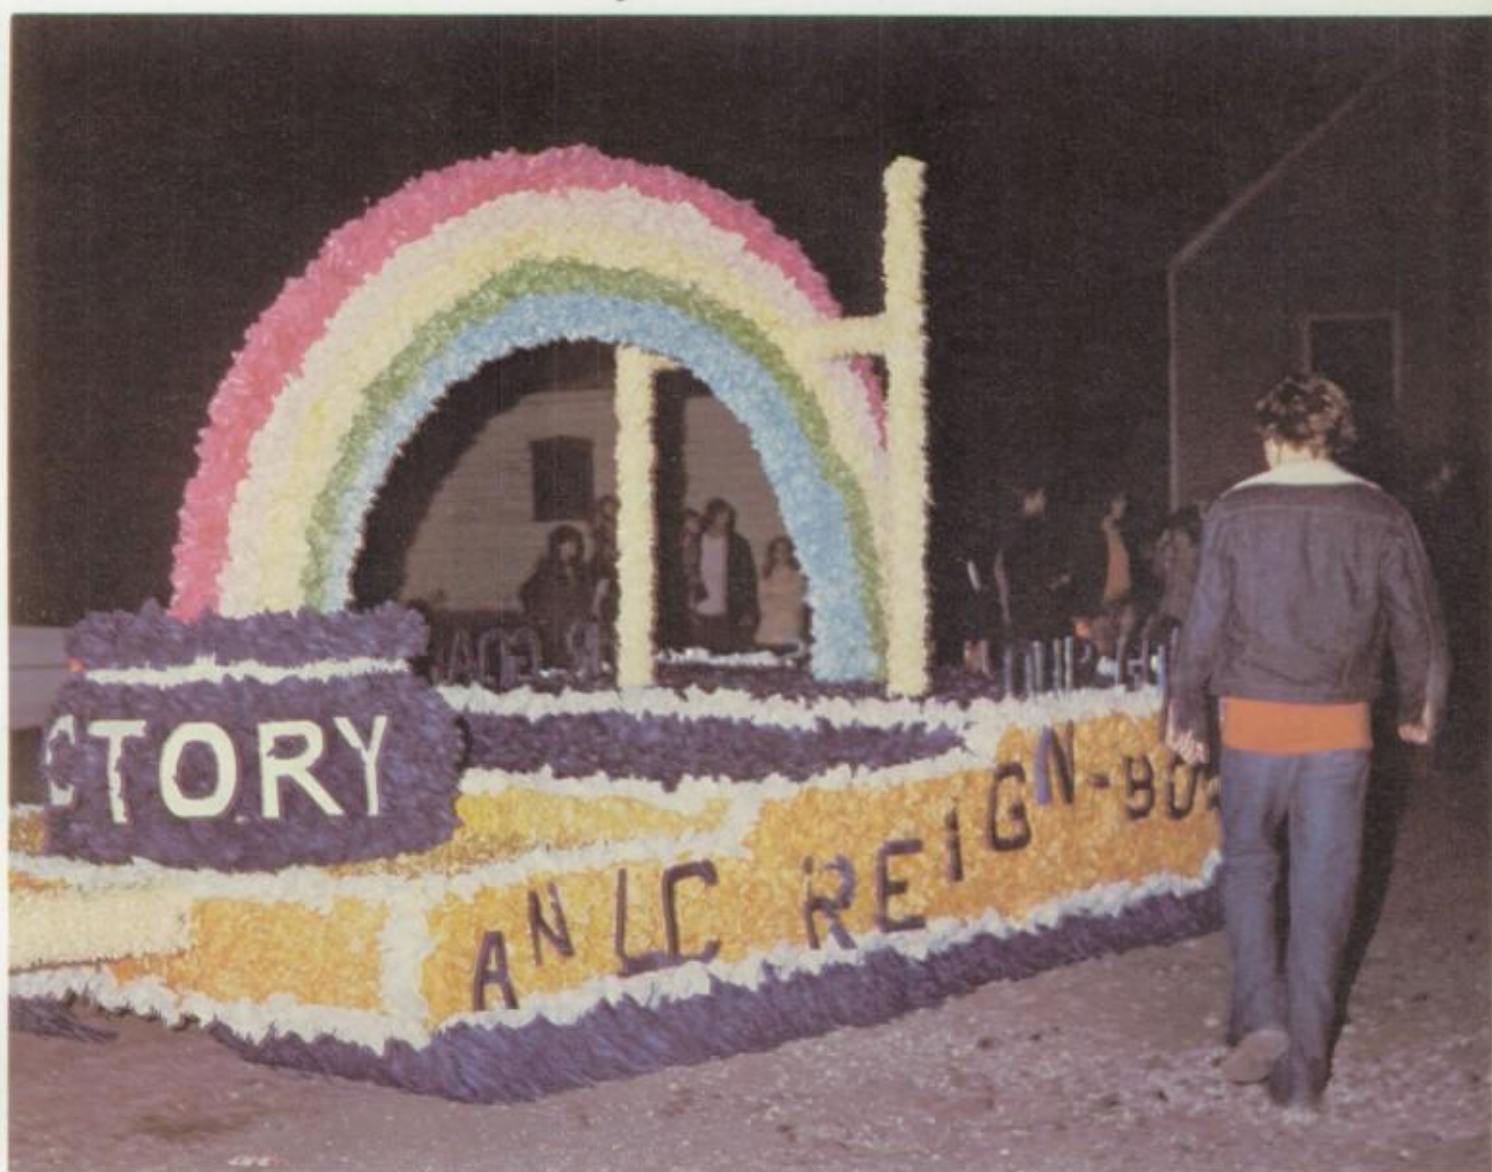

HOMECOMING

The seniors stuck with their hall theme, "The Wizard of Oz", and came out a 1st place winner in float competition. Their theme was "Our Goal, An LC Reign-Bow".

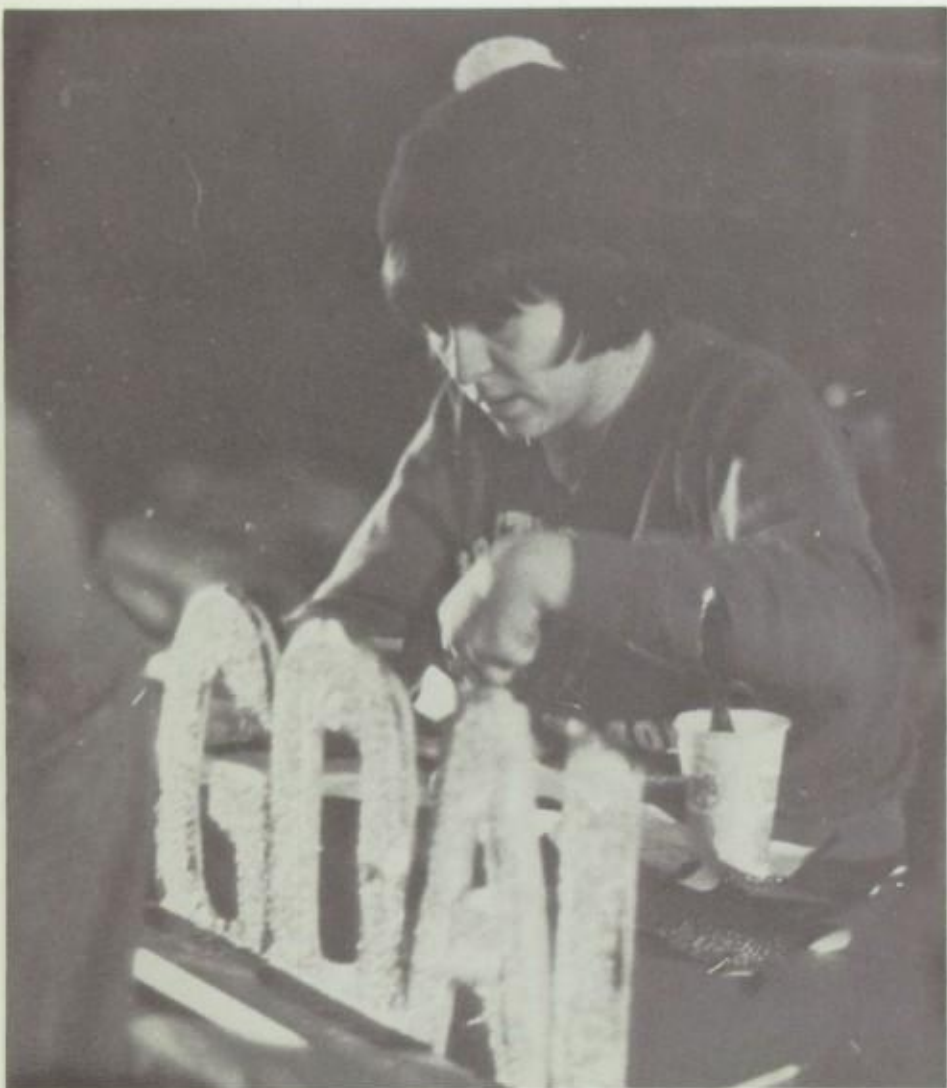

Seniors decorated their hall for homecoming to the theme of "The Wizard of Oz". One of their winning features was this window in the foyer further developing their idea.

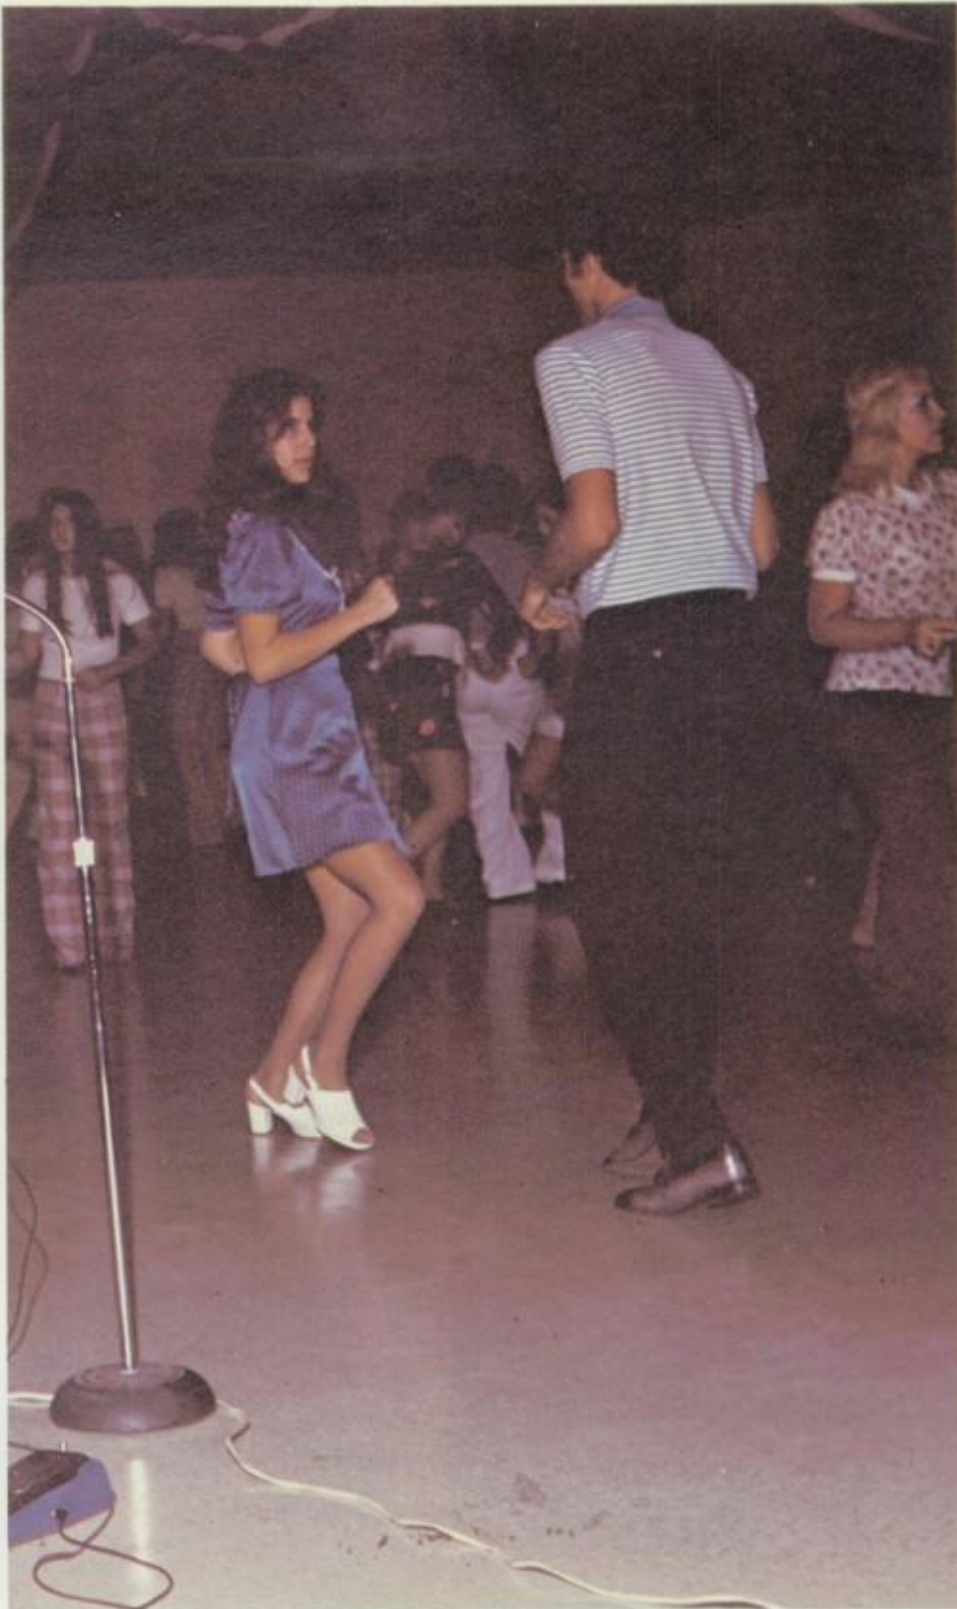

After being banned the year before because of fire hazards, it was great seeing our traditional bonfire back in action.

Mrs. Angie Lowe, senior class sponsor, is busy helping her class put a final touch on their "goal".

Dancing to the music of "Mass Hysteria," are homecoming king and queen, Tom James and Lorene Townsend.

The flames of a bonfire returned for this year's homecoming.

Did you notice?

Did you work on your class float?

SGA field decorations?

What about those hours of working on halls; did you benefit from it?

Did you go to the game; or wasn't the spirit in you?

Did you go to the dance or march in the parade?

How will you remember this homecoming—

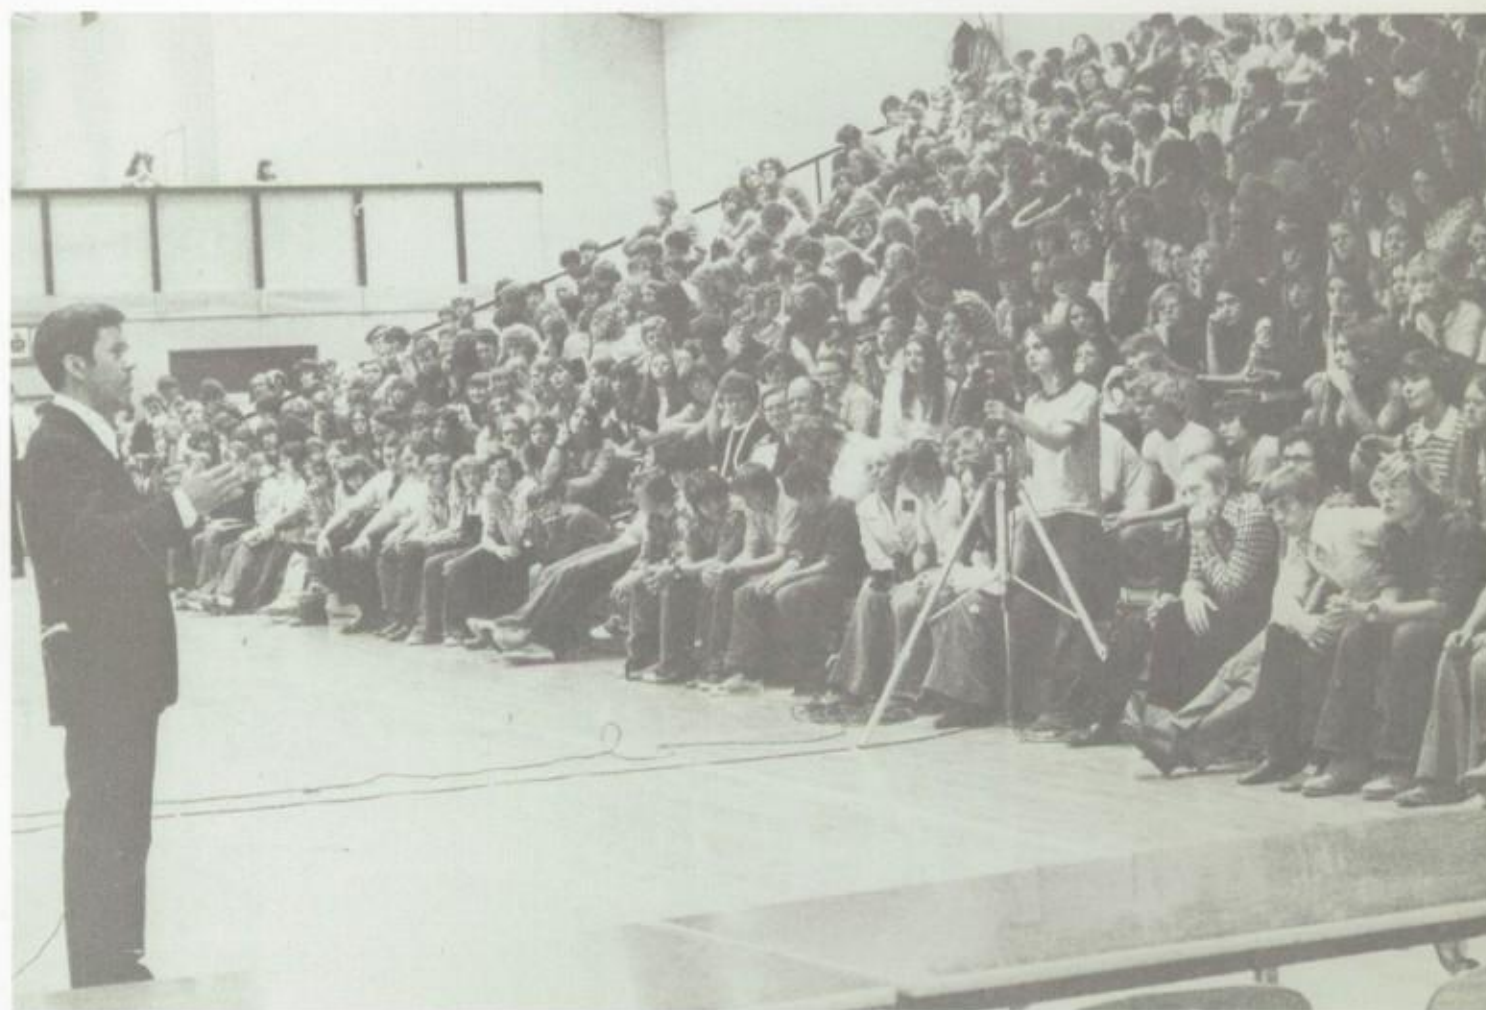

Was it your first, your last, or your best?

Will you remember it?

A CHANGE IN POLITICAL IMAGES

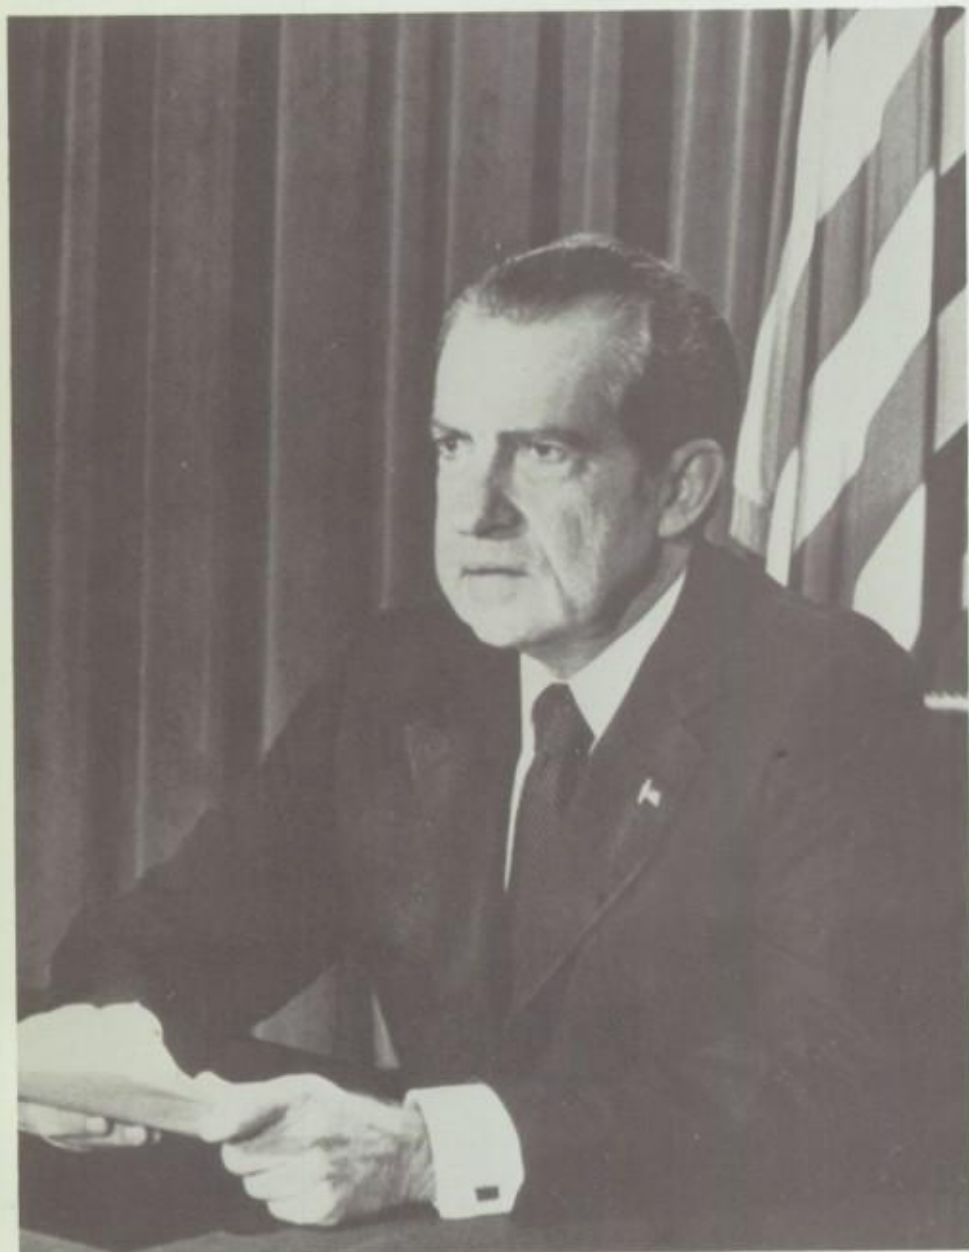

Gerald R. Ford takes the oath of office as the 38th President of the United States in the East Room of the White House, Friday, August 9, 1974. Mrs. Betty Ford looks on as Chief Justice, Warren Burger administers the oath in the same room that only hours before Richard M. Nixon bid farewell to members of his staff.

While campaigning for senator, Mayor of Indianapolis, Richard Lugar, stops by LC to express his views on issues concerning his upcoming election against Birch Bayh.

Learning about our government and how it operates are seniors Lisa Bocek, Rose Fitzpatrick, Jeff Vido, and Sandy Schmitz.

Richard M. Nixon, during his televised broadcast Thursday, August 8, 1974, as he announced he was resigning his position as President of the United States.

Does the fact our President of the US, the man he chose to be his second-in-command, and all his top aides—were forced, by the people, into resigning their distinguished positions; have any bearing on your life at all?

Does politics even interest you?

Mr. Doug Jordan, LC band leader, is caught in the midst of his winning band and a proud bunch of patrons after capturing their 11th NISBOVA sweepstakes trophy. This ups the band's outstanding record to 11 wins out of 13 attempts. The band went on to place fifth in the state.

STRIVING FOR THE VERY

We all strive for the best; but sometimes the best just isn't good enough.

It's easy to express feelings of joy, pride and satisfaction when you're a winner—but can you control your emotions when everything you've been working for seems to have been in vain?

Not only was our band a good winner at NISBOVA, but they were also good losers at State. When you're striving for the "best", 5th place just isn't good enough.

Dear Doug and Lake Central Bandsmen:

We just wanted to send a sincere letter of congratulations on behalf of our entire Jasper Band Organization; parents and students alike. We know that congratulations at this point are sometimes difficult to understand and accept; however, in your case we sincerely believe that you deserve it. Our band has been greatly impressed by both the quality of your performances and the great attitude displayed by your group before and after the past two State Marching Contests. We are fully aware of how hard it is to be both a good winner and a good loser. I can truthfully say on behalf of myself, Jim, and all our band members, that we thought your show to be the outstanding one of the entire competition. Please convey to your fine students our sincere appreciation for their great attitude, and tell them on behalf of all of us to "Hang In There." Things are bound to get better in the future.

Sincerely,
Donald V. Gamble, Director
James L. Holler, Director
Carol Fischer, Band President

STUDENT TALENT

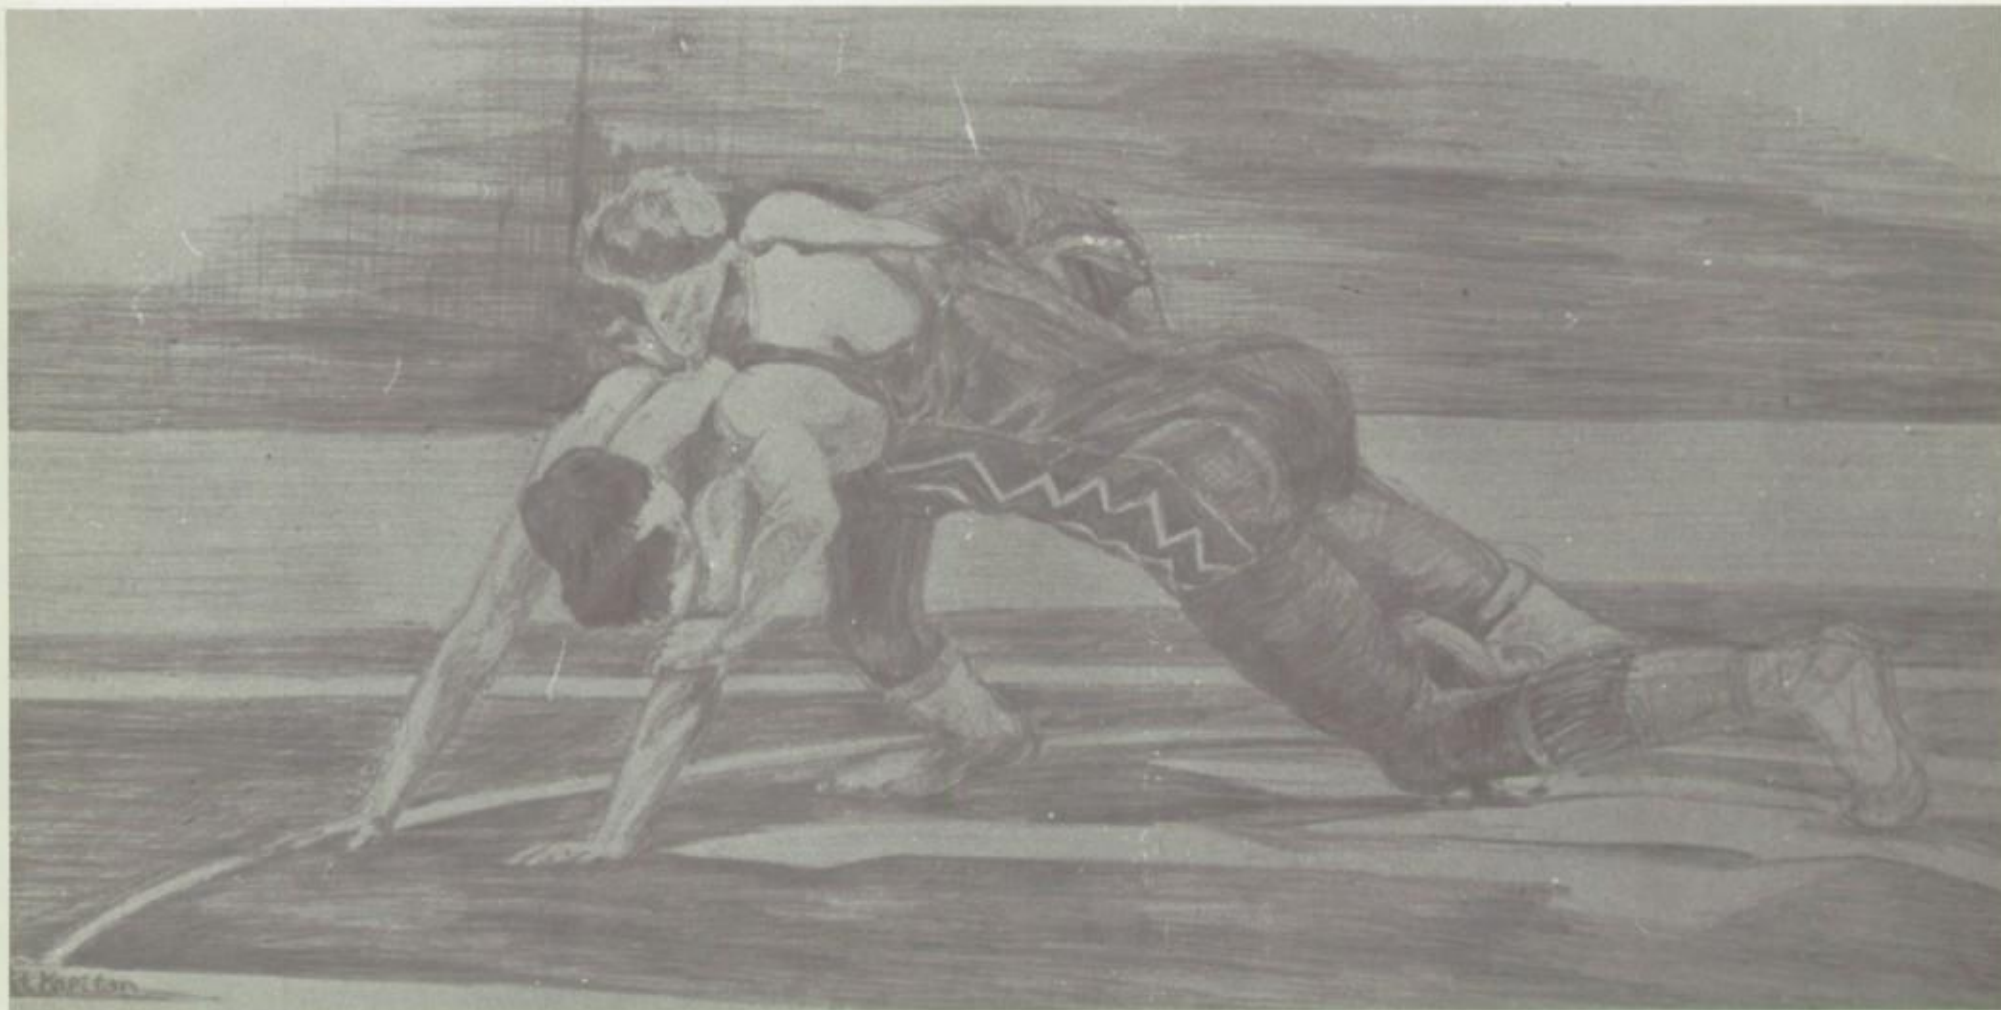

Under the direction of Mr. Mike Lewis, the Concert Choir gives a moving performance at their Christmas Festival.

Danna Pozezanac greets her parents as they come down the bleachers to join the other couples at the "Parents Night" basketball game honoring them.

PROJECTS "PRIDE"

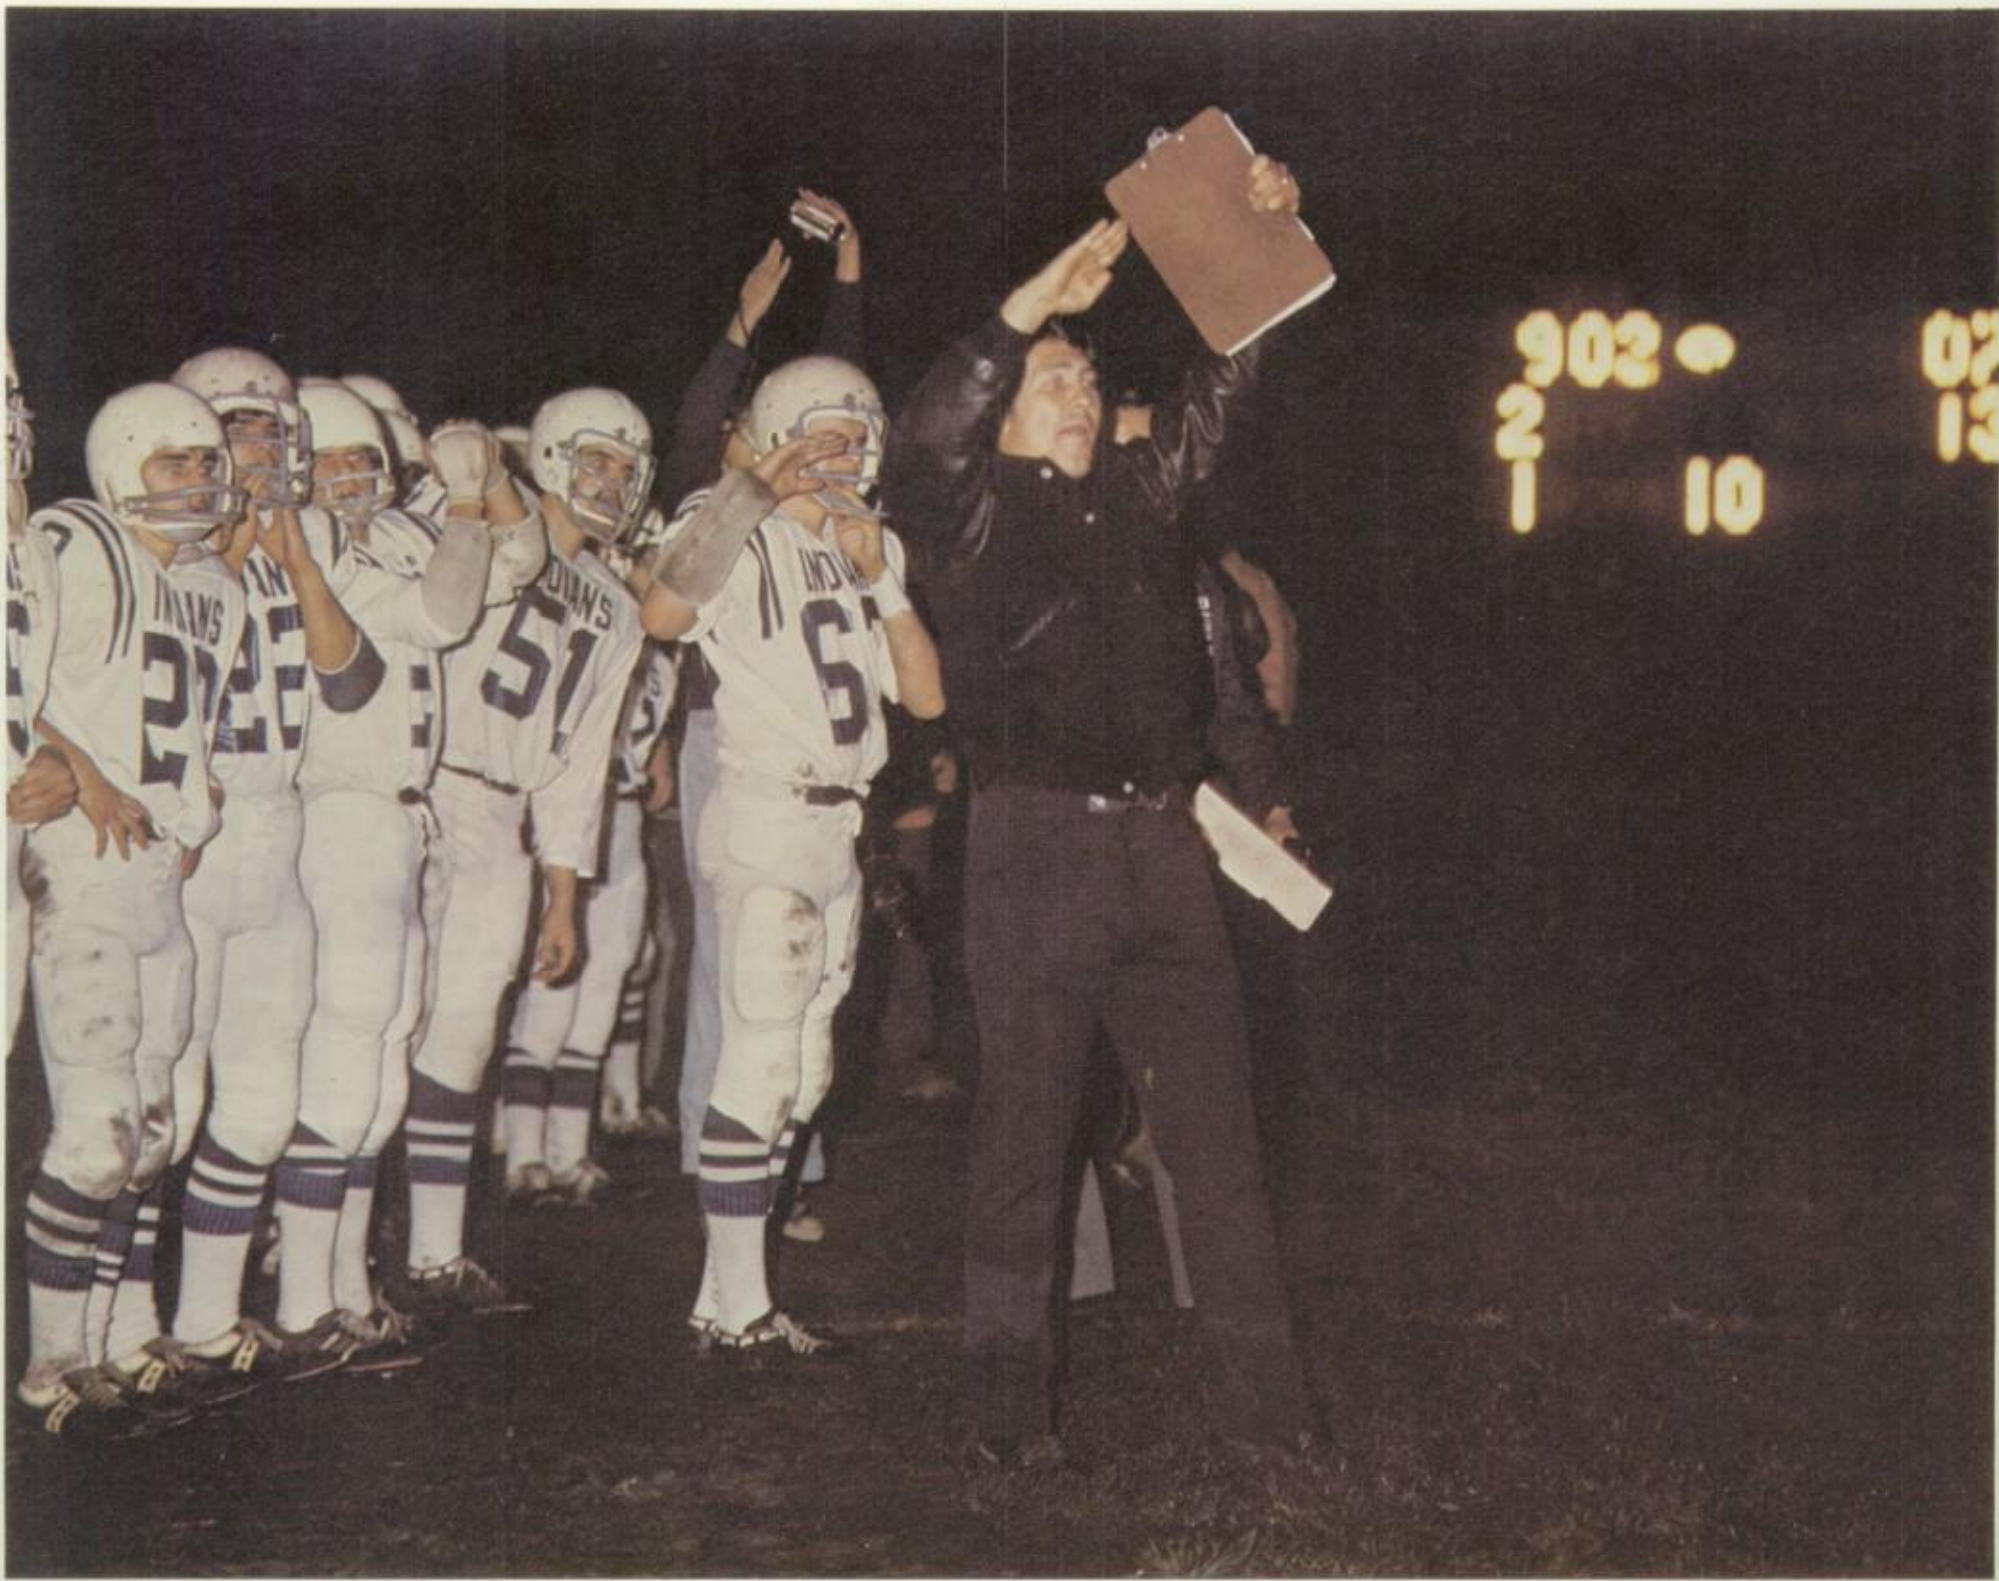

Portraying wrestling as she sees it, Pat Kapitan sketched this drawing from a photograph.

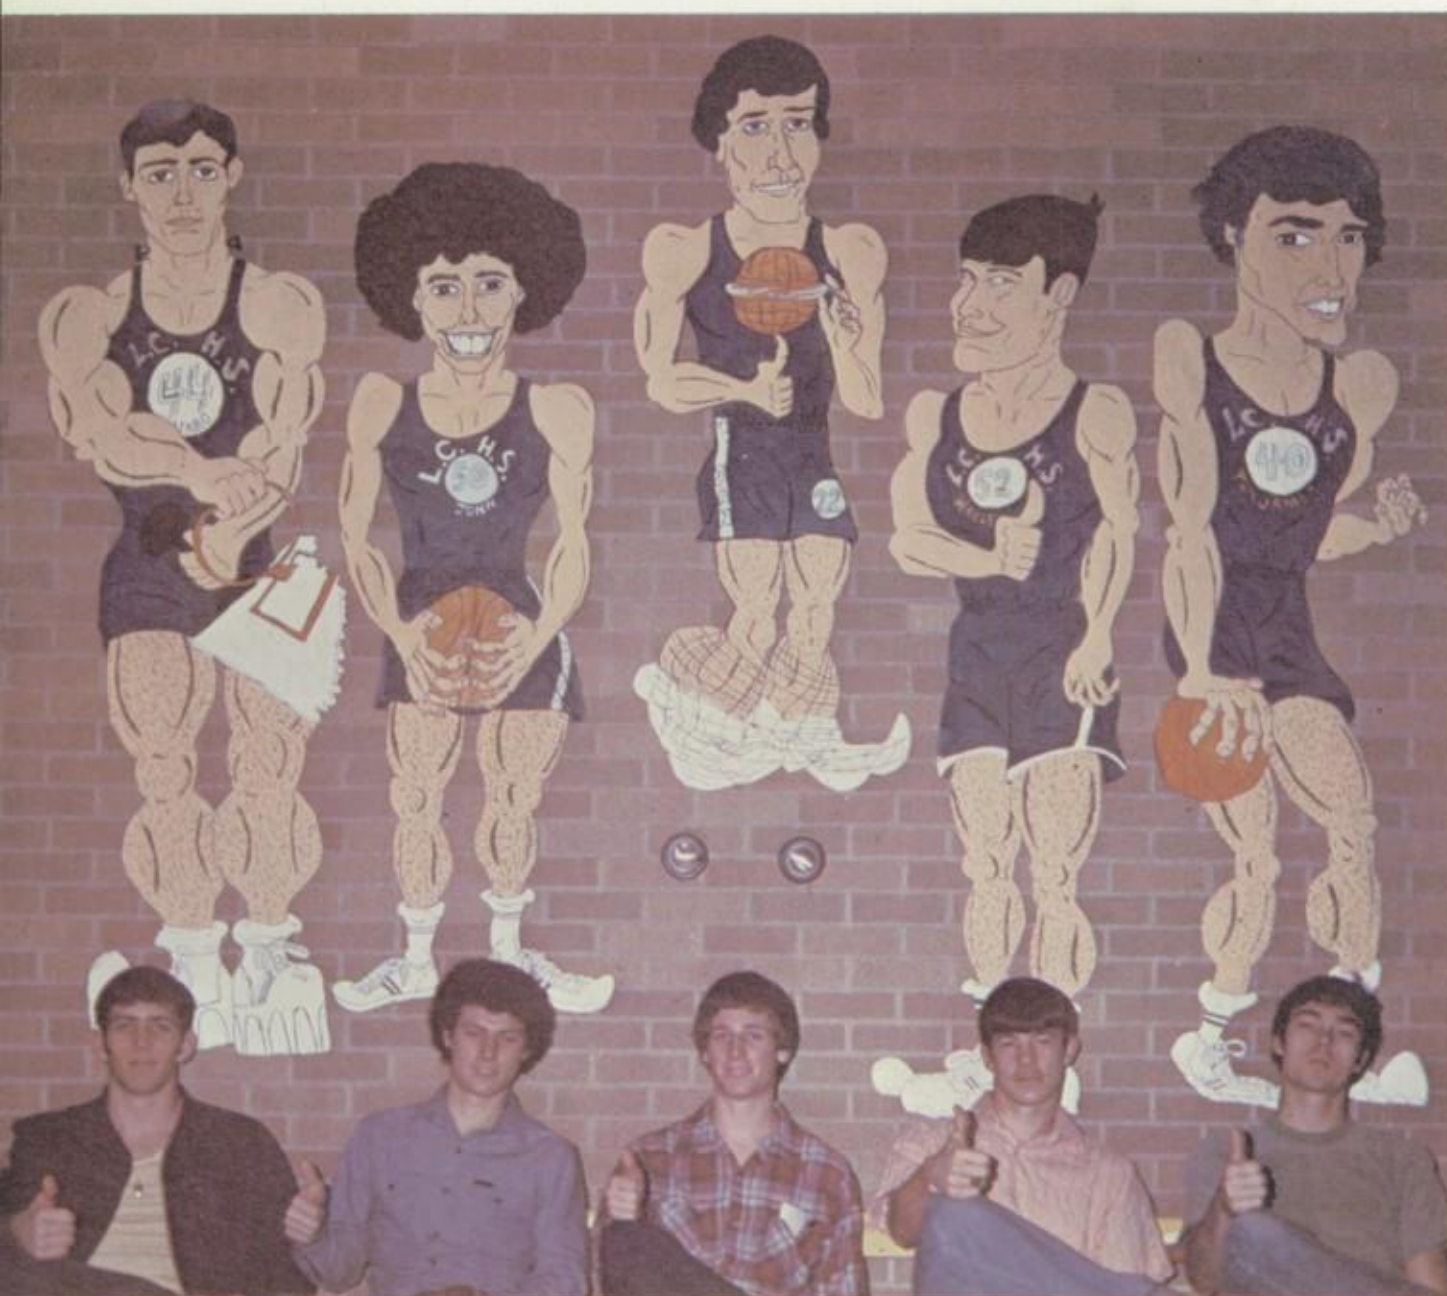

These sophomores are diligently working on their float to meet the date of the homecoming parade.

The talents of students are seen all around us. Just look in the halls and in the newspapers, in the band room, chorus room, art room—in just about any room at school. Even outside of school. Everyone has a little talent; whether they develop it or not, is up to them. Some develop it a little more than others and let it show. Others develop it in their own way and don't really care if people notice or not. How about you?

After what LC considers to be a bad call, football coach, Bob Komara and his players motion for time out.

INVOLVEMENT: A DIFFERENT MEANING FOR EVERY PERSON

"And now for the starting line-up for Lake Central," Tom Varga, John Hoffmaster, Jan Smoljan, Dan Richwalski, and Tom James. The artwork above each of the players was done by Donn Kasper during the week of basketball homecoming.

Victor Velasco (Marc Sato) gets acquainted with Mrs. Banks (Becky Cox) in the play, "Barefoot in the Park."

What do you consider involvement?
 Being in every club in school?
 Being active in a few clubs, and giving your all?
 Participating in sports, or some other activity involving physical assertion?
 Maybe you feel involved studying and keeping your grades up.
 Whatever it may be; I think you'll find involvement has a different meaning for every person.

A YEAR WORTH REMEMBERING!

When no benches are available, why not sit on the floor? These girls, along with Mr. Bob Rarick, seem to believe in just that.

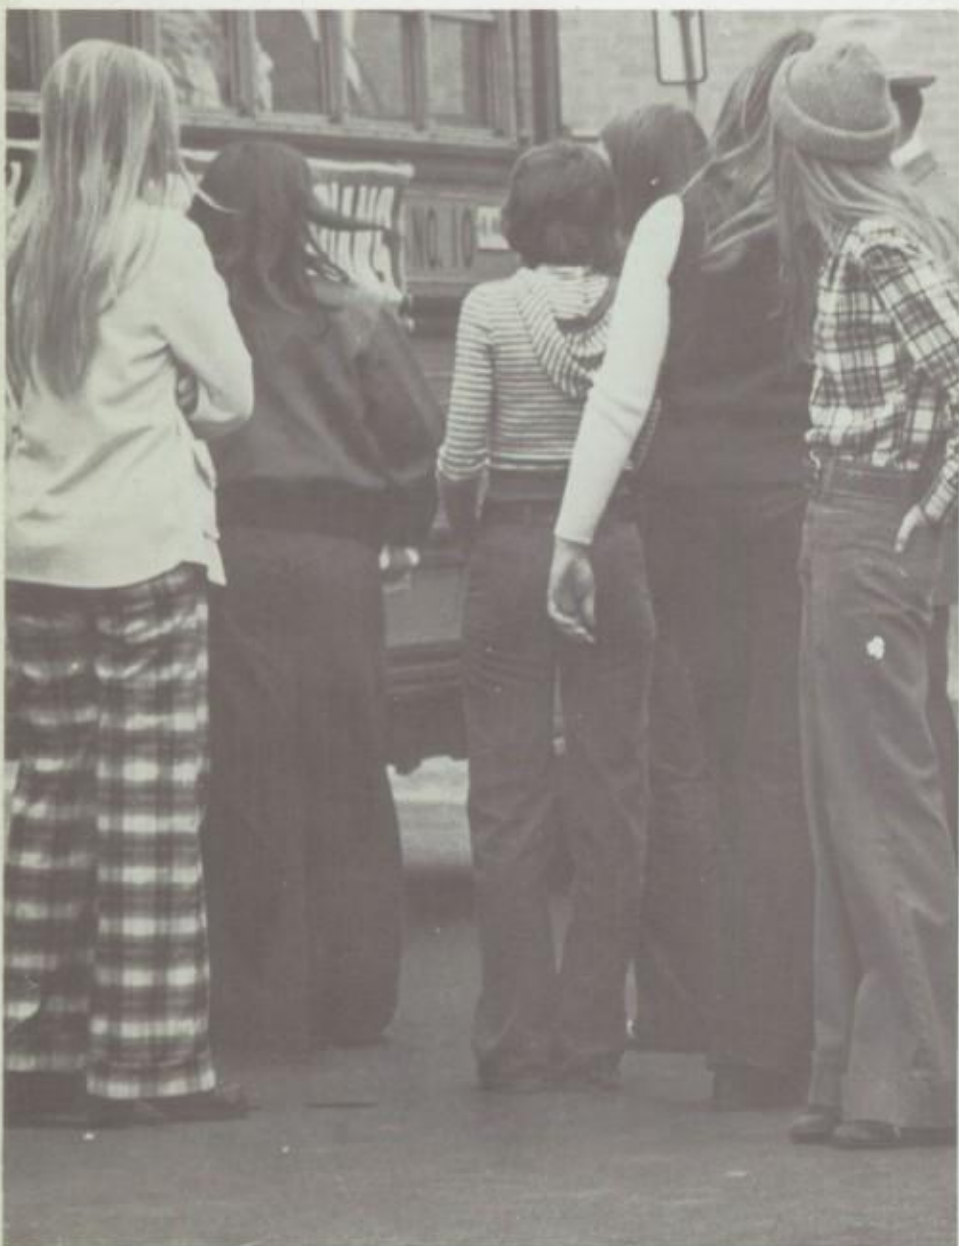

Waiting to see if the ball makes it through the rim are these freshmen girls. They enjoy playing basketball during their lunch hour.

Mr. Ugly himself, Tom Adams, is doing what he does best at the Mr. Ugly Contest. Tom took the title after receiving the most applause.

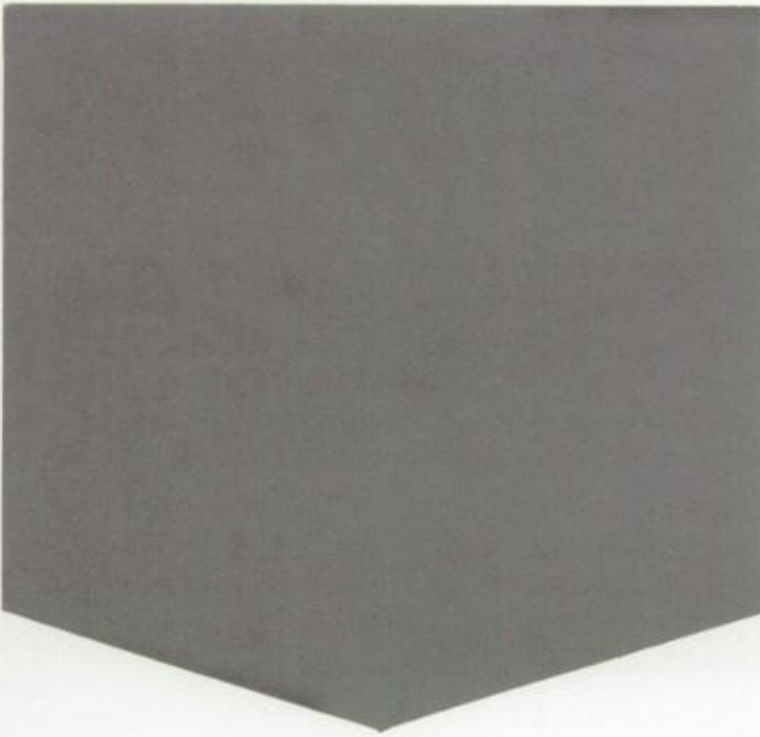

Study halls have two good purposes as demonstrated here. One is studying, the other is sleeping.

Students packed into the fan bus to support the LC band in their efforts at State. Chaperones for the bus were Mrs. Blasky and Miss Keilman.

It was worth it, wasn't it?
 This year as a whole.
 Trying to focus your life—on something worthwhile.
 Something concrete.
 Something you knew was always there, when you weren't sure.
 It was worth growing a year in experience—
 A year in intelligence.
 It was a year for focusing your life on images.

Sr. king and queen reign at homecoming

All smiles are 1974-75 Football Homecoming royalty Tom James and Lorene Townsend, who were crowned at the dance.

Floats, bonfire, parade, dance, hall decorations and the football game against South Bend, were all activities that made LC Homecoming 1974-75 a special time for students. Many hours of hard work by anxious students were spent getting floats and halls finished in time for judging. The Class of '75 captured the sweepstakes in the float and hall contests, while the juniors took first in the yell contest.

The underclass court consisted of junior representatives, Barb Harrison and John Pavlik, Crystal Quiggle and Phil Karcjewski, sophomore class, and Penny Bickham and Bronco Alavanja, freshman. Elected by the students were King and Queen, Tom James and Lorene Townsend.

Special permission was granted to have the bonfire once again. Five cross country members ran from Lake Central to the Kahler field with torches to light the bonfire. The parade and bonfire took place the night before the game. "Mass Hysteria" performed at the casual dance, ending the homecoming activities on Saturday night.

Homecoming is the long awaited week set aside by seniors for freshman initiation. Groucho glasses were presented during an assembly.

A happy and exciting mood filled the air as the bonfire blazed the night before homecoming. Students, friends, and parents made up the group that gathered around to watch.

"LC is Our Hunny" was just one of the many decorations displayed in the cafeteria hall by the sophomore class. Themes varied from Walt Disney World to Saturday morning Cartoons. The football field was also artistically decorated by SGA and students.

The Class of '75 painted a bright colored rainbow on the windows to add spirit and also won using Wizard of Oz theme.

"Our Goal is a LC Reignbow" was the motto of the winning float which Tom Kennedy is enthusiastically working on decorating.

Tansi Tate enjoys the music at the annual Homecoming dance which was in the school cafeteria on Saturday evening.

Band competition earns first and fifth

Excitement and pride spread through the student body when the Lake Central "Marching Indians" went to NISBOVA and State competition. Once again they came home winning the sweepstakes trophy for the eleventh time.

The theme this year was, "Why Does a Composer Write Music". The band began with the song "Mame" and performed many others including "Out of My Head", "Old Man River", "Facinatin' Rhythm", "The Stripper", and "Hallelujah Chorus". Because the state judges take points off for dance style routines, it was difficult for the band to change to a more drill style routine.

Given two perfect scores at NISBOVA, the band also captured the Inspection Award with a 98.5 score.

Band Director Doug Jordan watches intently, along with other LC students as the marching band takes the field.

The band created their formation of a block with a note in the middle, as the music "Old Man River" was played.

Personal pride is showing on the faces of the majorettes as they march forward to perform for the audience and the judges.

The Lake Central "Marching Indians" received the Inspection Award for the fourth time. The band stands motionless during inspection.

Michael Lewis is directing the Lake Central mixed choir students in the choir loft of St. Michaels Church in Schererville.

Chorus sells records for European trip

Lake Central Choir raised money for their trip to Europe by taping their own records and selling them. The Christmas carols were recorded in the choir loft of St. Michaels Catholic Church in Schererville. The church was chosen because the acoustics were very good.

August 1st through the 15th of 1975, the chorus members traveled around Europe performing for various audiences. Forty students were selected by the director, Mr. Lewis, along with 10 chaperones.

Besides making the record, the choir raised money for the trip by having candy sales, bake sales, car washes, and a '50's dance. Money received from the concerts in the Spring, Fall and Christmas season were used to help send the students on their concert tour.

Sophomore Kay Sato and junior Jody Lancaster sing a selection from the Christmas carols that were taped to make a record.

Sophomores Kathy Figler and Deb Frisinger along with the rest of mixed choir are singing their way to Europe.

'Fiddler on the Roof', summer success

Rabbi (Randy Smith) tries to settle a disagreement between Lazar Wolf (Bob Horgash) and Tevye (Mike Lewis).

Balancing a bottle on their heads, Tevye, the father and a villager (Craig Conaway) perform an old Jewish dance at the wedding.

Tevye asks, "Do you love me?" after 25 years of marriage brought forth through the matchmaker of the town.

Lake Central Theatre Guild presented the summer production of "Fiddler on the Roof". The story surrounds the tale of a man named Tevye, the father of five daughters. Jewish tradition has it that the father and the matchmaker must arrange the marriages.

The three oldest daughters want to forget tradition and marry for love. Tevye fights for what he believes to be right, but gives in. He disowns his third daughter Chava, who marries out of the religion and brings shame to the family.

Throughout the play, the Jews are being forced to leave their land by the Russians who are taking over. The story ends when the characters are driven from their homes.

The entire summer cast consisted of performers from the past and people of all ages from preteenagers to adults.

Motel (understudy Paul Peres) and Tzeitel (Cookie Credille) are married under a canopy by the Rabbi (Randy Smith).

Newlyweds are faced with difficulties

Paul (Donn Kasper) tries to explain to Corie (Pam Denslaw) that life is not all enjoyment, but hard work too.

Victor Velasco (Marc Sato) leaves the apartment through the door instead of climbing out of the window like he usually does.

Junior Emmanuel Netos and sophomore Linda Bohney put in many hours constructing the sets, as well as working backstage during the show.

The play "Barefoot in the Park" centers around a young newlywed couple faced with the problems of moving into an apartment. Corie and Paul have conflicting natures which leads to many arguments between them. Corie is the carefree, impulsive type, while Paul is a hard working, reasonable person.

The play begins when Paul, the struggling lawyer, comes home to find an unfurnished apartment with a broken window during the middle of winter. They get into a fight when Mrs. Banks, Corie's mother, drops in to visit. Corie and Paul arrange for her to meet eccentric Victor Velasco, each having totally different personalities. Victor leads Mrs. Banks into some wild adventures. The ensuing, complicated sub plots lead to an evening filled with laughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe directed another fine play with the help of students Carole Koremenos and Becky Cox.

Paul (Donn Kasper) is leaving Corie after a fight which shocks her mother-in-law (Becky Cox) and the telephone man (Jim Payonk).

Quill & Scroll Carnival

One of the highlights of the Q&S Carnival is the Eskimo Olympic Ladder which is always a challenge.

Dan Andre officiates the pie eating contest won here by Andy James.

features 'Mother Goose Land'

Lake Central's chapter of international Quill & Scroll presented the ninth Annual Q & S Carnival in the Lake Central Fieldhouse, April 12. The carnival started at 4:30 p.m. and closed at 8 p.m., while the traditional dance opened at 8:30 p.m. and ended at 11 p.m.

Journalism students commenced preparing for the carnival in January as murals were painted for the wall depicting the characters of the theme, "Mother Goose Land". As murals were completed some students designed and made costumes representative of the various Mother Goose characters. Those people who made costumes visited the area grade schools and passed out bubble gum to the students.

All clubs and organizations in the high school were invited to participate by building booths and creating events of physical skills. The Eskimo Olympic Rope Ladder was a favorite among carnival goers. The Moon Walk, Baseball Throw, Basketball Toss, Ring Toss, and Marriage Booth also proved to be popular.

Following the close of the carnival, high school students were invited to stay and dance to the music of "Star", a local rock group. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of King Dan Barczak and Queen Stacey Veselak.

Proceeds of the carnival were used to send journalism students to summer workshops. Mark Burnett, Chuck Williams, Karen Figler, and Audrey Olten attended Western Kentucky University. Terry Gubbins, Nancy Duncan, and Gail Hess went to Ball State while Stacy Veselak attended IU.

Intro to Journalism students Dan Barczak and Stacy Veselak were crowned King and Queen.

Senior Karen Houernig was crowned queen of the N-Teens Winter Formal along with her escort, sophomore Jim Kidd.

This year the Sophomore Class took first place in the Letterman's Turkey Trot. The class sponsors and students present the Turkey Leg.

Centralities enjoy winter activities

Activities highlighting the winter months were the Winter Formal and Turkey Trot. Winter Formal 1975 was at the Holiday Inn in Crete, Ill., Feb 22. The theme "Love Is" set a romantic mood as couples danced to "Waves". Events of The Turkey Trot varied from the 100 yard run to sack races. For the first time guys dressed up as girls on stage to win the title Mr. Ugly. The guys competed to win the most hearts from the girls on Valetines Day to be Mr. Irresistable.

Winter Formal court consisted of freshman, Lori Kirk, senior, Queen Karen Hoernig, junior, Stacy Veselak, and sophomore, Amy Reitmann.

Winning the Valentines Day Mr. Irresistible Contest, Jim Kidd received a bottle of Hai-Karate Cologne. Runner-ups are Dean Tomsie and Jeff Peyton.

Tom Adams is congratulated by Dave Prange and Tom Brew as he was named Mr. Ugly for 1975. The winner was chosen by the loudest applause.

Dave McKeny portrayed the Head Swan in the Swan Lake Ballet as the ugly ducklings scurry about him.

Spirit sparked by B.B. season activities

Freshmen Cindy Grzych and Gregg Gullickson were elected Basketball Homecoming King and Queen at halftime.

"V is for Victory" was the float that took first place in competition at Basketball Homecoming 1975. The senior float featuring Sesame Street's Big Bird was the favorite. All classes and some of the clubs participated in making the miniature floats for halftime activities.

New to homecoming this year was the "Who's the cutest baby" contest in which all of the varsity basketball players participated. Baby pictures were posted in the foyer and students voted on their lunch hour. This year's winner was Mike Skura, who won the cutest baby ribbon and rattle.

Reigning over the 1975 Homecoming festivities were freshmen king and queen candidates Gregg Gullickson and Cindy Grzych. The fighting Indians, both Varsity and JV were victorious over Calumet. The evening ended with the annual Lettermen's Club after the game dance in the upstairs gym.

Another special activity that took place during the half time of a basketball game was the appearance of Victor, the bear. Victor wrestled with some of our school's top wrestlers, but has never been defeated. The visit of Victor brought quite a crowd of spectators to the Highland game.

Crystal Quiggle marches to center floor for the "National Anthem" while proudly displaying Old Glory.

Floats built on wagons and pulled by tricycles have become a tradition of basketball homecoming. The Indians defeated Calumet 49-35.

Parents of basketball players and cheerleaders were honored at the Annual Parents Night sponsored by the Pep Club.

Victor enjoys a pepsi as the crowd looks on. Victor has appeared on several national TV programs and is undefeated in over 5000 matches.

Coach Chuck Pollen is not dancing but trying to pin Victor the wrestling bear in a half time special at the Indian-Highland game.

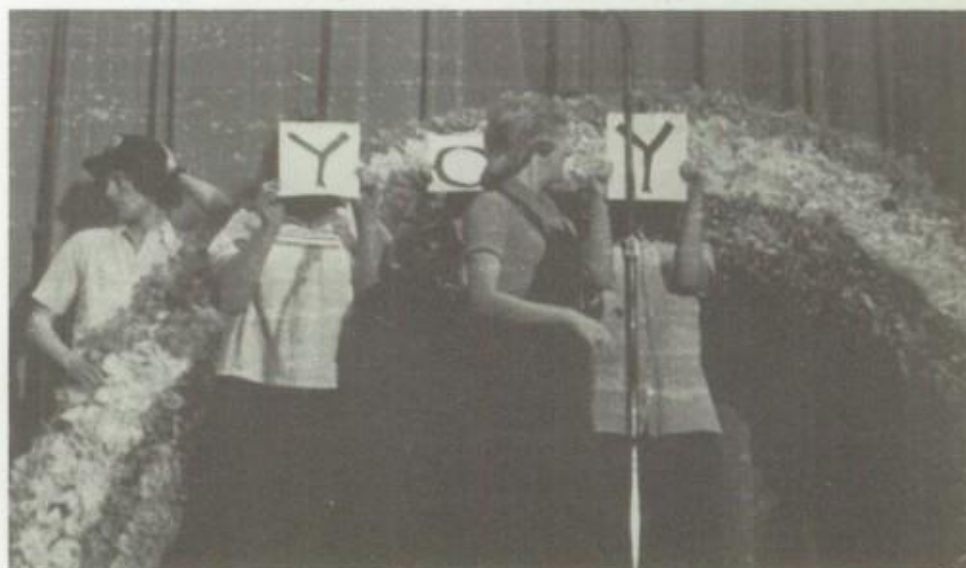

Class of '75 sets new tradition an LC

Showing cartoons on lunch hour to keep the price of the Senior Banquet at a minimum, Laurie Miller and Becky Holleran collect tickets.

A little talent and a lot of fun is what it takes to come up with a good review. Approximately 25 members of the senior class participated in this years Senior Review. The show lasted two nights and was in the school auditorium. The main purpose was to get as many seniors together as possible and have some fun.

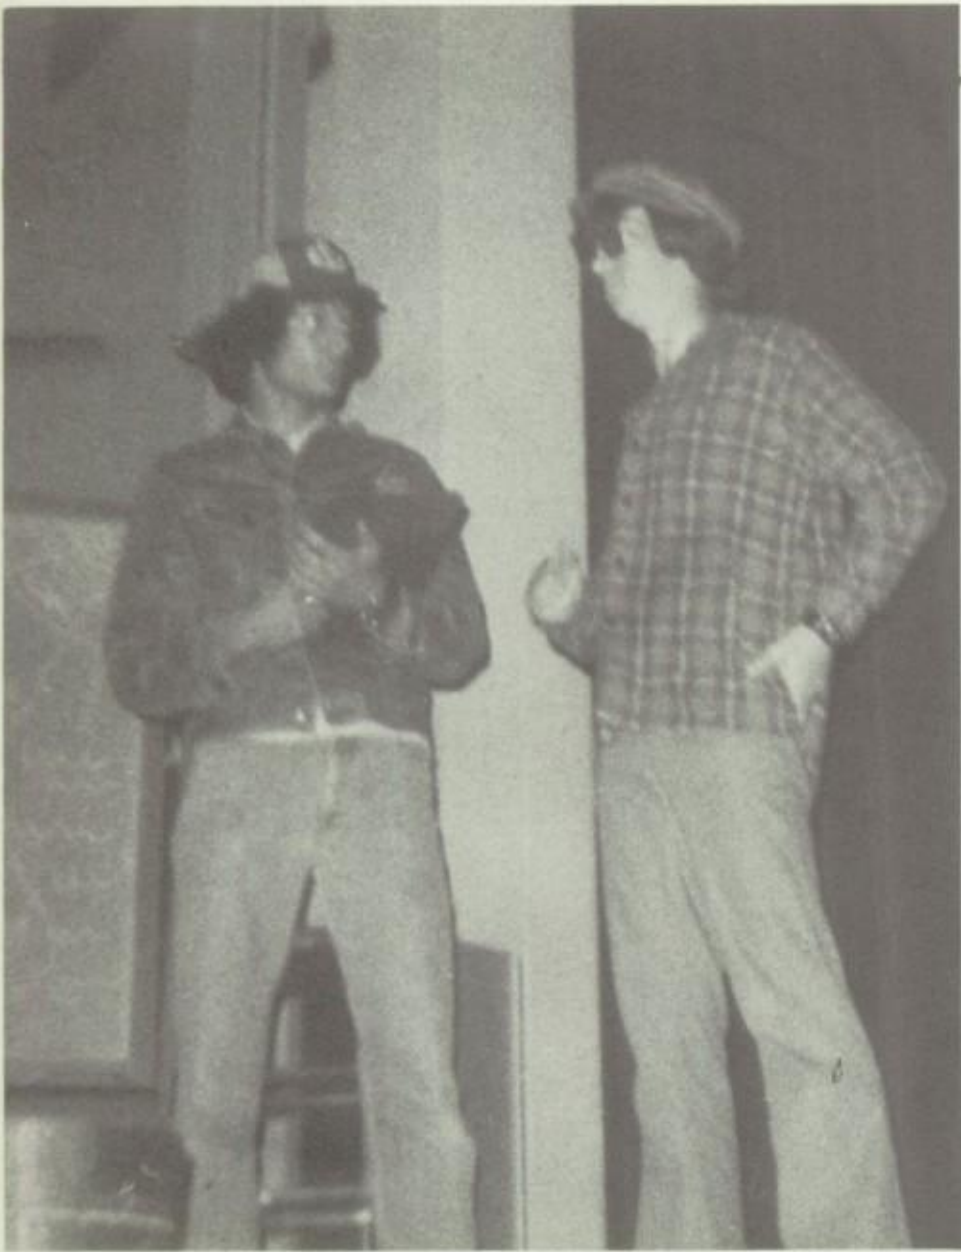

Something else the seniors also worked very hard on was the Senior Banquet. For the first time, the class was invited to the Scherewood Club to attend this new tradition. "Star" played while students enjoyed a dinner and dancing. The uniqueness of the night was that the event was semi-formal, but students were encouraged not to bring a date, as it was for the class and not couples. The night was quite a success.

Chris Bathurst laughs when a little Sesame Street is thrown into the Review as a few wrong letters are held up.

Cathy Potts, Teresa Valesquez, and Larry Nigh do a sneak performance of the Senior Review for the Freshman initiation assembly.

"Can I help you sir?" Bob Forsythe asks Lenny Lynch in one of the many skits performed on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

LC's very own Elvis Presley performing on stage, Ed Cobb does a fantastic impersonation of Elvis as he sings and dances.

"Water! water! water!" cries Don Gibson when he crawls through the desert to get a glass of water only to comb his hair with it.

Joe (Donn Kasper) posing as Shell Oil Junior, offers Sugar (Jody Lancaster) the Shell, symbolizing his fake wealth.

Trixie (Cindi Pasternak) seeks the assistance of Josephine (Donn Kasper) and Daphne (Tony Gruttadauro). It seems her teddy strap just broke.

Sweet Sue (Karen Clark) introduces the Society Syncopators, an all-girl band, to the audience in the Chicago Theatre.

Illustrating the beauty that drives a man mad, Daphne (Tony Gruttadauro) and Josephine (Donn Kasper) make their first appearance as girls.

Spring musical "Sugar" is smashing success for LCTG

Before Spats Palazzo's Speak Easy was raided, this typical scene of the bar shows everyone enjoying themselves.

In the song "Sun On My Face", Sugar (Jody Lancaster) and the Society Syncopators sing about leaving the cold of Chicago for the warmth of Miami.

The Lake Central Theatre Guild presented the spring play "Sugar", directed by Angie and Paul Lowe. The musical was originally adapted from the movie "Some Like It Hot" by Billy Wilder. The plot centers around two characters, Joe and Jerry, who join an all-girl band to hide their identity from Spats Palazzo's gang. Because of witnessing the St. Valentines Day Massacre, they become two females, Josephine and Daphne. The gang chases them around the country. Meantime, Joe falls in love with Sugar and Sir Osgood Fielding III proposes to Daphne. In the end the gang is done away with and after some explaining, the lovers are united.

Sir Osgood Fielding III laments even naughty old men need love.

Sugar (Jody Lancaster) and the bathing beauties dance to the song of "Sugar Shell".

Jr-Sr Prom was for 'Just You and Me'

The 1975 Junior-Senior Prom was at the Ramada Inn in Dolton, Illinois. A very appropriate prom theme, "Just You and Me" was chosen by the Junior Class. Couples danced to "November's Guest" during prom. The group "Star" entertained the students and chaperones during the post-prom.

For the first time, two senior guys attended prom together as a joke. Both came dressed in formal attire and spent the evening visiting and chatting with the couples in attendance. One guy dressed up as Paul Revere while another wore a stove pipe hat.

Silver and gold charms with "Just You and Me" engraved on them were available as a remembrance of the evening. Along with the prom pictures taken of the couples, a single shot of the girl was taken with an option to buy. Prom was over at 2 a.m. The next morning couples left early to spend a day at Turkey Run, Indiana Dunes, Schaffer Lake, or various other places.

Reigning at the 1975 Junior-Senior Prom are King Tom Mackey, Queen Laurie Miller, Princess Sande Storm and Prince Mark Pietrzak.

Terri Hucker and her escort Pete Reise enjoy the atmosphere of prom as they exchanged glances during dinner.

Tony Garza removes the traditional garter from Julie Martin's leg, which will be worn on his sleeve the remainder of the evening.

Mike Todd and date Laurie Hummel take time out between dance numbers to sneak in a kiss before the next dance.

Joe Liszczak talks to Marty O'Dor of the good old colonial days when everyone dressed up for the grand ball like he is now.

Dancing to the music of "November's Guest" Kim Prange and Dave Laich seem to be enjoying themselves before dinner is served.

Assemblies limited throughout the year

Many types of assemblies were presented to the student body this year by the Student Government Association. Some were in the gym so that the whole school could attend while others were in the auditorium, only for those interested in attending. Assemblies were limited because of the bad behavior of a few students during the assemblies. Students were then assigned seats.

A favorite assembly in the auditorium was two English singers that sang American pop songs. Others included the U.S. Air Force Band and Mayor Richard Lugar.

Students had the option of going to an assembly if they were interested or report to study hall for the hour.

The Political Issues Club selected Mayor Richard Lugar of Indianapolis to speak to and answer questions of students.

Senior honor day highlights end of year

Recipients of the Danforth Award, Marisa Girman and Brian Jander accept their awards from Mr. Bob Daniels, assistant principal.

Co-Editor of Quiver, Denise Duncan was awarded as one of the Most Valuable Journalism Staffers by Mr. Ron Fritchley.

Four years of hard work surely deserves some kind of recognition. This year many seniors were honored and awarded during the Seniors Honors Day. The Principal's Most Valuable Student Award went to Lorene Townsend. Terri Waite and Rick Andrews were chosen Most Likely To Succeed. Best All-Around Boy and Girl were Dan Richwalski and Teresa Valesquez.

Throughout the different departments in school, various merits and honors were awarded. Surrounding community organizations also presented many scholarships for those deserving. Many students also received scholarships from the school of their choice. Other national awards for scholarships and ability were presented.

Chosen as one of the Most Likely To Succeed, Terri Waite received her award from Mrs. Jean Wease at the Honors Assembly.

Lorene Townsend was selected by Mr. Glen Eberly to receive the Principal's Most Valuable Student Award for 1975.

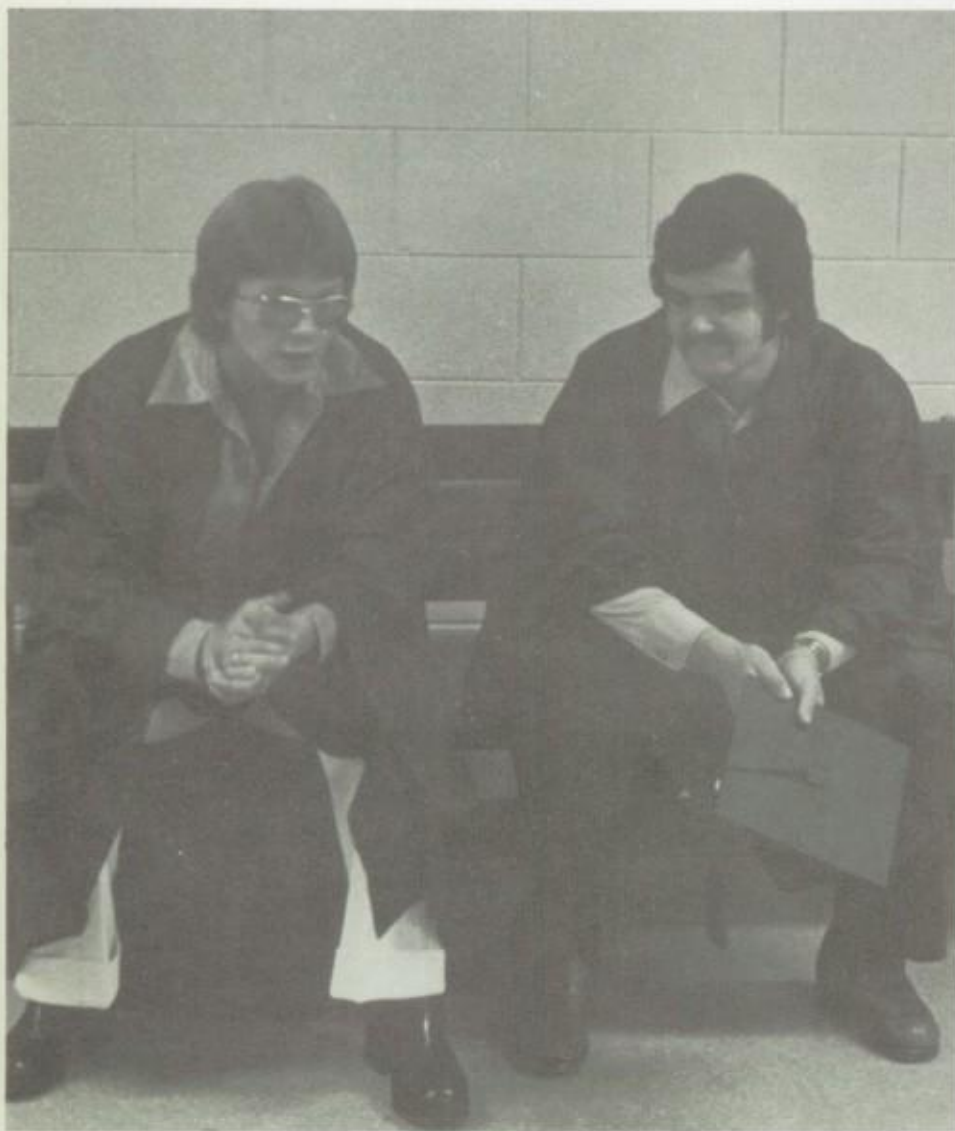

Mrs. Jean Wease, Mr. Bob Daniels and Mrs. Angie Lowe (class sponsor) lead the graduating seniors in the procession to the fieldhouse.

For the last time, Seniors returned to school for graduation practice and to say their last good-byes to old friends.

Frank Quint, Salutatorian, presents the welcome speech to the senior class of 1975 and an audience that filled the fieldhouse.

Seniors Donn Kasper and Kerry Laughlin talk over the graduation ceremonies and what they each plan to do now they are out of school.

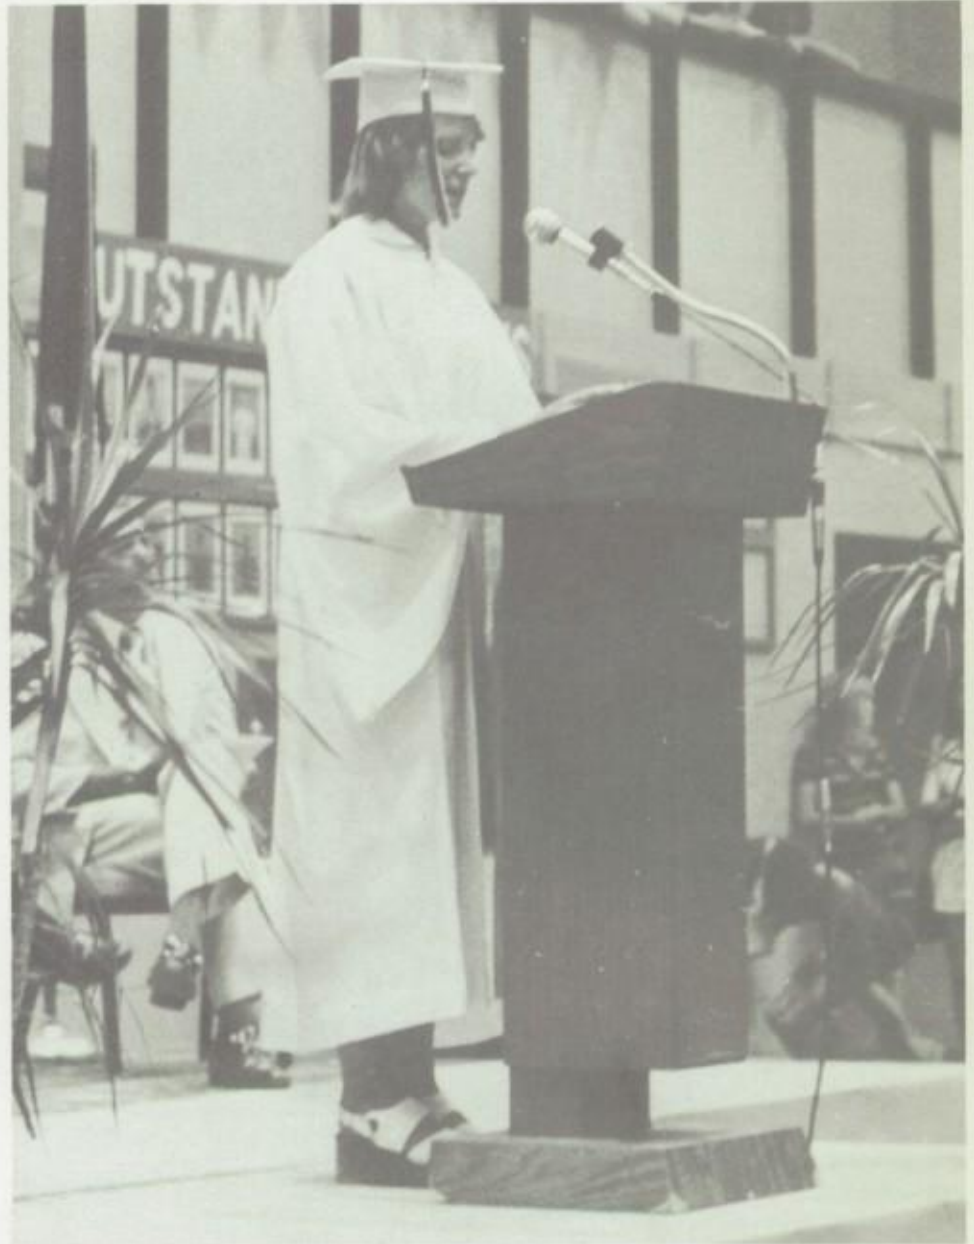

Seniors look to future after graduation

Four hundred thirty seniors filed into the fieldhouse Tuesday, June 3, 1975 before a very crowded audience. The band played "Pomp and Circumstance" while the procession moved to be seated before the podium.

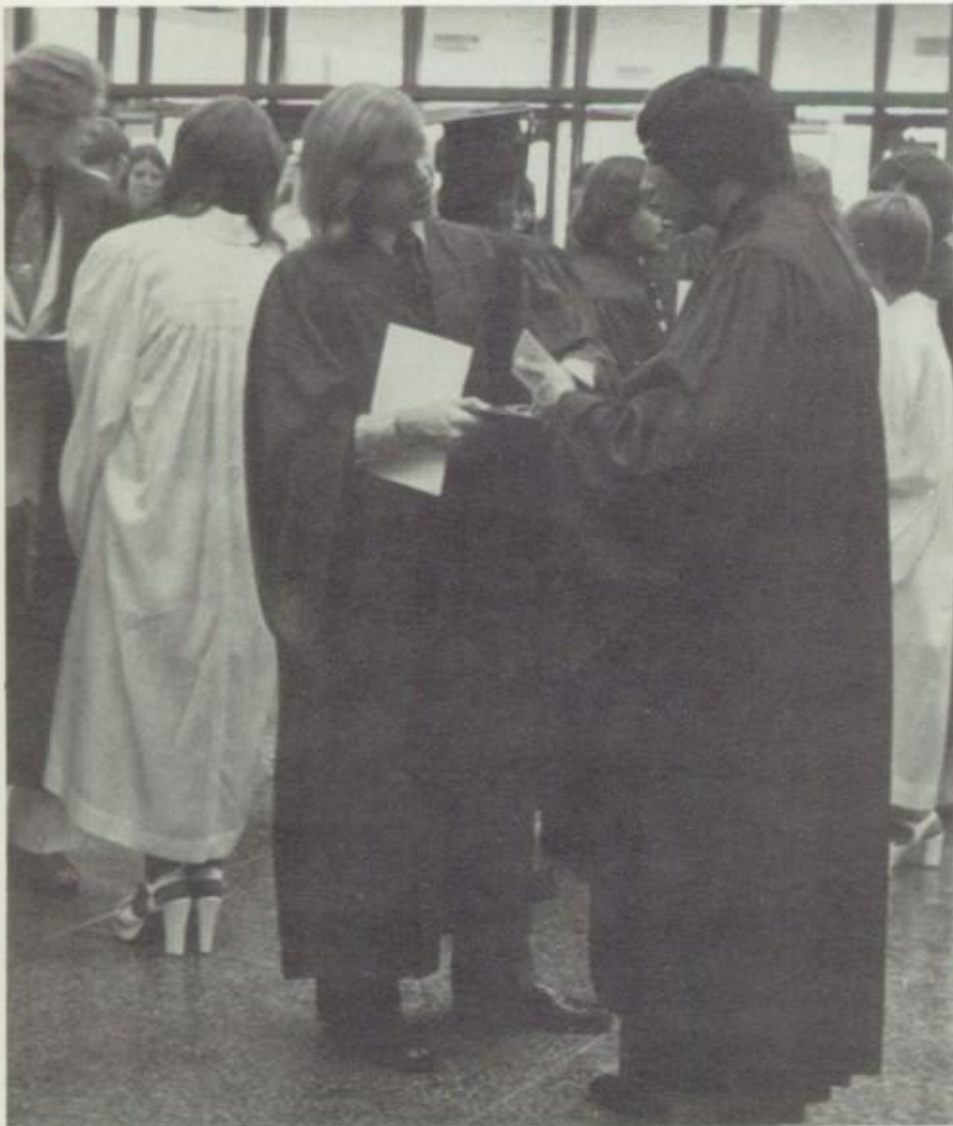

After everyone was seated, Karen Buchler, class treasurer, gave the invocation. The welcome to the future graduates and their guests was given by salutatorian, Frank Quint. Vice-President of the class, Lill Sizemore, introduced the speaker Father Edward Foley to the audience. Father Foley gave a very good speech while he talked of the man who wrote the theme song of the graduates, "Gotta Find My Corner of the Sky." President of the Senior class, Cathy Potts, presented the class gift to Mr. Bibich, Superintendent of Schools. After a few announcements from the principal, Glen Eberly, the class of 1975 received their diplomas. Rick Andrews, class Valedictorian gave a speech and the Benediction was given by Nancy Burrell. The graduates marched out in tears and sobs.

Another year has ended and another class graduated. Seventeen Seniors that received the Senior Scholastic Award are Steve Brochman, John Guyer, Brian Harwood, Brian Jander, Carole Koremenos, Sue Metro, Melody Muchler, Larry Nigh, Annette Nordyke, Frank Quint, Scott Richardson, Marline Roberts, Marc Sato, Laura Siebert, Terri Waite, Jeanne Wilbert and Rick Wood. These are the seniors who, throughout their four years of high school, have maintained a 3.75 average or above. Sixty-two Hoosier Scholars were also selected.

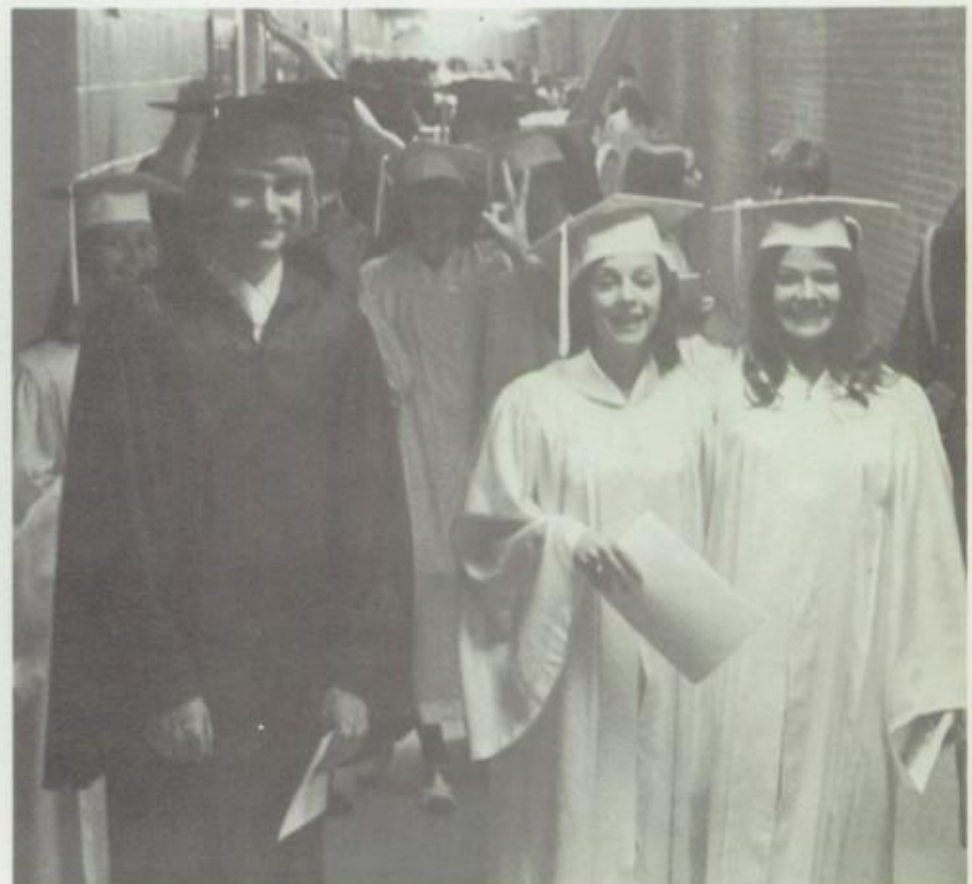

Lill Sizemore, Vice-President of the Senior Class, introduces Father Edward Foley to give his address to the future graduates.

The anxious seniors just couldn't keep still while awaiting the big moment when they will receive their diplomas.

Steve Brochman and Cary Gielniak anxiously await the ceremony to begin while straightening their tassels to put on their caps.

The Girl's Athletic Association commonly known as GAA, is a club for girls interested in sports. This year Lake Central's GAA volleyball team placed in the state competition. The GAA basketball team had a season record of 8-4. Two girls from the track team competed in the state track finals. They were freshman Kathy Buchler in high jump and Lori Kirk in long jump.

The Gun Club is sponsored by Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Rutherford. Each week the club goes to one of the club member's houses to practice shooting. MPC is a club that was organized to help those students who plan to pursue a career in the medical field. Sponsored by Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Probasco, the club planned trips to Purdue Lafayette Campus for Health Career Day, hospitals, and veterinary clinics. The club is opened to all students and they often obtain and show movies in the fields of nursing, pharmacy, and medicine. They also give a $100 scholarship to the student who plans to go into the medical field.

Science Club was organized to promote the goals of science and is affiliated with the Parent Organization of Science Clubs of America. Mr. Rutherford encourages each member to participate in the Annual Science Fair. Each year the Science Club and MPC get together to organize a cafe, which is put up in the school foyer during the annual carnival. They sell hot dogs, hot sandwiches and cold drinks.

The GAA Junior Varsity team ended with a good season. Here freshman Donna Grubbe (50) watches as her teammate scores two more points.

Gun Club sponsors Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Rutherford discuss safety tactics with the club and often meet for range practice. The purpose of the club is not to promote hunting but to aid the students in safety, care and correct use of firearms.

MPC sponsor, Mrs. Probasco, demonstrates to the club the correct way to take pulse and blood pressure. MPC is a club for those students who wish to go into the field of health care professions.

The Science club was divided into two divisions, Senior and Junior. Mr. Rutherford in charge of the Seniors and Mr. Stamos in charge of the Juniors division.

This was the year of the Indian, as the Lake Central Marching Band left the NISBOVA Contest with all of the Class A awards from the 1974 NISBOVA Contest. All of the effort put forth at the after school and weekend rehearsals paid off as the band won the 1974 Sweepstakes trophy, a First Division Award and The Best Inspected Band Award. The Marching Indians have now won the NISBOVA trophy 11 out of 13 years.

Band Receives

5th at State

Adding Brilliance and excitement to each performance of the marching band, the Centralettes showed exceptional talent each time they marched on to the field. This year's majorette corps, totaling thirty-four girls, proved that perfection can be achieved through long hours of work.

Head Majorette, Shirley Butoryak, and assistants Pat Conte and Crystal Quiggle worked many hours on intricate routines to correlate with the music performed by the band.

Aside from performing during the marching season, the majorettes corps performed during the halftime of home basketball games.

Drum Majors Denise Heshner, Polly Sarros and Tony Gruttadauro, display the trophies won by the band during the 1974 marching season.

The LC Band stands at attention during inspection at the NISBOVA contest. The band won first place in inspection.

Senior band members Mark Wells and Marline Roberts present band director Mr. Jordan a pocket calculator at the 1975 Band Banquet.

A new club to Lake Central this year is the LC Hockey Club. Sponsored by Mr. Milby and Mr. Engerski the LC Hockey Club ended their season with a record of 9-9-1. Hockey Club is not a school sponsored sport. Members of the team have to help pay for the use of the ice for practices and games. Lake Central played various schools who also participated in the high school hockey program. Among Indiana high schools the Hockey Club also played Illinois high schools. The LC Hockey Club was ranked in the top five of the state. In the Northern Indiana High School playoff, LC won one game and lost one game. Five players from LC were chosen for the Hockey All-Star Team. They were John Guyer, playing in 4 games, John Vidimos, in 3 games, Alan Manitowabia, 2 games, Dave Washington, 1 game and Jack Stoyakovich, 5 games. Dave Washington led the team with 24 points and Jack Stoyakovich led the team with 13 assists.

As a new club this year, the LC Hockey Club ended their season with 9 wins and 9 loses. LC's Hockey Club plays at Omni 41.

Boys' and Girls' Sportsman Clubs work exclusively at gaining a better knowledge of outdoor life. The girls' club learned to rough it by taking a fall camp-out in Warsaw, Ind. and a Winter freeze-out campout at Willow Slough. Pitching tents, building fires from scratch, and obtaining no luxuries were all part of the planned activities.

In August the girls took a two week trip to Canada. They learned how to battle the rapids in canoes and trained for the trip by taking a spring campout.

Like the Girls', the Boys' club also took a canoe trip to Canada in June. The boys' also had a Winter freezeout campout at Willow Slough. An Oklahoma crow hunting trip was also taken in the spring. Boys' and Girls' Sportsmen Clubs main goal is their trip to Canada. They camp in tents and canoes through the wilderness. They are allowed only a limited supply of rations. The clubs' try to live off the wilderness as best they can. Both clubs' hold a large scale candy sale in the spring to raise money for their camping equipment and pay their camping expenses.

Girls & Boys

Canada Trip

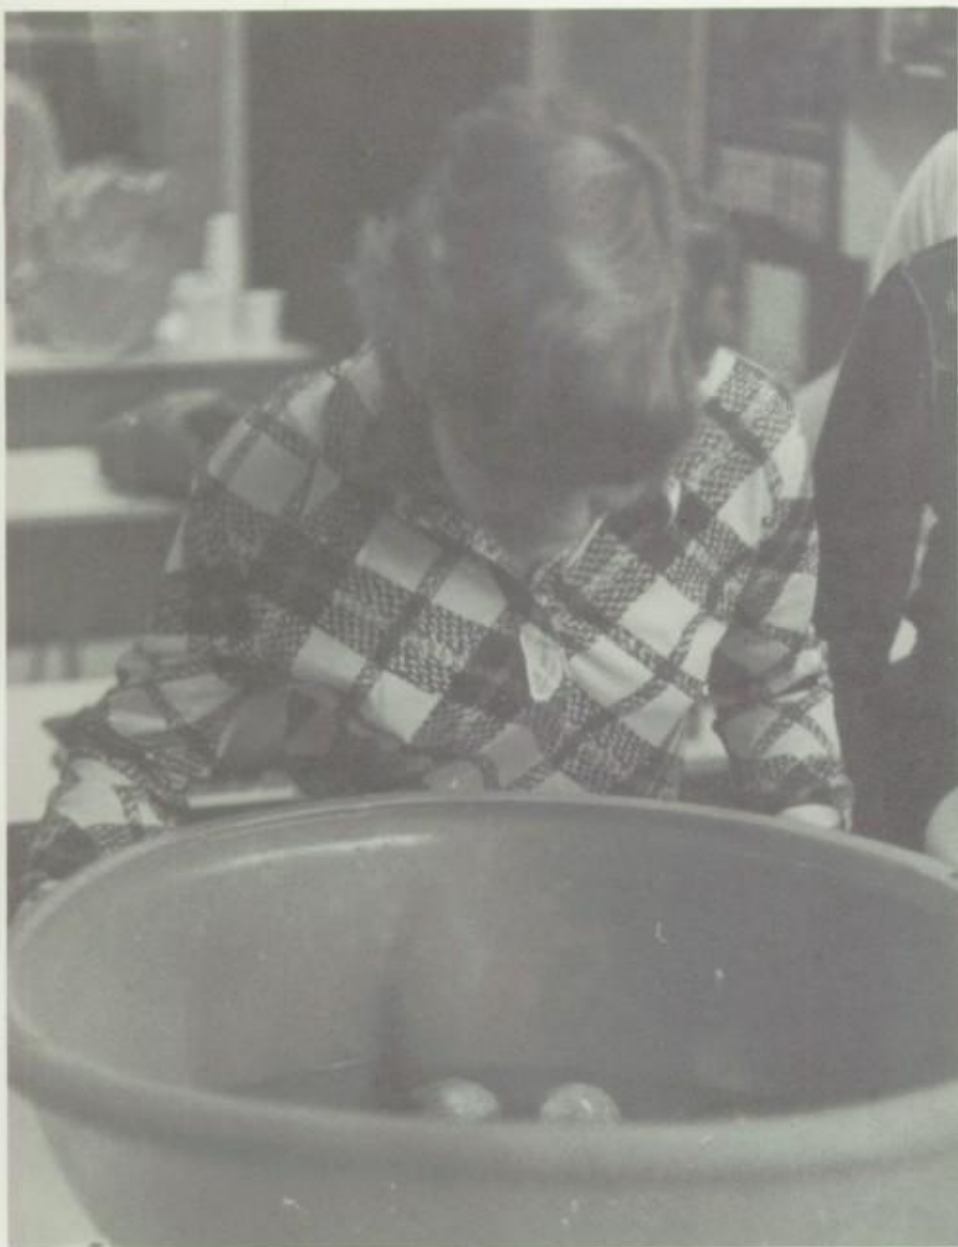

The Girls Sportsman Club prepares their canoe and backpacking as they get ready for their Canadian trip in Aug. The Girls Sportsman Club also took a fall campout in Warsaw, Ind. and a Winter freeze-out campout at Willow Slough. By taking these trips the girls now know how to rough it.

Members of the French Club are happy to see that the French Club has had another successful year. The club earned extra money with a candy sale and a stationery sale. Mrs. Angie Lowe is French Club sponsor.

Deb Frisinger, Sheli Chermak, Annette Nordyke, George O'Connor, Cheryl Thomas, Cheryl Laich and Theresa Austin talk over their plans to Mexico with Mr. Smith and Mrs. Maloney. The club members spent Easter week in Mexico.

Pat Kapitan was just one of the French Club members bobbing for apples at the French Club Halloween Party.

Spanish, French and German are the three foreign languages offered at Lake Central. Each language has a club and they are offered to students who have had one or more years of that language.

The year of 1975 was an exciting year for the Spanish Club. During the Christmas season, members had a party at Vicki Smith's house. The Spanish Club also visited Chico's Mexican Restaurant in Frankfort, Illinois. From March 21 to March 28, 23 Spanish students and five adults visited Mexico. On their afternoon arrival in Acapulco, they stayed three nights at the Hotel Casablanca. The groups activities in Acapulco were the city tour, sunning and swimming at the beach, shopping, the bullfight and watching the cliff divers.

Next the group stayed one night in Taxco (the silver city). The next three nights were spent in Mexico City at Hotel Montecasina. The group took the city tour, a pyramid tour and the night tour. They also went to the Folklorie Ballet and the Museum of Anthropology. All kinds of foods can be found in Mexico. The group ate everything from tacos to pizza, but generally, mostly American style meals were eaten.

The French Club, with the help of Mrs. Lowe, sponsor, had a successful year. All the members were kept busy with a candy sale and a stationery sale. The French Club also participated in the Quill & Scroll Carnival with the Marriage Booth.

The German Club, under the direction of Mr. Hensley sang Suzy Snowflake in German at the Christmas assembly. At the Quill & Scroll Carnival German Club members worked in the Wilhelm Tell booth. In 1976, Mr. Hensley and the German Club plan to take another trip to Germany.

During the Christmas assembly the German Club sang Suzy Snowflake in German while Suzy (Jim Oyster) ran through the audience and onto the stage waving his wand to get everyone in the spirit of the holiday season.

Quill and Scroll is an honorary club for qualified senior journalism students. At the end of the junior year students that will be returning as senior members of the publication staffs must meet certain requirements to qualify for membership. The requirements include earning a certain number of points by working during the carnival. This year 21 seniors qualified for membership in Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll's major money making project for the year is the carnival. Under the direction of sponsor Ron Fritchley and chairman Nancy Burrell, members decorated the foyer and fieldhouse to represent this year's theme "Mother Goose". Instead of the traditional clowns that passed out bubble gum to the grade schoolers and sold balloons during the carnival, junior journalism students dressed themselves as Mother Goose characters.

Mother Goose a Big Success

The characters included Mother Goose, Jack and Jill, Peter Pan, Little Bo Peep and Humpty Dumpty. This year's winner of the pie eating contest was Junior Andy James.

The Annual Junior-Senior Powder Puff Football Game held during Homecoming Week and the candy cane sale during the Christmas season were other money making projects by Quill and Scroll.

What happens when 14 people and seven photographers have the responsibility of producing a 264 page yearbook? Ask anyone on the 1975 Quiver staff and they will tell you that many long hard hours of work are involved.

This year's Quiver staff consisted of a total of 21 people. Because of some people moving away, some members received an extra heavy work load. The work load started in early September of '74 and lasted well into the summer months of '75.

Under the advisership of Mr. Ron Fritchley, the '75 staff joined their ideas for creating a distinctive yearbook and decided to make the advertising section and the division pages something never seen before in the Quiver. The unusual cover for the 1975 Quiver was designed by editors Denise Duncan and Cindy Krumm.

Nancy Hesch seems to be enjoying herself at the Quill and Scroll induction as she takes a sample of the mystery pudding.

Under the leadership of Mr. Ron Fritchley, Quill and Scroll members completed a very successful year. They sold candy canes, and the biggest money maker was the carnival.

Many people gather for the Annual Quill and Scroll Carnival which was held in the Lake Central Fieldhouse. After the carnival a dance was held for high school students in the cafeteria.

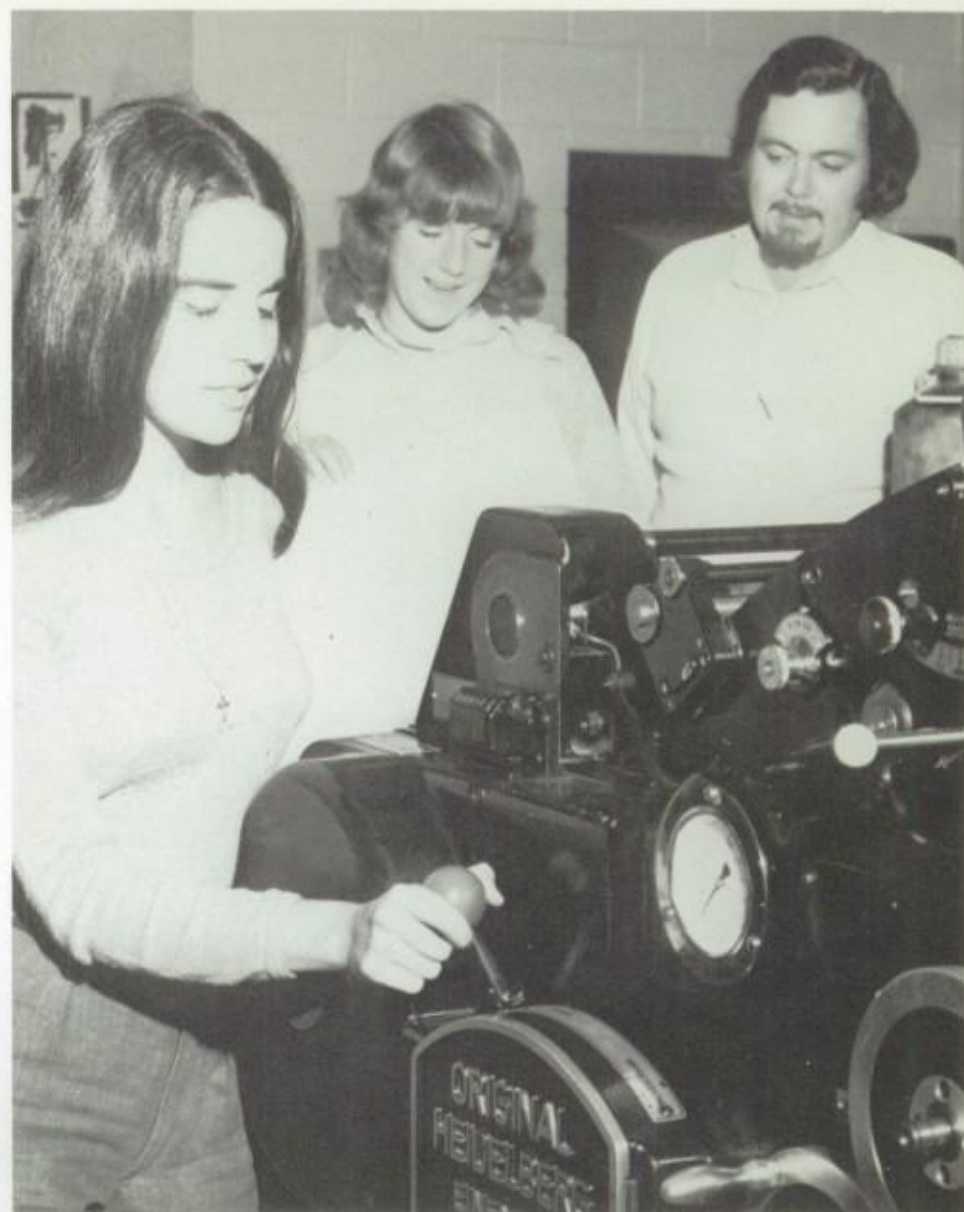

The 1975 Quiver staff ends the year in smiles after many long hard hours of work.

Lake Central Scout is a weekly publication published to keep students and public informed about social events that are occurring at school. The co-editors of the Scout are Carole Koremenos and Nancy Burrell, with assistance of Wanda Jorgensen. The Scout is a publication written and edited entirely by the senior journalism students at LCHS. News Bureau staff with the help of editor-in-chief Kathy Grubbe supply school news to all Calumet Region newspapers. Weekly releases are sent to The Times, The Post, Lake County Star, and six area radio stations. Reporters Jan Kish, Tammy Hughes and Audrey Olton write stories for the Dyer Sun Journal each week. The news bureau keeps the community informed about what is happening at Lake Central.

News Bureau Scout; informers

Scout co-editors Carole Koremenos and Nancy Burrell are ready to run the first issue of Scout, as sponsor Mr. Fritchley looks on.

Feature editor Lorene Townsend along with feature writers Diane Smitley and Laurie Cathey are often found in the library seeking information for their columns.

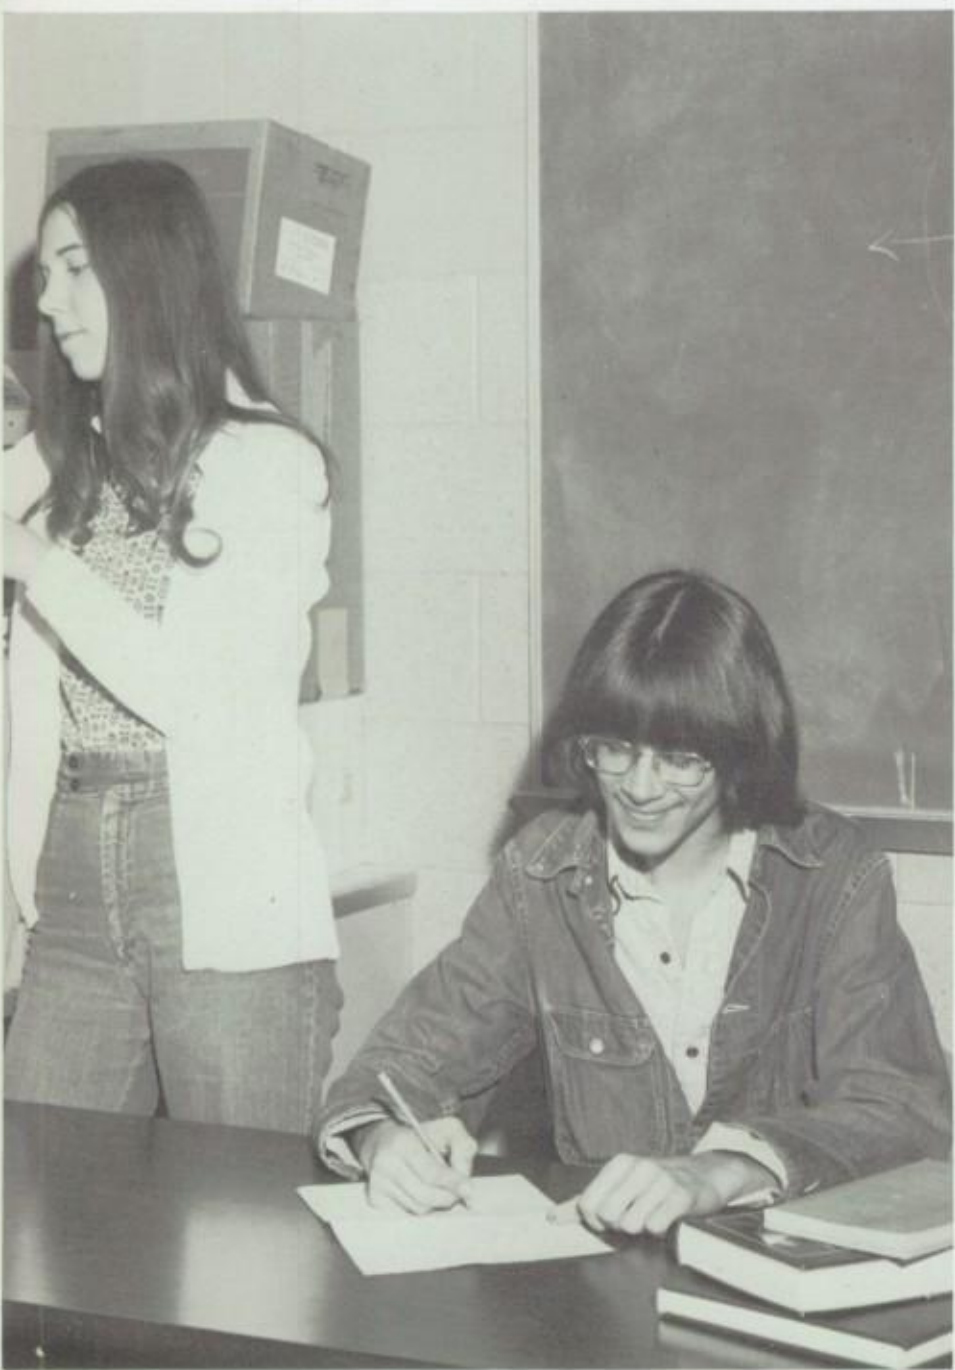

Wanda Jorgensen, Becky Holleran and Karen Buchler get together with principal Glen Eberly to discuss school problems.

Reporters Linda Whiting, Josie Traficante, and Barb Lowry get the facts as John Werner steals the fire extinguisher. Shirley Butoryak gets the picture.

Sports writers are found just about anywhere. Here we find Tom James, Dan Barsic, Tom Brew and Beth Zellers in the weight room looking for a story.

Scout Business Manager Sharon Norris and cartoonist Jim Smitley work hard in order to get their weekly job done.

The News Bureau is an important factor to Scout. Kathy Grubbe editor and reporters Jan Kish, Audrey Olton and Tammy Hughes write weekly stories for The Hammond Times and Dyer Sun Journal.

SCOUT

Under the directions of new sponsor, Mrs. Lakin, the Home Ec. Club completed a very successful year. They took a trip to Chicago and had a lady show them how to decorate a wedding cake.

Home Economics Club is one of the largest clubs at LC consisting of a 22 girl membership. Sponsored by Mrs. Lakin members have learned to appreciate the basic techniques of sewing, working, and household management. Home Ec Club is the opportunity of many girls to further their education and knowledge of such things. Among their money making projects, the most popular is the bake sales. To become a member of the Home Ec Club, you must be taking one course dealing with such things as sewing or foods.

Bake Sales; Money Makers

The bookstore is a vital part of Lake Central High School. Selling notebooks, paper and pencils, the bookstore was very useful to the Lake Central Student. Operated and managed by the members of the Commercial Club, the bookstore sold text books as well as supplies. The bookstore remained opened before school and during lunch hours. Members of the Commercial Club became more aware of the business opportunities and college offers in the business field. The Commercial Club also raises money by having bake sales. Sponsoring the Commercial Club this year was Mr. Baker.

Mr. Baker, Commerical Club Sponsor, demonstrates the use of the pricing machine to Commerical Club members.

The Literary Guild was organized five years ago by the 1973 seniors. Since then members have read and discussed many fascinating books. Here, Sponsor Mr. Quinn and members discussed the book "Serpico" written by Peter Eaas.

Speech and Debate Club is a club for those students that are interested in acting, oral interpretation, radio and speech delivery. It gives students a chance to improve their various skills and gives them a chance to participate against other schools in something other than sports. It also gives those interested in trying out for the school plays a chance to try out and improve their talents. The club has been in action for many years, but for sponsor Mr. Scott Andre this is his first year. At the present time there are 10 people participating but there is room for expansion as the interest builds.

The Speech and Debate Club attends meets against other schools every other Tuesday at various schools. There are different events one can participate in. Each person has a different event he is interested in. Events include; acting, poetry reading, radio and speech delivery. They must practice their parts to improve their ratings at the meets. Students get a chance to display and improve their talents in various areas no matter how great or small.

Literary Guild was started by the 1973 alumni when they were sophomores. The Literary Guild is sponsored by Mr. Quinn in an effort to get a better understanding of literary works published by new or old established authors. The Guild is a non-profit organization mainly for the enjoyment of students who wish to increase their knowledge of literature.

This year John R. Powers author of "The Last Catholic in America" visited LC to discuss his book with the students. They asked him questions pertaining to the book and some about himself.

Over the years it seems that every year there are more students wanting to be library aides or office aides.

Library aides help the librarians a great deal. They check out books, magazines, newspapers, reference books, and pamphlet files for students and teachers. Library aides also put books away when they are returned. When new magazines or books come in they help the librarians number the books, type cards for the books and put them on the shelves.

More Students

Becoming Aides

Office aides are also a great help to the secretaries and principals in the office. They answer the phone and take important messages, do errands for the principals such as getting a hold of students to let them know that the principal wants to see them. Second hour aides go to the post office and pick up the mail so the third hour aides can put it in the teacher's mailboxes. Office aides also learn how to run the ditto machine, stencil machine and the copy machine.

Library aides Linda Sexton, Joanne Dombrowski, Mark Jacobsen, Mike Roe and Tammy Hughes worked very hard this year to help keep the library in order.

One of the many jobs of an office aide is to answer the phone. Here Nada Mistovich and Mary Beth Feeney take an important call for the principals.

Office aides Cindy Andrews, Rose Alkire and Nada Mistovich look up students for the secretaries.

The Model Railroaders sponsored by Mr. Trier, are interested in learning about Prototype Railroads and making models out of them.

Sponsored by Mr. Hensley the War Games club purpose is to refight the battles of WW II on a map gameboard.

The Model Railroaders are interested in learning about Prototype Railroads and translating this information into accurate scale models. The club has been working toward this goal by viewing movies, having fan trips and conducting model making contests. The club placed a display in the library during National Railroad Month, and provided a train under the SGA Christmas Tree during December. All of this is done with the notion that Model Railroading is the world's greatest hobby providing enjoyment with everlasting challenge. A new club started this year at Lake Central is the War Games Club. Sponsor of the club is Mr. Mike Hensley. Club officers are president John Hoffmaster, secretary Mike Gould and treasurer Tim Burrell.

A New Club;

War Games Club.

The purpose of the club is to refight battles of WWII on a map gameboard. Among the battles to be fought are Midway Stalingrad, France 1940, D-Day and the Eastern Front.

Members of the club were divided into allied and axis powers. They studied various battle situations to detect errors and possible changes. They studied the effect of certain changes on the outcome of the war. The club through refighting and changing some of the battles of WW II hope to find a better understanding of history.

Set construction for one play begins directly after closing night of another. Students interested in "Barefoot in the Park" or "Sugar" came to weekend crews to build the set. By working hard enough and well enough students were picked to be on stage, props or make-up crews. Then more work for the crew began, working with the cast and making it the best play ever at Lake Central. Staying after school for rehearsals and going through the problems

Stage crew, band strive for perfection

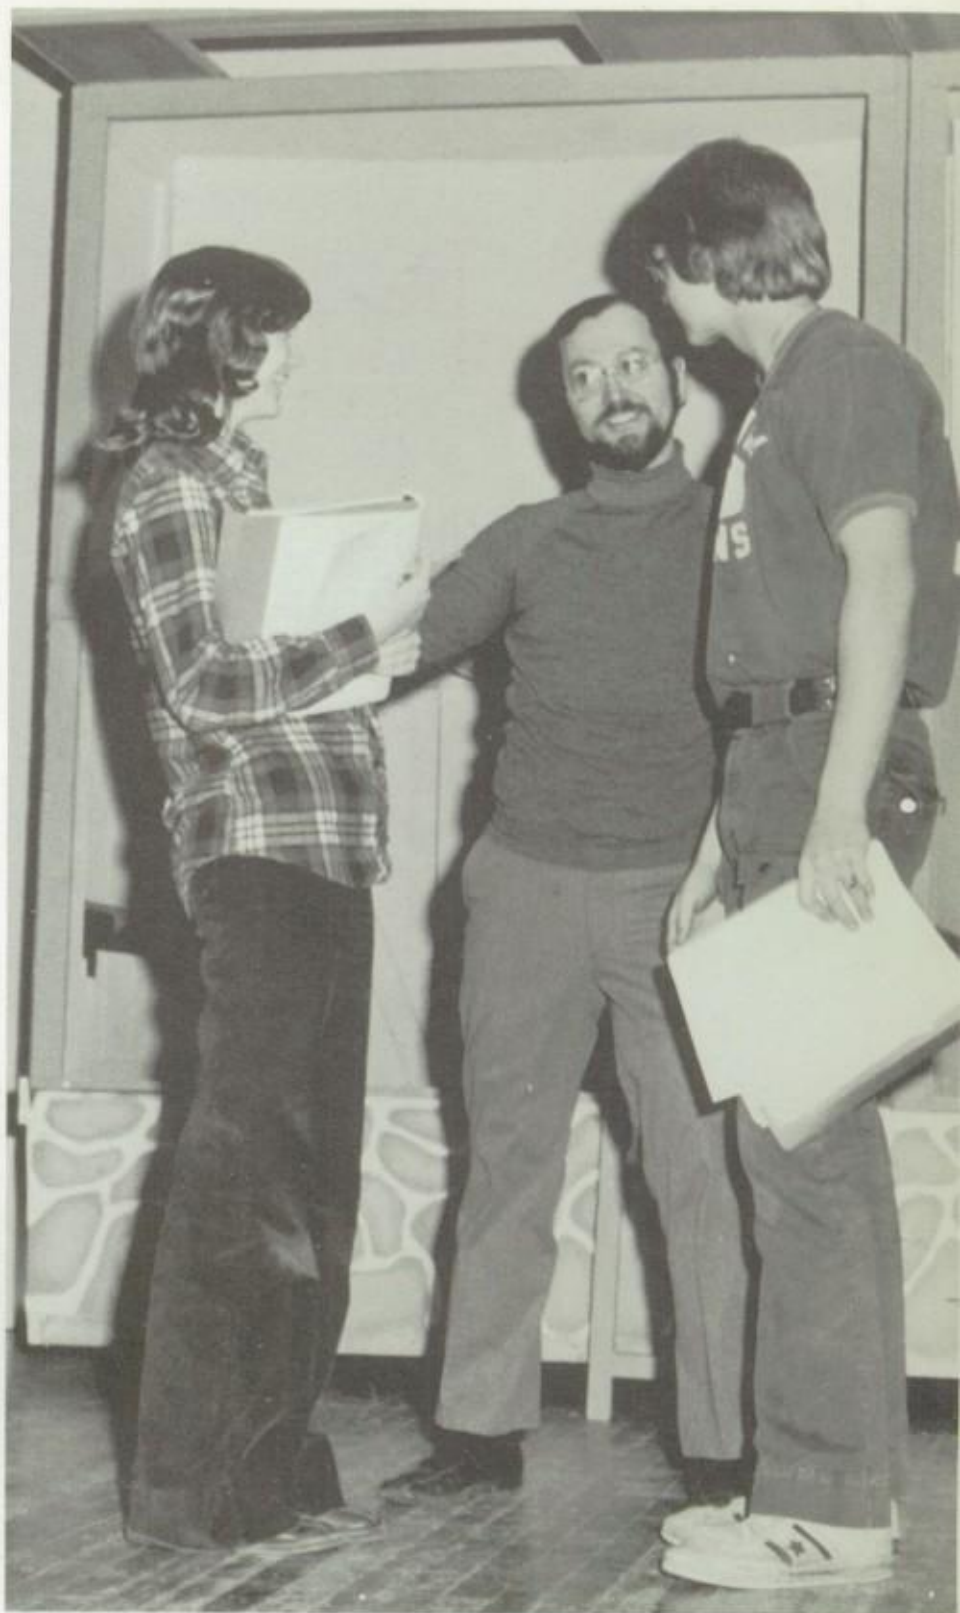

"Sugar" regretfully the crew tore down the set to begin another.

The marching Indians traveled to Virginia in early May to compete in the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival. They competed in two parades and field competition. Out of 330 bands that applied to go, the Indians were one of 98 bands chosen. The bands came from throughout the east, south and midwest. The band marched in two parades and field competition and received a first division rating in the field competition. The majorette corp, being judged separately in the parades, captured third place. Lake Central was the first band from Indiana to compete in the festival.

John Netos, one of the hard working crew members, helps construct tables for "Sugar." Crew spends many hours after school.

Crew members Janice Oxenreiter, Gayle Farcus and Laleli Lopez paint props for the spring musical "Sugar."

During practice for "Sugar" Mr. Lowe takes time out to explain an interpretation to Jody Lancaster and Donn Kasper.

The people of Virginia will probably always remember the Lake Central Marching Band. Here the band shows what they can do, playing "2001: A Space Odyssey."

After receiving a first division rating at the Apple Blossom Festival, Polly Sarros and Pam Beamer were so hungry they tried to eat the trophy.

Over 60 junior and senior girls composed the 1974-75 Senior or Advanced Girls Choir. They participated in the annual fall, Christmas, and spring concerts and sang at the Capuchin Seminary of St. Mary's in Crown Point.

The Girl's Ensemble, with more members than in previous years, was very active as they participated in the fall, Christmas and spring concerts and sang on WJOB radio during the Christmas season. They also performed at the N-Teens Fashion Show.

LC's 14 member Madrigal Group performed for many banquets this year and attended the Annual Choir Banquet.

Composing LC's Choral Department this year were the Madrigals, Girls Ensemble, Mixed, Boy's, Advanced Girl's and Junior Girl's Choir. With all of the hard work put forth by the students the choirs attained many awards and high honors during the 1974-75 year.

The LC Mixed Choir will be going to Europe this summer for 2 weeks. This will be a very exciting experience for the choir. The Mixed Choir placed first at the NISBOVA Regional Contest. During the Christmas season the Mixed Choir sang at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. The Mixed choir also sang at the Spring Choral Festival in Griffith.

Mixed Choir goes to Europe

The Girls Ensemble, Junior Girls Choir, and Advanced Choir all do about the same thing. Mainly they all sing for women's clubs, old folk's homes and various other clubs. The Advanced Girl's Choir received 2 perfect scores at NISBOVA. This was the first time the Advanced Girl's Choir ever received 2 perfect scores at NISBOVA.

The Madrigals also sing for special clubs. The Madrigals received a first place at NISBOVA. The Mixed Choir also performed on WJOB radio.

The Mixed Choir is the largest group in LC's Choral Department. They performed at the fall, Christmas and spring concerts, the Museum of Science and Industry and on WJOB radio. The Mixed Choir also went to Europe in the fall.

The Junior Girl's Choir is composed of mostly freshman and sophomore girls who are working to improve their voices and become members of the advanced girl's choir. This group performed at the fall, Christmas and spring concerts.

The Boy's Choir, in their third year of existence, practiced to improve their voice and articulation. Many of the boys are working to be members of the Mixed Choir or Madrigals. Several boys made the trip to Europe during the summer.

The SGA in 1974 was made larger to accommodate the demands of the increased enrollment. Twelve SGA representatives were elected from each class. Then a class cabinet with the number of members being proportional to the class size was elected. The class officers voted for SGA members. The 48 members, class officers and class cabinet try to meet once a week with a least one of their sponsors, Mr. Kopchik or Mr. Eberly. The SGA is not a profit making organization. Some members exchanged school days with students from other schools. They spent one full school day learning and participating in the activities of the school. Conferences between students and Mr. Eberly and Mr. Jukes continued from last year.

Lettermen's Club host Turkey Trot

LC Letterman earn their letter by being involved in one or more sports. All members work hard to achieve their letter. Most begin earning their letter their freshman year at LC.

There were two money-making projects throughout the school year. The first was the sponsoring of the annual Homecoming dance. The dress was informal and students could come single or as couples. The second project was the Turkey Trot the day before Thanksgiving. Winners of the various events received chickens, turkeys or ducks as their prizes.

Boys who become letterman participate in such sports as football, cross country, basketball, wrestling, track, basketball, golf and tennis. With the interest, involvement and determination displayed by such a large number of boys, LC has greatly improved its sports program over the past few years.

SGA member, Shirley Butoryak along with Senior class officer Nancy Burrell help decorate the football field for the Homecoming game.

The Letterman's Club participated in a bicycle marathon to the Indiana Dunes. Members collected sponsors for the 100 mile trip. They also conducted the Annual Letterman's Steak Fry.

Pep Club officers President Karen Gullickson, Vice-President Barb Tucker and Secretary-Treasurer Nancy Burrell display the "Pride" sign with Pep Club member Chris Bathurst during Football Homecoming.

N-Teens active members and officers are responsible for the completion of all charitable projects and money raising projects.

N-Teens is one of the largest clubs in the school. It is actually all one club, but in order to fit all the members into one room for a meeting, it is usually split into two groups. Sponsored and re-organized by Mrs. Osburn and Miss Stemp, the club raises money by having bake sales, selling charms, and by sponsoring the annual Winter Formal. The theme this year for the formal was "Love Is"... and was held at the Holiday Inn in Crete, Ill. The girls who deserve much credit for backing up the many sports events that occur in our school are those who belong to Pep Club. The girls have formed a pep block at basketball games and football games. During the Sectional play-offs the girls wore blue and white capes, white gloves and Indian feathers and headbands to be distinguished from the rest of the crowd. Another activity the girls enjoyed doing was decorating the players lockers with signs and slogans on the day of the game. The club consisted of close to 100 members and is sponsored by Miss Arbuckle.

Successful year for Pep, OEA

The Office Education Association club is organized for girls enrolled under the secretarial course offered at LC and are interested in the secretarial and accounting field. Mrs. Evamae Bibich is the sponsor of the club. After competing in the regional competition, members of the OEA were eligible to participate in Indianapolis at the State Contest in typing and clerical work.

The Office Education Association is organized for girls enrolled under the secretarial courses offered at LC and are interested in the secretarial and accounting field. Secretarial Lab instructor Mrs. Bibich is sponsor of the group which won state awards.

Much hard work and many long hours were spent in the Lake Central theatre. The Theatre Guild put together two shows. Directing the shows and sponsoring the International Thespian Society, Troupe 2563 are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lowe. Assisting with the music was Mr. Mike Lewis. To become a Thespian you need 15 points. Each point is worth 20-30 hours of work. Special jackets are awarded to a person earning 30 points and a blazer is awarded for 60 points.

Selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character and service, new National Honor Society members are inducted each spring during an evening ceremony in the auditorium. NHS is one of the oldest societies in the nation concerned with the achievement of high school students and will continue to grow as students seek the honor of its membership.

National Honor Society sponsors this year were Mr. Rich Ossanna and Mr. Mick Smith. National Honor Society on a special day chose to go downtown Chicago to see the movie Tommy. They spent the day shopping and sightseeing also.

Thespian Jody Lancaster and Tony Gruttuardo landed lead roles in their acting debut in the spring play "Sugar".

The Thespian Society is an honorary organization consisting of students who devote their time to the production of high school plays. Acting is not the only factors involved. Set construction, make-up, costuming, directing, and business managing are as important as the acting aspect. The Thespian Society is a life time organization.

The Political Issues Club sponsored by Mr. Mick Smith sponsored a visit of Mayor Richard Lugar to Lake Central this year.

Expansion plans made by school board

Lake Central's School Board consisted of five men which was headed by the President, Mr. Anthony Baldin. The school board had meetings on every other Monday to discuss certain school policies, issues, ideas, and problems. The board would listen to different offers that were brought up to them and then decide if it would help the corporation or not. Also they had to decide if such proposals are possible where the budget is concerned.

Many changes were made by the school corporation to adjust to the addition of Grimmer Middle School. The majority of the school board's time was spent on plans which have been proposed to help alleviate overcrowding problems at Lake Central. Some of the proposals include an addition of 84,630 square feet. A swimming pool and ten classrooms account for the major part of this new addition. Remodeling would also enlarge vocational shops, storage, locker, office, auditorium and cafeteria facilities.

A football field, grandstands, tennis courts and other playing fields are proposed north of the building. The school board is hoping for a 1977 completion date for these new additions to Lake Central.

Anthony Baldin

School Board members Mr. George Witt, Mr. Bernie Jostes, and Mr. Anthony Baldin talk with the school superintendent, Mr. George Bibich, over some school policies. Together the school board members and the school superintendent set up the policies for the whole corporation.

School Board members prepare their papers and notes before another school board meeting. This year many different issues and ideas were brought up to the school board to help promote the smooth operation and expansion of the school system.

Central Office directs LC corporation

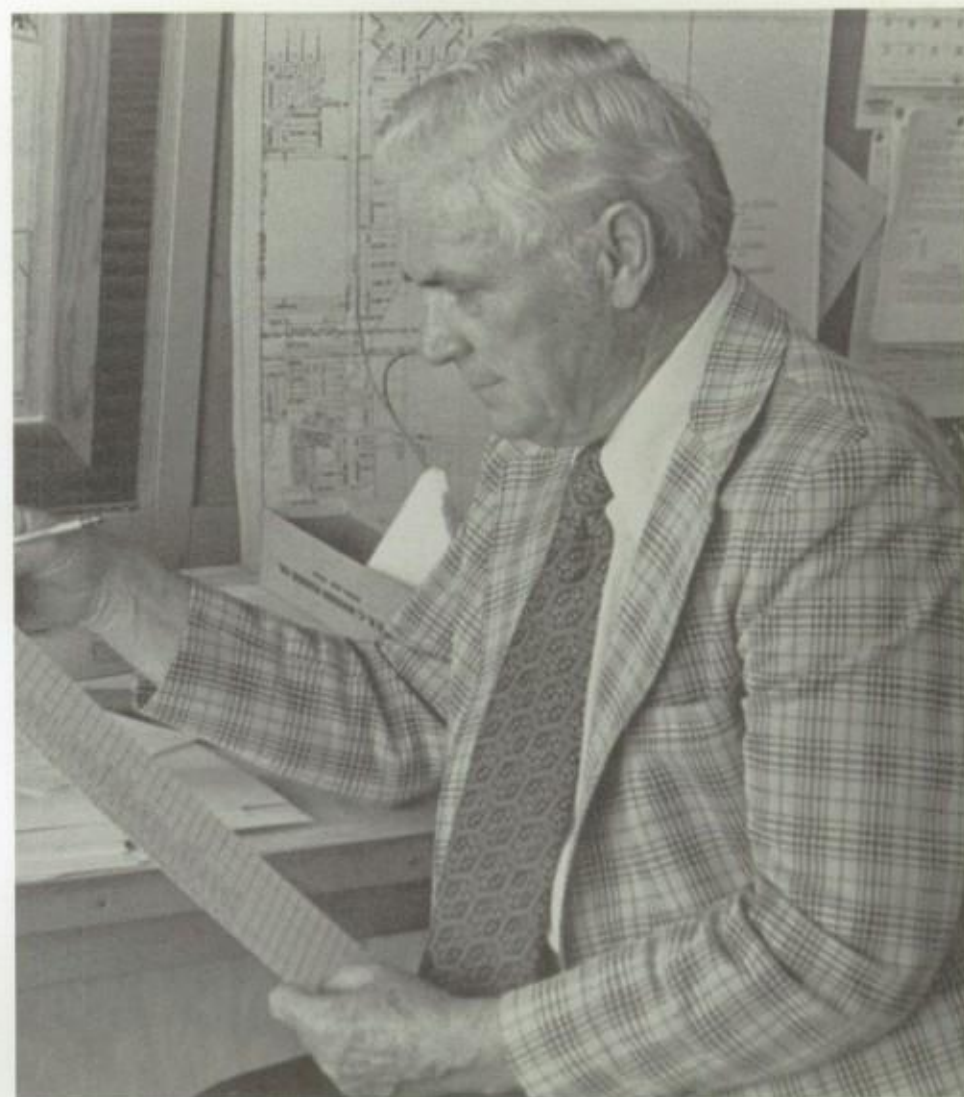

Mr. George Bibich, school superintendent, heads the Central Office staff. He and the assistant superintendent keep things running smoothly.

Assistant Superintendent Mr. Don Guilford interviews an applicant for a possible teaching job in the school corporation.

New to the Central Office this year is Mr. Fred Jones, director of school services, who is looking at the enrollment and capacity of the schools.

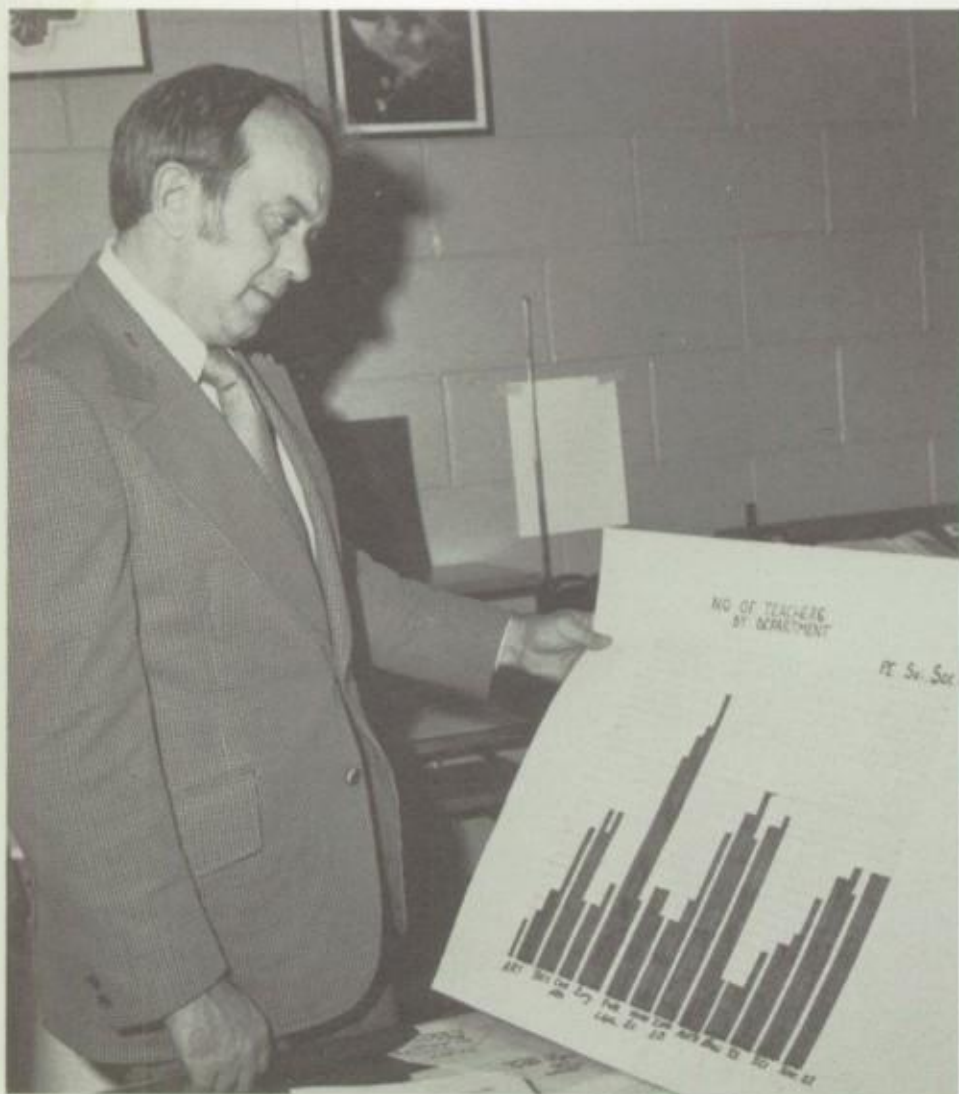

Mr. Lee McKee looks over a list of buses. Mr. McKee is the supervisor of transportation and busing for the school corporation.

Mr. James Watson, administrative assistant, handles a phone call during the course of another busy day. Mr. Watson is responsible for all the accounts of the corporation.

Administration staff adds new member

Principal of Lake Central, Mr. Glen Eberly, looks over a graph of teachers and departments. This was Mr. Eberly's first year as head principal.

New to the administrative staff at LC, Mr. Bob Daniels, assistant principal of the junior division, calculates a few figures.

Many changes were made this year in the administrative department. Mr. Glen Eberly was assigned as the new head principal because of the promotion of Mr. Fred Jones to the Central Office. Mr. Terrence Jukes still remained as the principal of the senior division.

Since the promotion of Mr. Glen Eberly, the position of junior division principal was vacated. This position was filled by Mr. Bob Daniels, a new member to the LC staff. Another administrative alteration was the changing of Mrs. Jean Wease from the Guidance Department to a new administrative position, administrative dean. Nurse Robinette Probasco continued her work at LC again by giving health tests and first aid to the students. This new administration was very successful in keeping LC running smoothly.

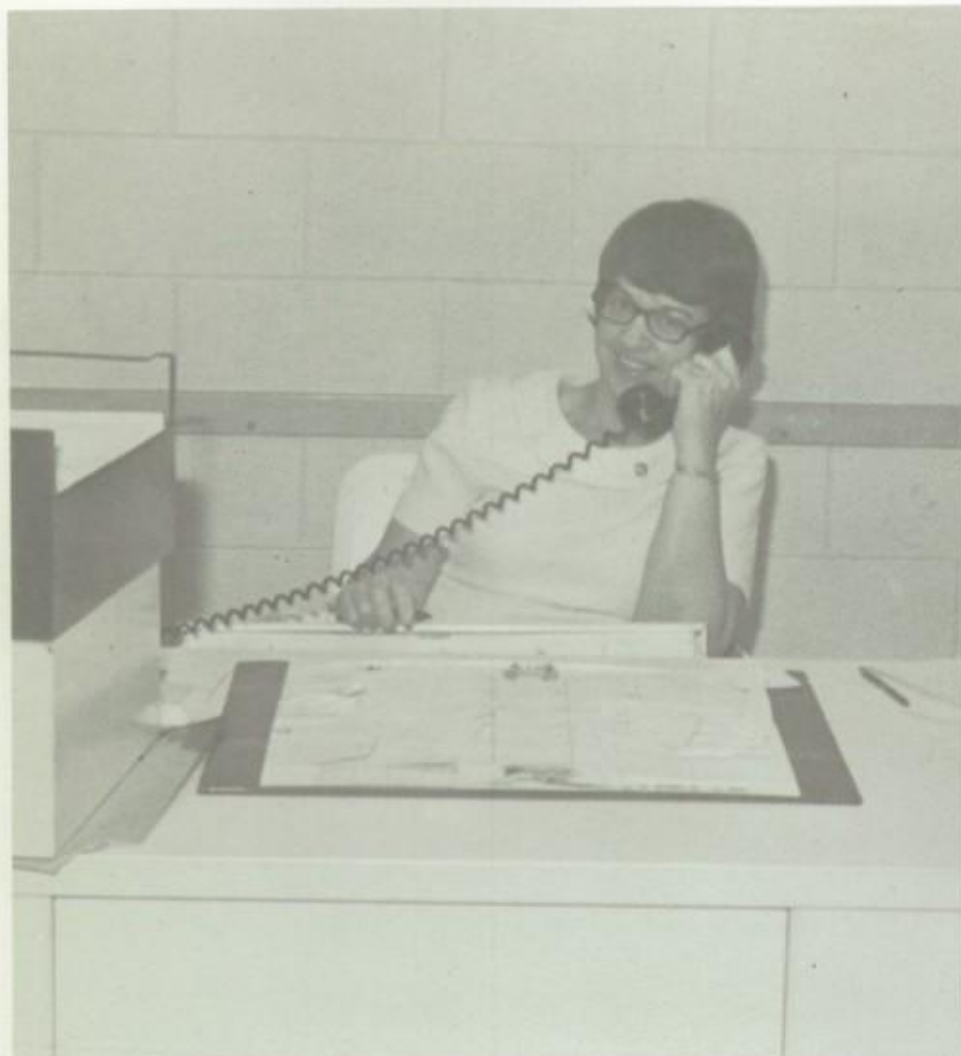

Mr. Terry Jukes, assistant principal of the senior division, examines one of the many reports presented to him during a busy day.

Mrs. Jean Wease, administrative dean and PPS director, takes notes during one of the many administrative meetings.

Enrollment still continues to increase

LC School Nurse Mrs. Robinette Probasco talks to a parent about some of the health policies during the course of a busy day.

Head Principal Mr. Glen Eberly takes time out to explain a few of the school policies to a concerned parent.

Mr. Terry Jukes, principal of the senior division, listens attentively while Mr. Eberly talks at an administrative meeting.

Mr. Bob Daniels, junior division principal, confers with Mrs. Jean Wease, Administrative Dean, about some school issues.

Library is center of student activities

Lake Central's library is the main center for many student activities. Besides being used for reading and study, one section of the library is usually busy with either N-teen girls, Pep Club girls or cheerleaders. Also the library is used during the lunch hours by students to study or just to relax.

Special window displays have been encouraged by the librarians. A few of these displays include model railroads, hand blocked fabrics, pottery and jewelry displays which came from the Art Department.

Also this year the library attained many new books on special interest subjects, such as sports and art crafts which were added to the collection.

A student makes good use of the dictionary in the reference section. The reference section contains many different types of reference books.

Mrs. Joan Osborn carefully checks over one of the books that have been returned. Mrs. Osborn keeps busy in her extra time by sponsoring the N-teens.

Miss Kathy Arbuckle laughs at a remark made by a student. Miss Arbuckle is the sponsor of the cheerleaders and the Pep Club.

Junior Sue Burish uses some of her extra time by going into the library and catching up on some of her homework.

Increased enrollment brings rise in work

Seeing that almost 2000 students take the right classes administering tests and helping out with student problems are some of the functions of the guidance counselors. This year with the switching of Mrs. Jean Wease to the Administration Department, Mr. John Trier was made the Guidance Department head. Other counselors Mr. John Kopchik, Mrs. Marcella Boecker, and Mr. Tom Linger were very busy with the increase in enrollment.

A main job of the counselors is to see that students are properly placed in classes which are right for their potential. Also they help students decide on what type of school curriculum is right for them. Records are also retained by the counselors on each student which contains their average grades, school activities, and their tentative future plans. The guidance office also has many career brochures which help students with their future decisions.

This year Mr. Peyton moved his office to the guidance office. This relieved the general office of some confusion.

Attendance Director Mr. Tom Peyton unloads his car of wood, which he will cut and use as firewood in his home.

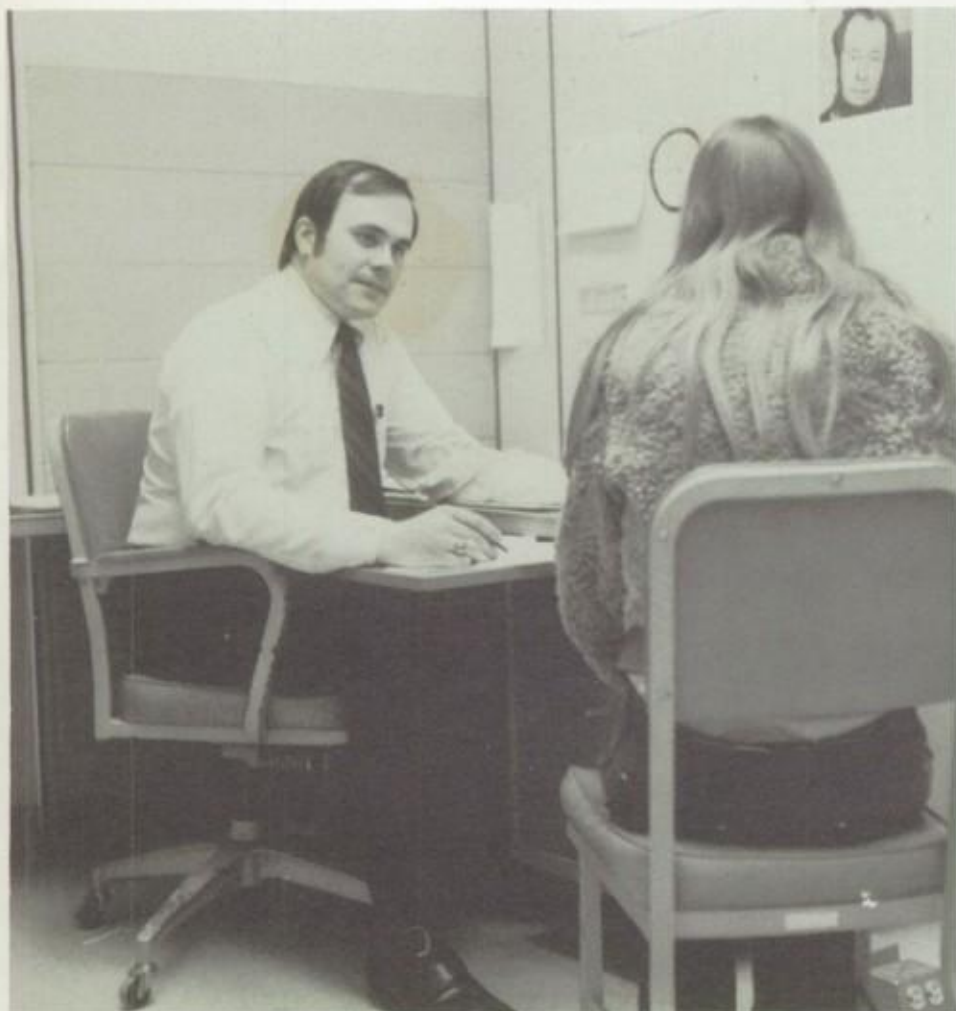

Guidance Counselor Mr. Tom Linger is busy eating pizza with his two daughters at the annual Q & S Pizza Party. He was one of the invited guests.

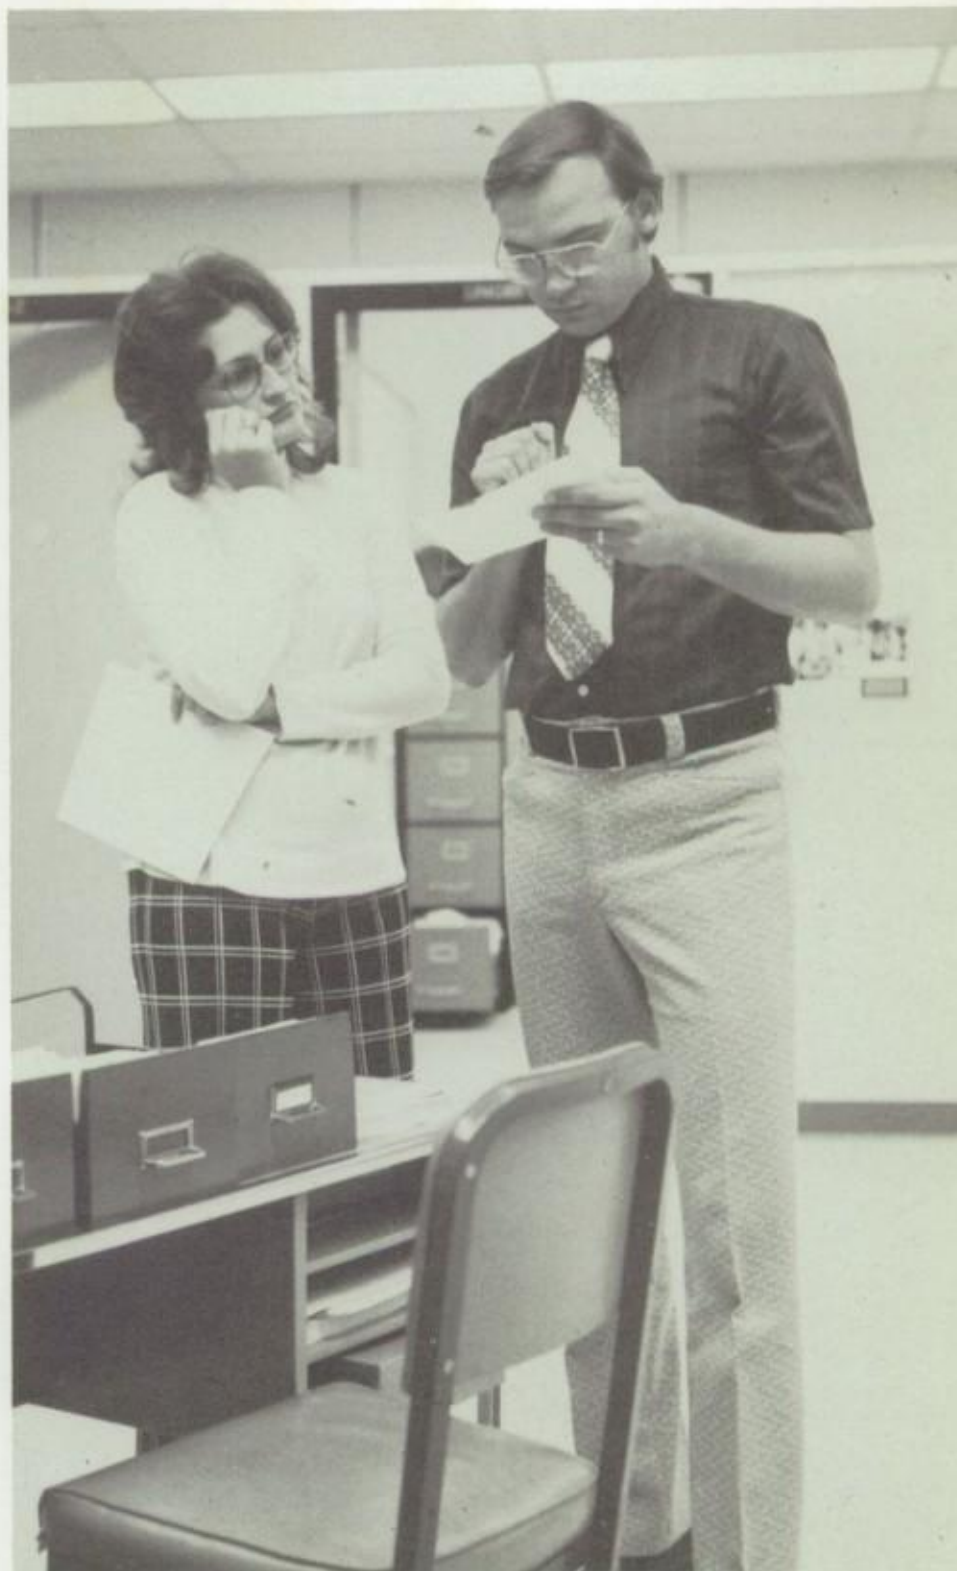

Mr. John Kopchik chats to one of his students about their future plans after high school for the summer and next fall.

Counselors help students with schedules

Mr. John Trier, coordinator of the guidance department, helps one of his students decide on what classes she wants to take next year.

Mr. Linger looks over and discusses a certain student's schedule which Mrs. Selund has just asked about.

Guidance Counselor Mrs. Marcella Boecker talks to one of her student's parents about the progress of the student.

Many jobs performed by LC secretaries

Mrs. Marge Aaron, division principal's secretary, is in the middle of typing up one of the many reports for one of the principals.

LC Library Secretary Mrs. Joyce Kerns helps a student by listening while he explains what kind of book he needs.

Various duties are performed by the Lake Central secretaries. They assist students who have problems, type up all of the correspondence for the school and administration, answer phones and make appointments.

Mrs. Lorraine Warmelink is in charge of the majority of the general office activities. She is the registrar and the secretary to Mr. Eberly. Mrs. Aaron assists Mrs. Warmelink in the general office by helping the students and teachers. She is a secretary for Mr. Daniel and Mr. Jukes. Also in the general office is treasurer Mrs. Barbara Purdy. Her job is to take care of all the extra curricular accounts and assist club treasurers with any problems that they may have. Taking care of the guidance office tasks this year was Mrs. Donna Denslaw. She helps the counselors with their records and appointments. The library secretary is Mrs. Joyce Kerns, who assists the librarians and the students. With the help of all these ladies, the LC business offices were kept running smoothly.

Mrs. Barbara Purdy takes time out from her work to chat with some of the teachers. She takes care of all the extra curricular accounts.

Mrs. Lorraine Warmelink asks a new student questions while she fills out a form to register him in school. She also is a secretary to the principals.

After typing a report, Mrs. Donna Denslaw hands it to a counselor. Mrs. Denslaw was a secretary to the counselors and the attendance director.

Junior Rose Alkire uses her extra study hour by being a general office aid. Here she answers the one of many telephone calls and switches it to the right number. This is just one of the jobs of an office aid. Office aids help out secretaries by doing a lot of the running for them.

Discussions essential in English classes

Mrs. Dixie Whitehouse is smiling contentedly as she begins recording the term paper grades for her sophomore English class.

Mrs. Carole Selund explains the directions for the timed tests she's about to give to her reading class.

Reading teacher, Mrs. Jean Hettich watches and waits while her English I class takes a test.

Joe: Wow, I really hate English.

Kathy: Well, they did try to make it interesting with the films and novels.

Joe: I liked "To Kill a Mockingbird" the best.

Kathy: I heard that there were other good movies shown this year too.

Joe: Yea, like "Cool Hand Luke" and "Brian's Song".

Kathy: I had one of the new English teachers this year, Miss Philpot.

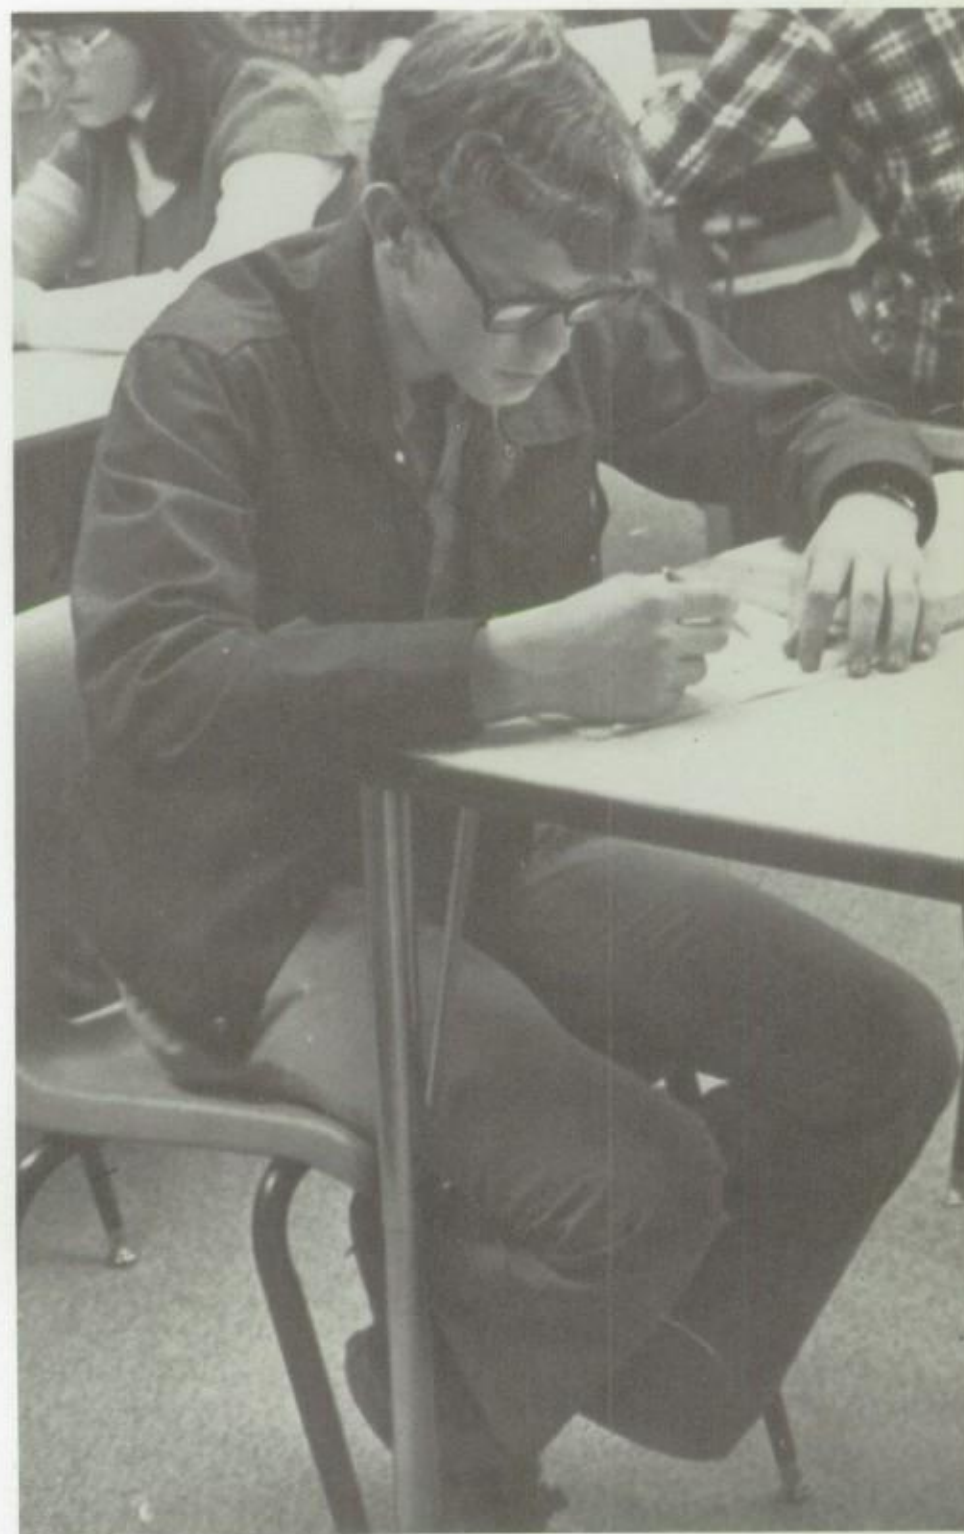

Joe: Weren't there a couple other new teachers?

Kathy: Yea, Mrs. Schoeben, Mrs. Frohock and Mr. Andre.

Joe: Also there was one that took Mrs. Miller's place at second semester.

Kathy: Yea, Mrs. Gawenda.

Joe: Well aside from all the compositions and grammar, I suppose English is O.K.

After reading another English section, freshman David Hafner quickly finishes one of his many English I assignments.

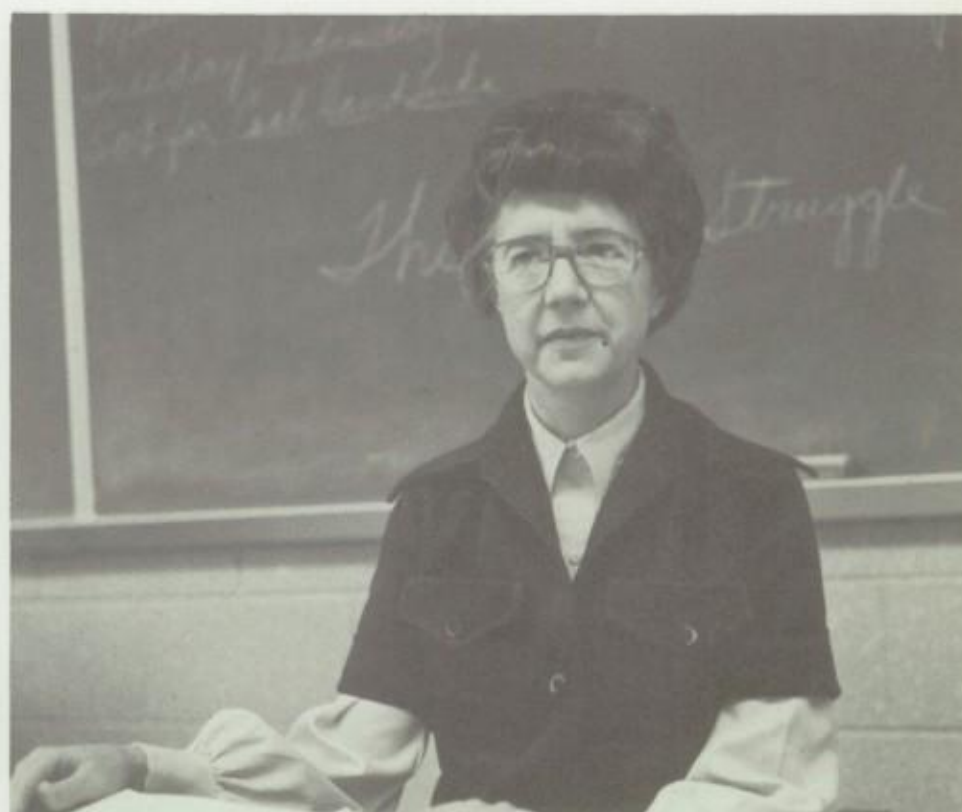

Despite a broken ankle, Mr. Rich "Hop-a-Long" Ossanna made it through his daily duties of teaching junior and senior English.

Striking an unusual pose, Mr. Dave Vignocchi helps out with the senior float. Besides sponsoring the Senior Class, he taught English III and IV.

English II and IV teacher, Mr. Lee Quinn, sits with his daughter, Michelle, in their usual position to read a book.

Mrs. Janet Crisco listens while her class has a discussion on the novel, "The Scarlet Letter". Mrs. Crisco taught both English III and IV.

Speech and English II teacher, Mr. Scott Andre, prepares to listen to one of his many albums from his collection.

Miss Connie Philpot finds humor in one of her student's jokes. She teaches English I.

English II teacher, Mrs. Gayle Gawenda came to LC at second semester to take Mrs. Miller's place.

Underclassmen learn

Freshman Darryl Carstensen has time during his English I class to read the novel, "The Poseidon Adventure". Many good novels are made available to Freshman Cheryl Blankenship carefully rereads one of her English I chapters before beginning another one of her assignments.

Mrs. Sandra Frohock stresses the need for a better vocabulary to her class. Mrs. Frohock teaches English III.

some english basics

students through the English Department to help further their reading skills and vocabulary.

Before starting the day's discussion over a novel, Mr. Fred Rafa jokes around with his English I students. Mr. Rafa also taught English III.

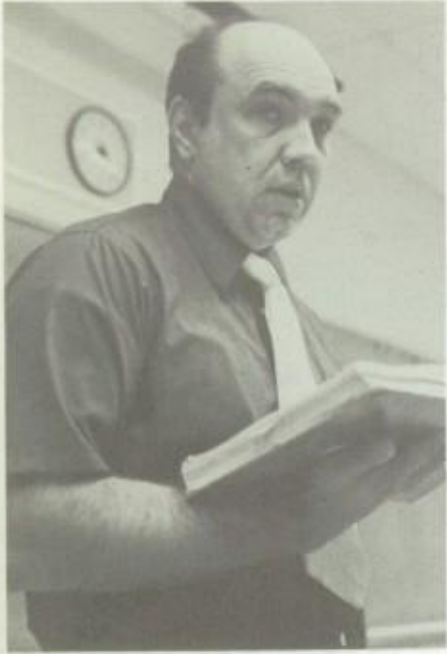

Mr. Daryl Fraley helps out his English I students on one of their assignments. World History is also taught by Mr. Fraley.

Mrs. Doris Schoeben checks over her gradebook with her students to see if there are any errors. She teaches English II.

Math aids in solving everyday problems.

An Algebra I question is answered by Mr. Ray Zawada, who also teaches Freshman Math.

Mary: Oh my gosh, are you ready for this Algebra test!
 Scott: No, I forgot about it! I'll probably flag it.
 Mary: Well join the crowd, I didn't study either.
 Scott: Maybe I ought to transfer into that new teacher's class, what's his name, Mr. Zawada?
 Mary: Yea, right.
 Scott: I heard that there's two other new teachers this year too.
 Mary: Really, what are their names?
 Scott: Mrs. Blasky and Miss Keilman.
 Mary: Oh well, for the time being we better worry about this test that's coming.
 Scott: If I don't get a good grade on the test, I might not make it this six weeks.
 Mary: I'll do okay as long as I don't get a lower grade than last time.
 Scott: After every test, I always ask myself, why didn't I study?
 Mary: I guess everybody says that after a test.
 Scott: This is probably a common situation for most math students.
 Mary: Got your cheat sheets ready, here comes the test!

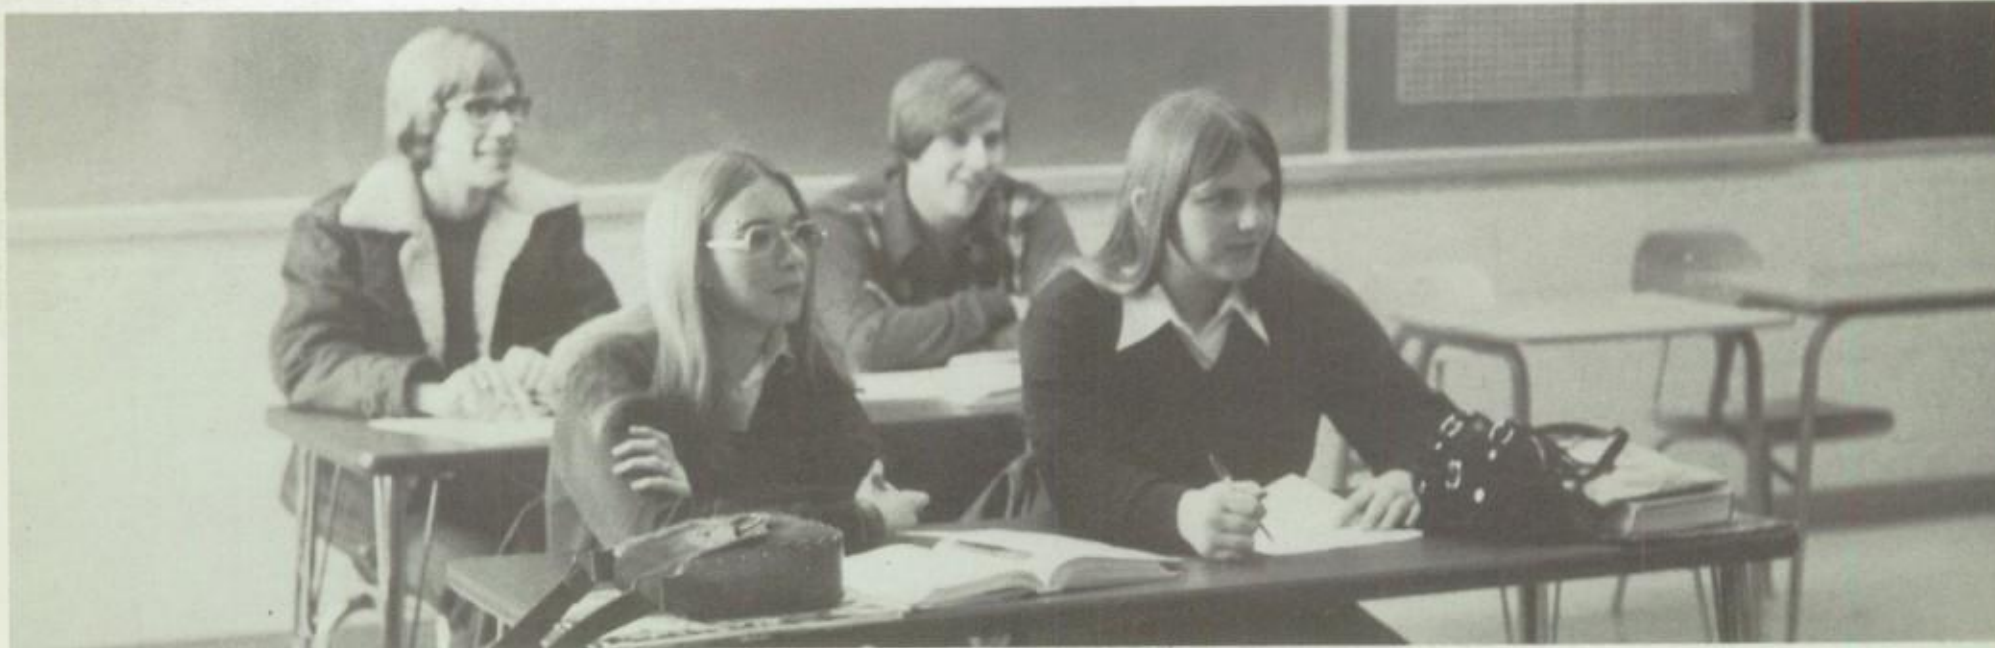

After a lecture, Mr. Kermit Kerns proceeds to answer questions from his geometry students.

Mr. Stuart Bernthal shows how to solve an Algebra II problem. He also teaches Computer Prog.

After a homework assignment has been given out, Mr. Leonard's geometry class begins working on it. Some students work together on the assignment to help each other out.

Juniors, Jeff Cechovic, Rhonda Matthews, Bruce Schnaith and Joan Sikma all take a break from class while their teacher, Mr. Bernthal, gets his picture taken. In a minute they will resume their Algebra II classwork.

Smiling at a student's comment, Mrs. Sharon Blasky continues with an Algebra II lecture.

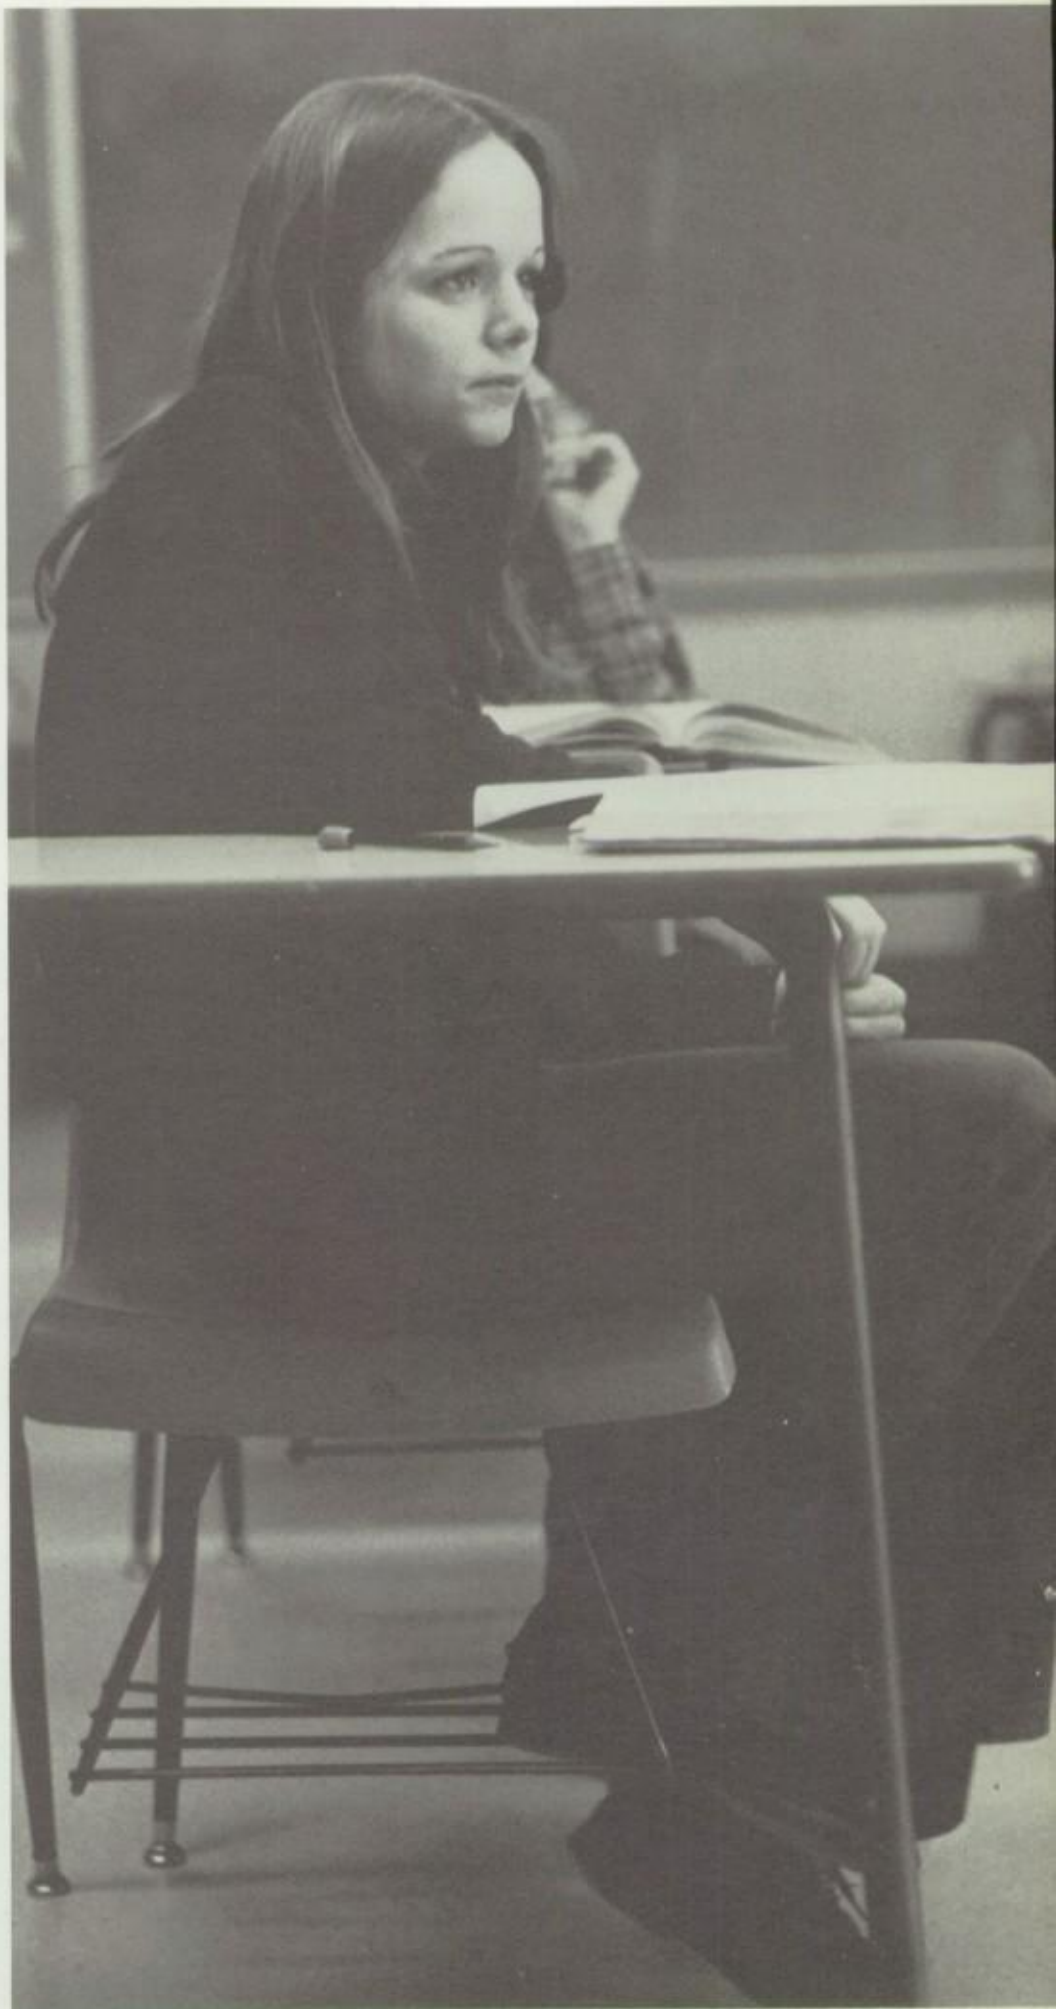

Miss Diane Keilman spends individual time with each student about their six weeks grade.

Mr. Ed Walter takes a break after putting some computer cards in order. He teaches Algebra II, Math Topics, Analytic Geometry and Calculus.

Some students of Mr. Zawada's Algebra I class are unaware of their picture being taken as they start to prepare for the day's lecture and assignment.

Freshman Nancy Rastowski awaits to be called upon for her answer to a math problem. She was in Mr. Graham's Intro Algebra A class.

Geometry and algebra teacher, Miss Marcie Stemp, lays a little brutality on a student after he makes a wise crack about having her picture taken.

Intro. Algebra A teacher, Mr. Ron Graham, goes through a homework assignment by letting his students answer questions out loud.

Mr. John Leonard helps out one of his geometry students with her assignment. Freshman Math and Intro. Algebra A are also taught by Mr. Leonard.

Freshman Scott Siedelmann looks over his Intro. Algebra A homework, before giving his answer to a math problem.

Different cultures of history examined

Jane: Hey, are we having a lecture today?

Dan: Yea, I think we are.

Jane: Do ya know what we're doing in that class for the rest of the week?

Dan: Well, all I know is, we're gonna do some in-class projects and we're having a test Thrusday.

Jane: A test already! Holy Cow!

Dan: It sorta helps having different types of projects and filmstrips in some of those Social Studies classes to make them interesting.

Jane: They sure do, like when the Senior Econ. classes put on those two dances.

Dan: I hope we can put a dance on next year.

Jane: Yea, if we're lucky we might even make some money.

U.S. History and government teacher, Mr. Larry Cunningham lectures over The Civil War

Mr. Mick Smith lectures on democracy to a government class. He also teaches U.S. History.

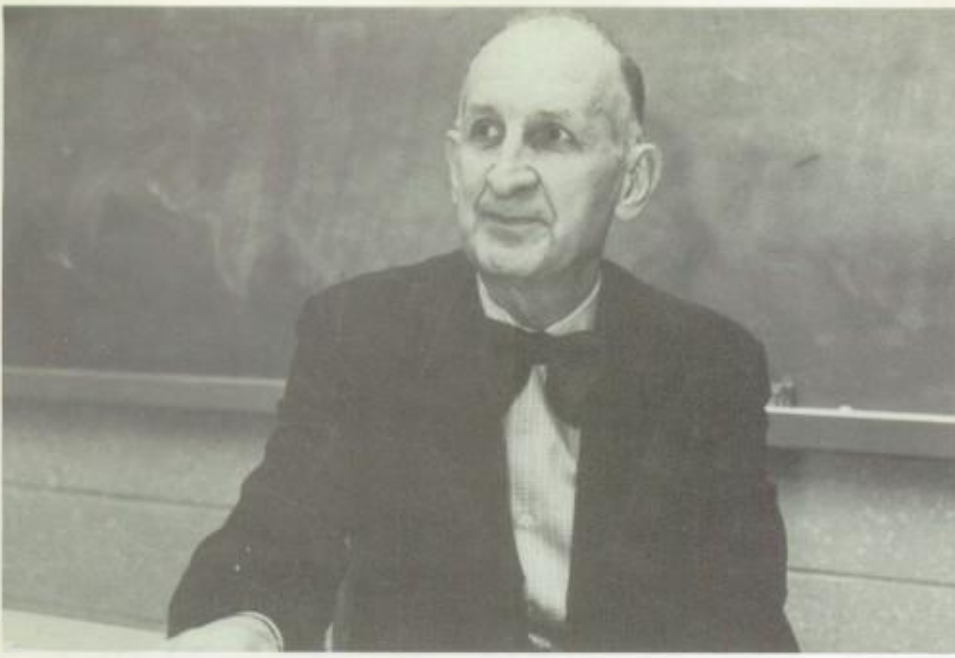

Juniors, Terri Hucker and Mary Ann Jankus take notes over a U.S. History lecture. Team teaching was again used this year by the history classes.

Mr. Nick Lemon lectures to one of his U.S. History classes. Besides teaching history, Mr. Lemon also teaches government and economics.

During a Government lecture by Mr. Smith, senior Karen Hoernig tries to give her attention despite the photographer's attempt to get a picture.

Mr. Leo Bereolos listens to the discussion by his students covering the election of congressmen. Mr. Bereolos teaches government and econ.

Senior Rose Fitzpatrick carefully listens and takes notes in econ class as Mrs. Gustafson discusses the requirements for a notebook.

Having been just passed out a test, these students of Mr. Nelson's Social Problems class, carefully concentrate on it.

While supervising the foyer, Athletic Director, Mr. Jerry Hoover, chats with some of the students.

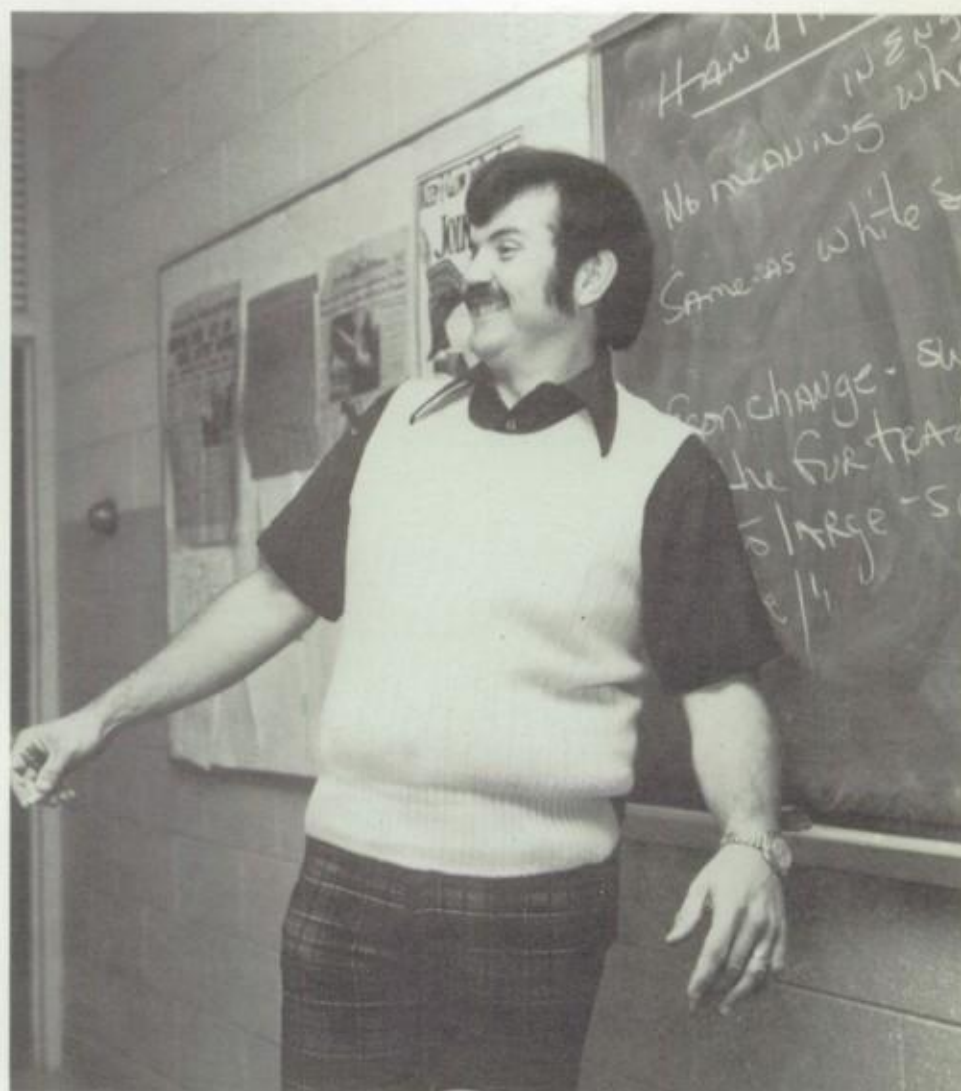

Psychology teacher, Mrs. Diane Gustafson carefully listens to an econ question by one of her students.

Social Studies teach culture of country

Sociology and U.S. History teacher, Mr. Charles Pollen looks up from his work after a comment made by one of his U.S. History students.

During one of his U.S. History lectures, Mr. Randy Fenters is astounded by a student's question. Mr. Fenters also teaches geography.

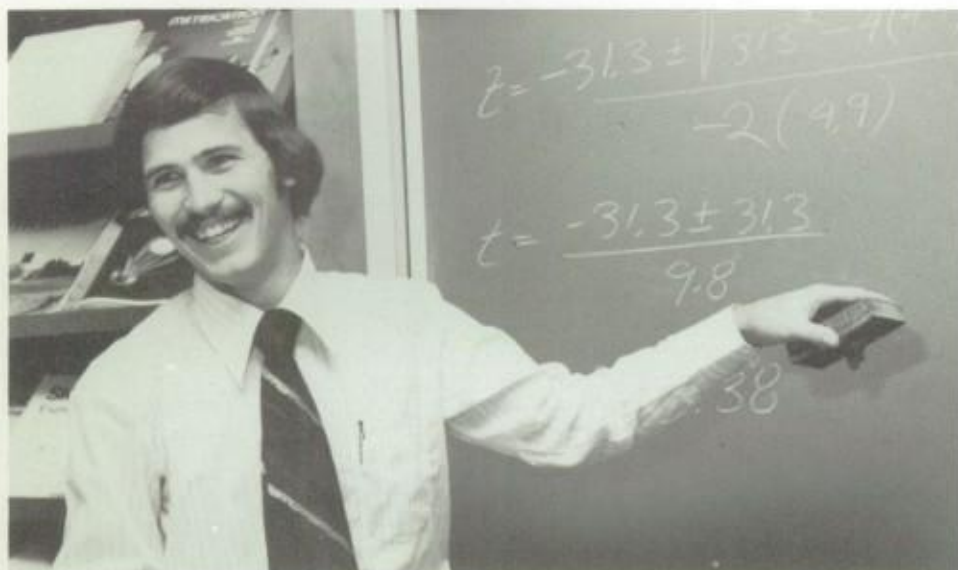

Students carefully deliberate on another one of their many World History tests. World History covers every aspect of early history.

Mr. Dave Nelson examines the grades in his gradebook. Mr. Nelson teaches U.S. History and Social Problems.

Science taught with aid of experiment

Mr. Rudy Skorupa takes a break from his physics class to share a joke with his students. IPS is also taught by Mr. Skorupa.

Sophomore Dan Mauch carefully tries to find the kidneys in the cat he is dissecting. Dissection of the cat is one of the major labs in BSCS.

Barb: What are we going to start in biology the next six weeks?

Larry: We're gonna start dissecting the cats.

Barb: Oh, I hope I don't get sick.

Larry: No you won't. Different types of labs make some science classes really interesting.

Barb: Yea, I especially like labs which work with the growth of different types of bacteria.

Larry: Dissection is my favorite type of lab.

Barb: The Science Fair gives kids the chance to do labs and research on their own.

Larry: Yea, we did pretty good at the Regional Science Fair this year, didn't we?

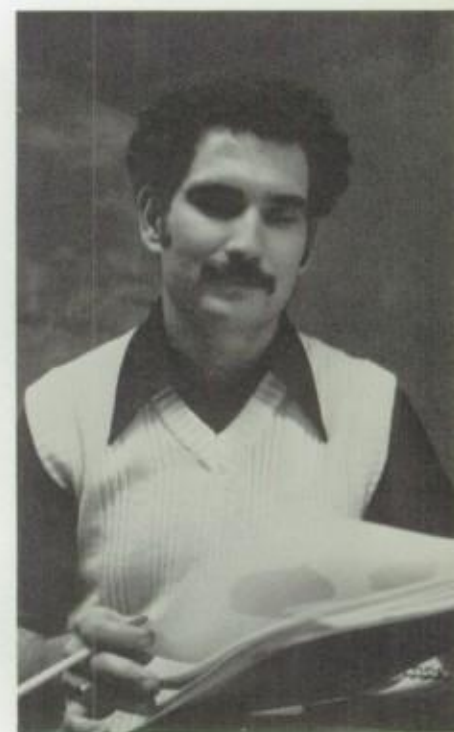

Barb: Yep, we usually do good there.

Larry: Wow, I really can't wait til we start dissecting those cats.

Barb: Well, I know that I can wait!

BSCS teacher, Mr. Keith Perry prepares to open the autoclave where sterilization has taken place.

Mr. Bill Stamos grades a BSCS leaf collection. Besides BSCS, Mr. Stamos teaches Life Science.

Seniors Jen Wiening and Steve Brockman begin their biology experiment by carefully pouring a measured liquid into test tubes.

Mrs. Linda Hoffman prepares to show her IPS class a filmstrip. She also teaches Life Science.

Senior Nancy Burrell measures out enough water for her Advanced Biology experiment. Precision is needed in order for an experiment to work out.

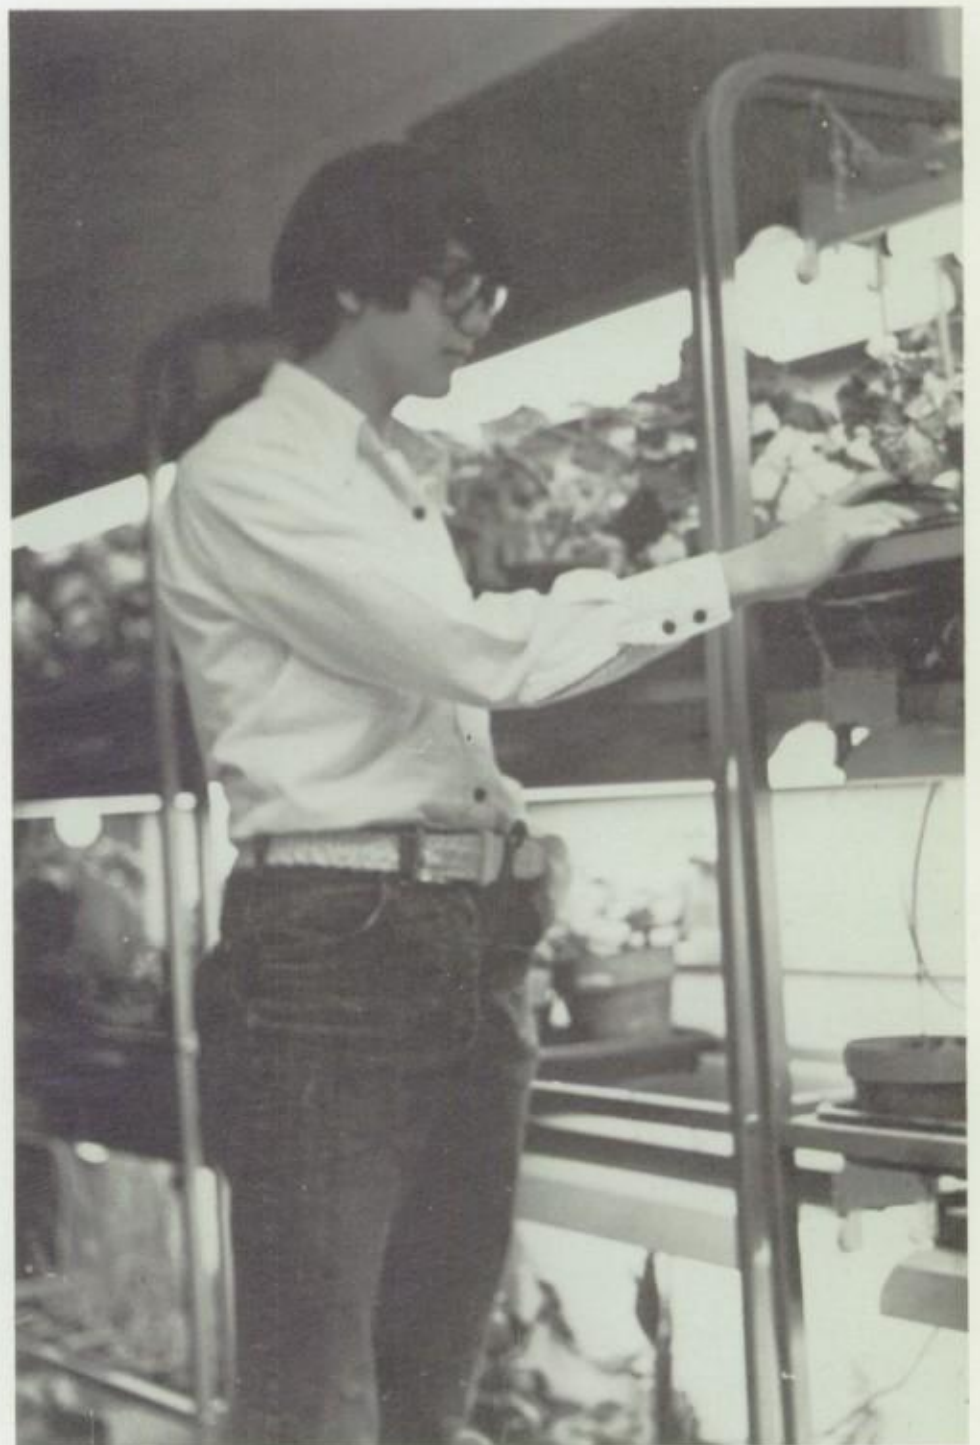

Mr. Louis Valse grades tests which were taken by his IPS class. He also teaches Life Science.

Mrs. Marsha Tokarsky tries to understand a difficult problem which one of her Life Science students explains.

Students look on as Mr. Paul Mehling demonstrates the proper procedure in performing an Advanced Biology experiment. He also teaches BSCS.

Pointing to the overhead screen, Mr. Bob Rarick lectures to his class. Besides teaching Regular Chemistry, he also teaches IPS.

With the use of an overhead projector, Mr. Roy Rutherford teaches one of his chemistry classes. He teaches both Regular Chemistry and Chem Study.

Amidst all of the hands, Senior John Solar carefully measures out some molasses that he needs for an Advanced Biology experiment.

After the completion of an experiment, Kieth Rietmann looks on as Robin Berg and Karen Hoernig prepare to clean out and put away the equipment.

Basics of home life taught in Home Ec.

Becky: I made a chicken casserole for dinner last night. It was my second try and turned out perfect.

Beth: This skirt was one of my Home Ec. projects from last semester. It took me a long time to match my plaids up perfectly.

Becky: Yea, when I took sewing, I had a lot of trouble with it, but now I can make a lot of clothes for myself. And some people say that Home Ec. classes are all a breeze.

Beth: I'm gonna take Home Nursing next. The first thing I'll have to learn is how to stay calm in emergencies. Can they teach me that?

Becky: If I can learn to cook a casserole, I'll say anything is possible.

Freshman, Denise Kwiatkowski enjoys setting up the pattern on her material in Sewing I. Denise finds that creating her own clothes can be fun.

Miss Sharon Fauser uses the aid of a flimstrip to instruct her Family Living class. Miss Fauser enjoys teaching Sewing I, II and IV.

Mrs. Nancy Lakin shows a student how to place a dress pattern on her material. Besides sewing, Mrs. Lakin teaches Foods I, II and Home Nursing.

Mrs. Barbara Blankenship demonstrates some proper sewing techniques to her Sewing II class.

Sewing and Foods teacher, Mrs. Annabelle Iddings, goes through one of the many recipes in her cookbook.

Freshmen Sue Johnson and Laura Massey assist Cindy Gibson with measurements for the hem of the skirt she just made in a Sewing I class.

Spanish Club provides trip to Mexico

Mr. Al Smith passes out a quiz to his Spanish III students. Mr. Smith also teaches Spanish I and IV.

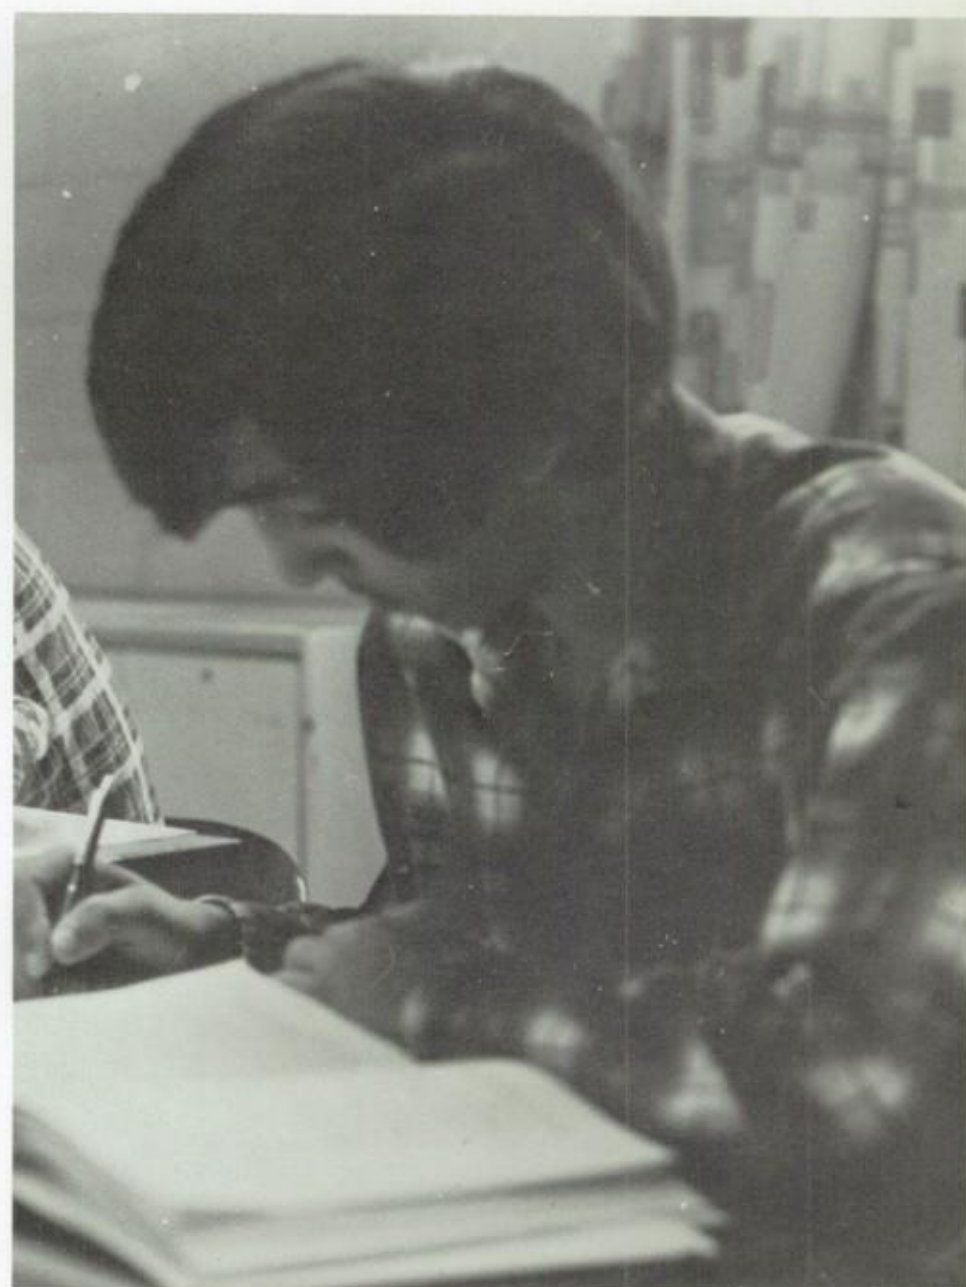

Sue: That trip to Mexico sure was fun.
 Mike: Yea, two years of Spanish finally paid off. I could even understand the people a little bit.
 Sue: Trips like that really help you in understanding the language better.
 Mike: Aren't the German students planning another trip to Germany next year.
 Sue: Yea, I hope they have as much fun as we had on our trip.
 Mike: How many pages of our workbook do we have to have done for tomorrow.
 Sue: I think, she said that five pages are due.
 Mike: That means I'll have to do five pages tonight. I always leave everything for the last minute.
 Sue: Hey, did you catch what Mrs. Maloney just said.
 Mike: No. I guess we'll have to wait and see what everybody else does.
 Sue: Looks like they're taking out some paper and closing their books.
 Mike: That's just fine! We're going to have a quiz.
 Sue: She must have given a review while we were talking.
 Mike: Oh Well, there goes another grade.

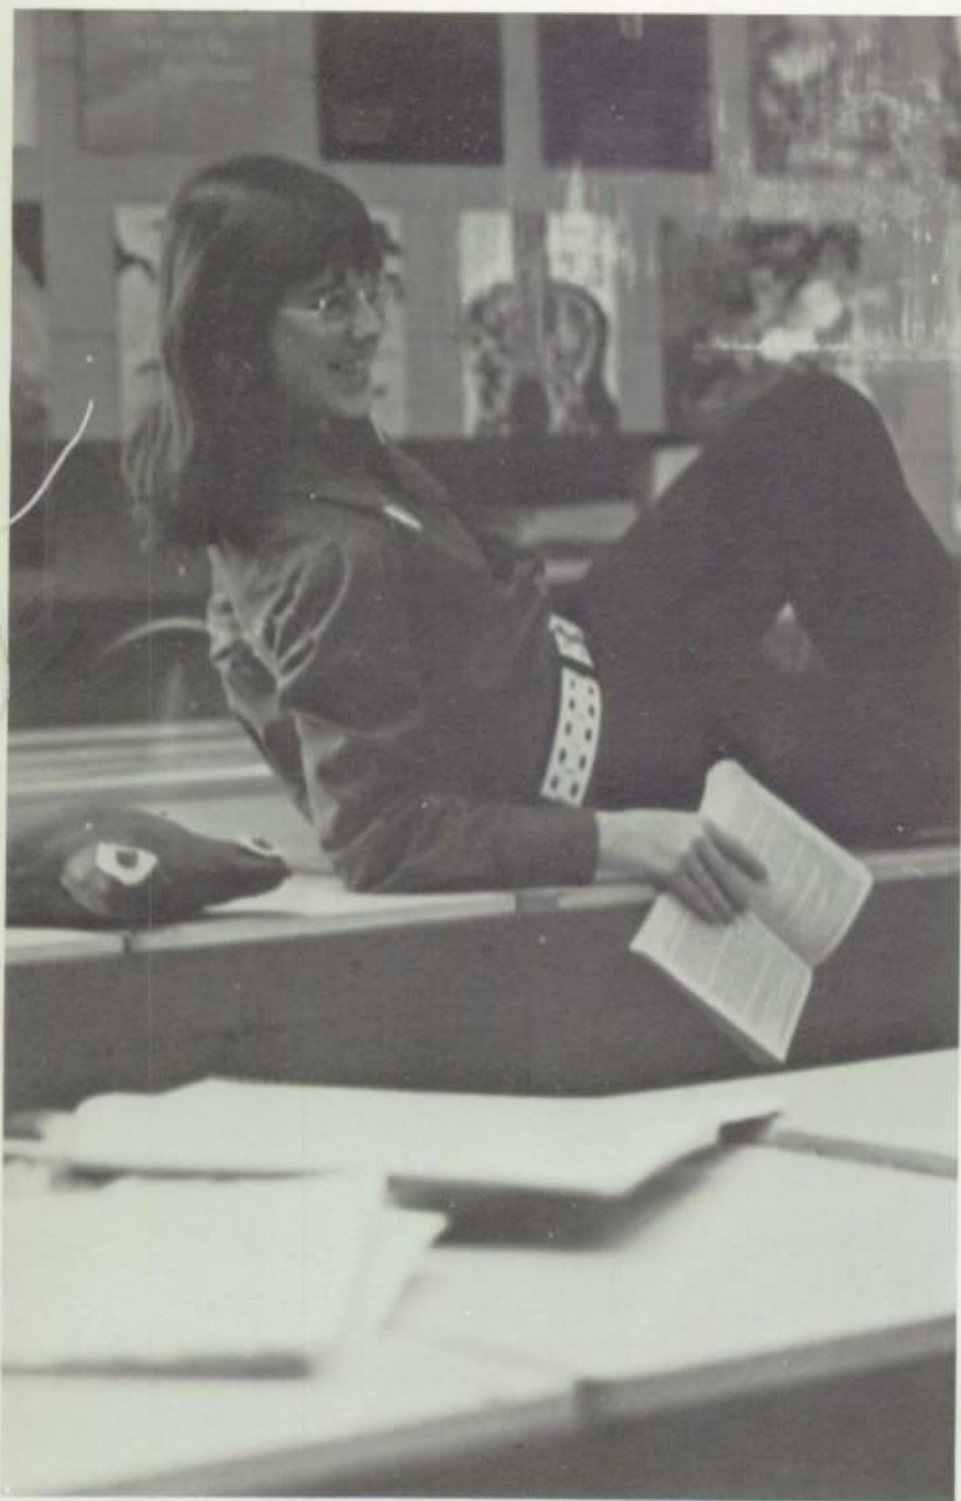

Some of the fundamentals of Spanish are taught in Mrs. Kay Maloney's Spanish I and II class.

Sophomores Sheli Chermak, Cheryl Laich, and Debbie Frisinger work on one of many assignments in their Spanish II class.

After looking over one of his Spanish II chapters, sophomore John Gutierrez answers some questions in his Spanish workbook.

Having nothing else to do, sophomore Cindy Gates decides to take a break in Mrs. Lowe's room to relax and read a book.

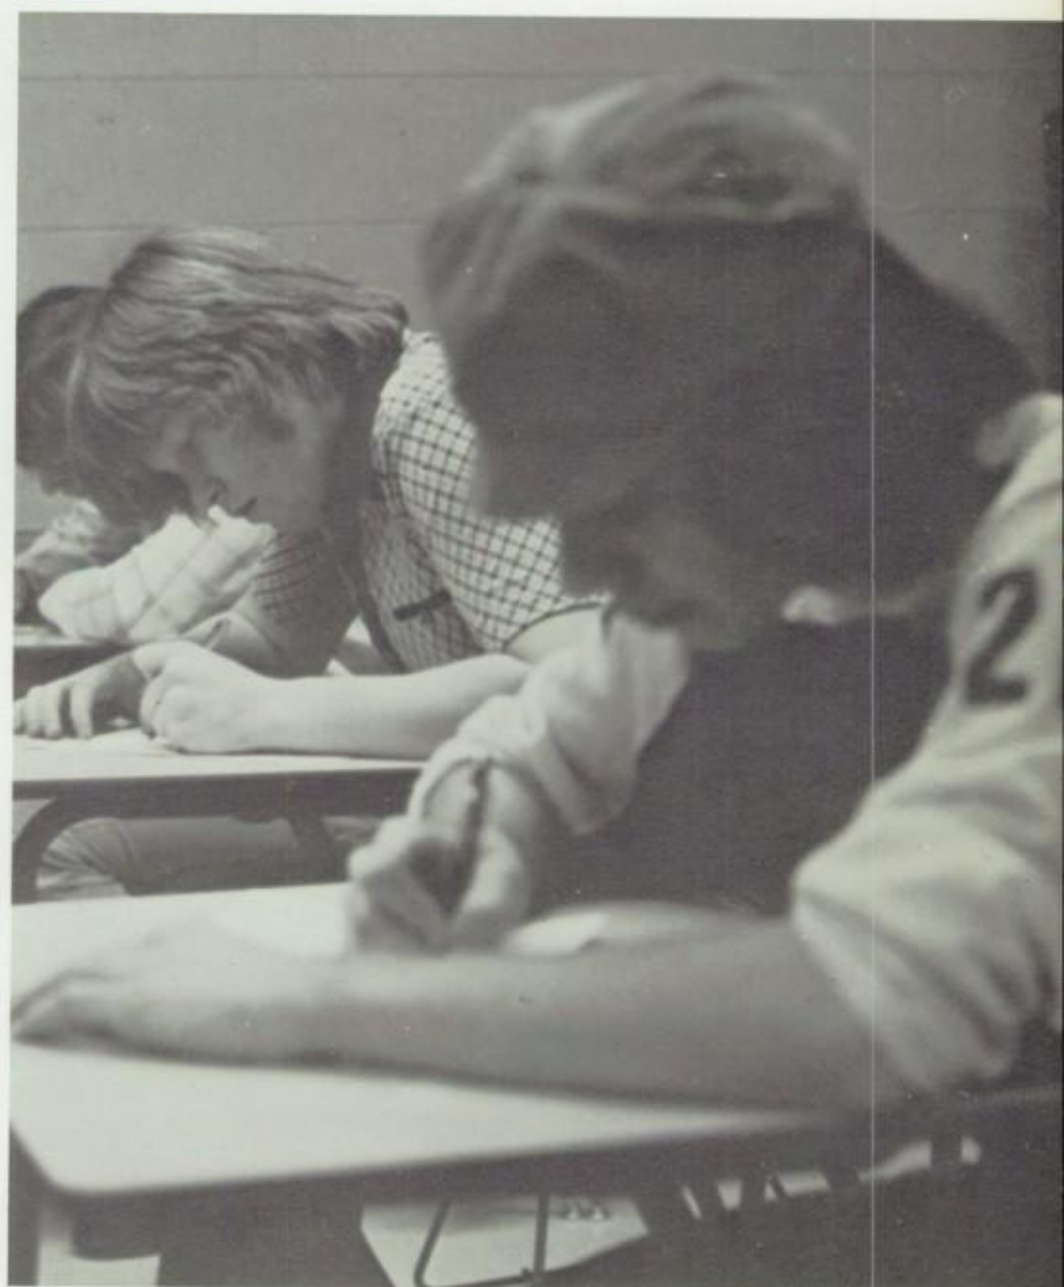

French teacher, Mrs. Angie Lowe poses with one of her little friends. She devotes her extra time to the Senior class and the Theatre Guild.

Mr. Mike Hensley lectures to his German III class. All levels of German are taught by Mr. Hensley.

New to the staff this year, Mrs. Irene Korem teaches English III and German I classes.

After one of many German III vocabulary quizzes has been passed out, Seniors Rick Wood and Dan Neeb begin to work on it.

LC students train for business offices

Dawn: In my last two years of school, I took almost all business classes.

Judy: Business courses gave me an idea of what I might like to do after graduation.

Dawn: Guest speakers like Attorney Mike Muenich and Lt. Kerr (Commander of State Police 13 in Scherville) were two of the guest speakers who added to the business classes. Speaking to some professionals like them answered questions I couldn't find in my textbook.

Judy: Some classes went on field trips to places like the Chicago Building of Trade, the Mercantile Exchange or the Midwest District Courts to get a good look at business and legal operations.

Dawn: My Business Law class took a trip to the Hammond Federal District Court to see them in action.

Judy: Using tapes and equipment in the steno-lab enables almost all business students to work on material dictated at your own speed.

Mr. Don Binole talks with his students before passing back some Shorthand I assignments.

Mr. Noble Baker lectures to his Intro Business class. He also teaches Business Law and Accounting.

In an effort to type a perfect paper for her two-week job, Julie Kilander backspaces to correct an error in her work.

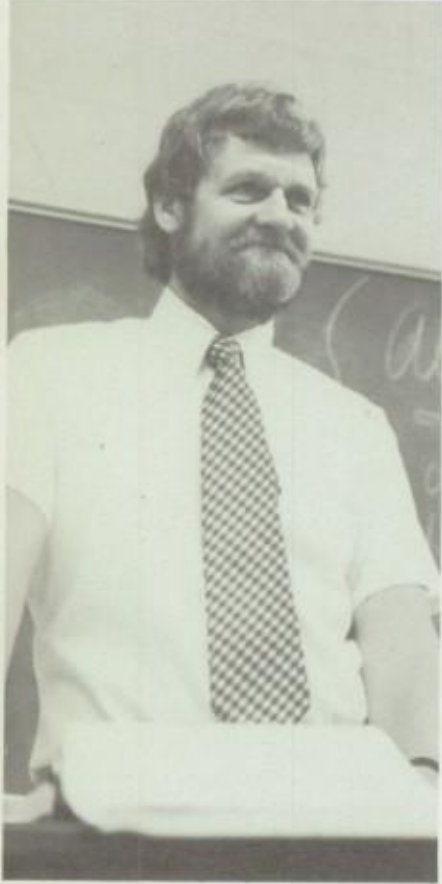

Mrs. Evamae Bibich helps out one of her Secretarial Lab students. Mrs. Bibich is the only teacher of the two-hour secretarial lab.

Training girls for a career in business is the job of Mrs. Bibich's Secretarial Lab. Here Brenda Buchanan gets ready to type up a phone message.

Business courses help for future needs

Mr. Buren Hooper watches over his Typing I students while they take a timed typing test.

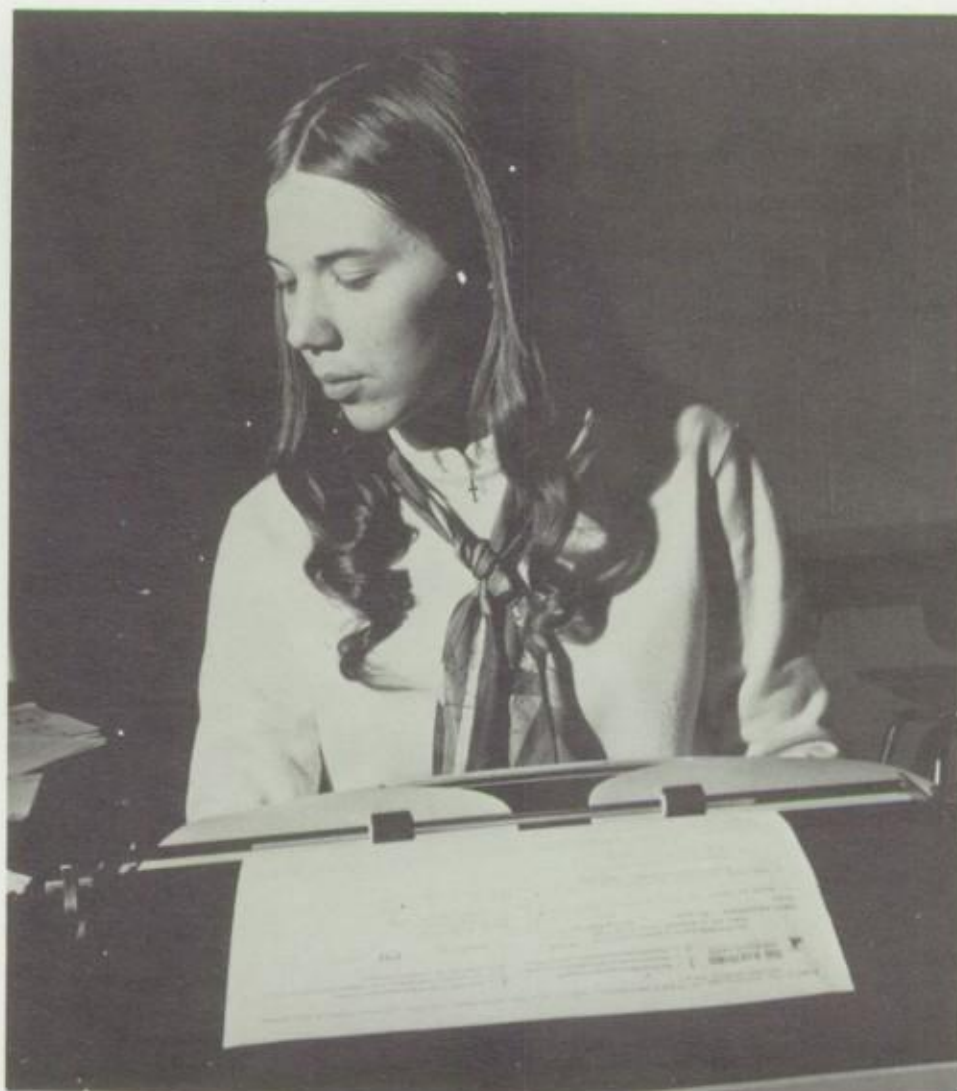

Senior Cathy Barezak, who was an aid for Mr. Binole's Shorthand I class, patiently waits for her next errand to run.

Mrs. Rhonda Csikos takes a break from her Intro Business class. She also teaches typing.

Mrs. Rhonda Whitney lectures to her Intro Business class. She also teaches Typing I and Accounting.

Increasing her skills of typing, senior Sharon Norris quickly types up one of her assignments for her Typing II class.

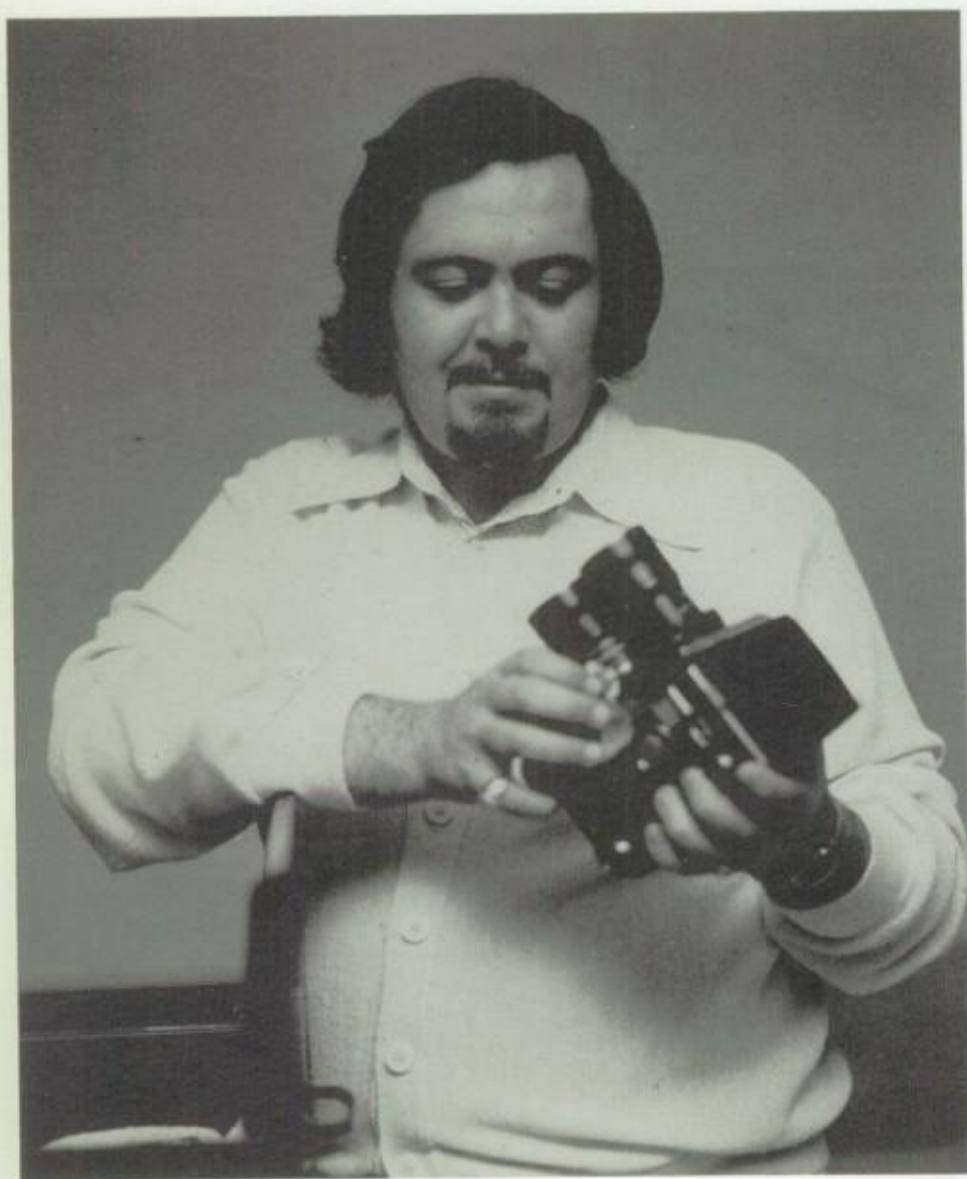

Mr. Len Brown assists one of his Typing II students. He replaced Mrs. Cunningham early this year.

Basics of media taught to LC students

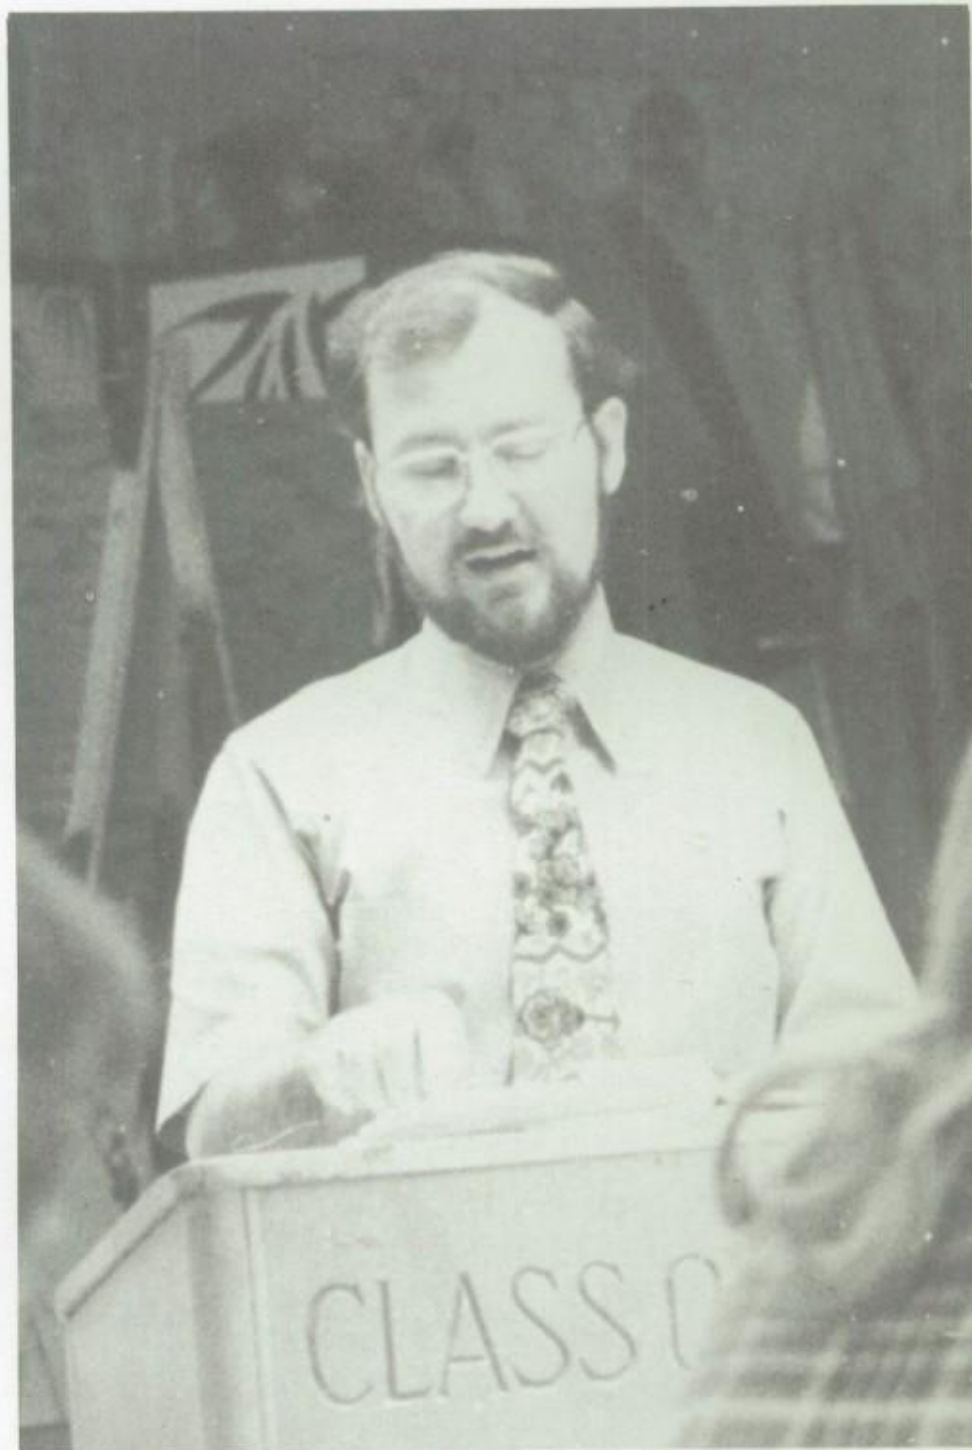

Mr. Jeff Pavlovich takes a break from classwork to listen to a student's comment. He took Mr. Hopkins place at second semester and taught Intro TV.

Quiver and Scout advisor Mr. Ron Fritchley adjusts one of the cameras for a photographer. Mr. Fritchley also instructs Intro. Journalism.

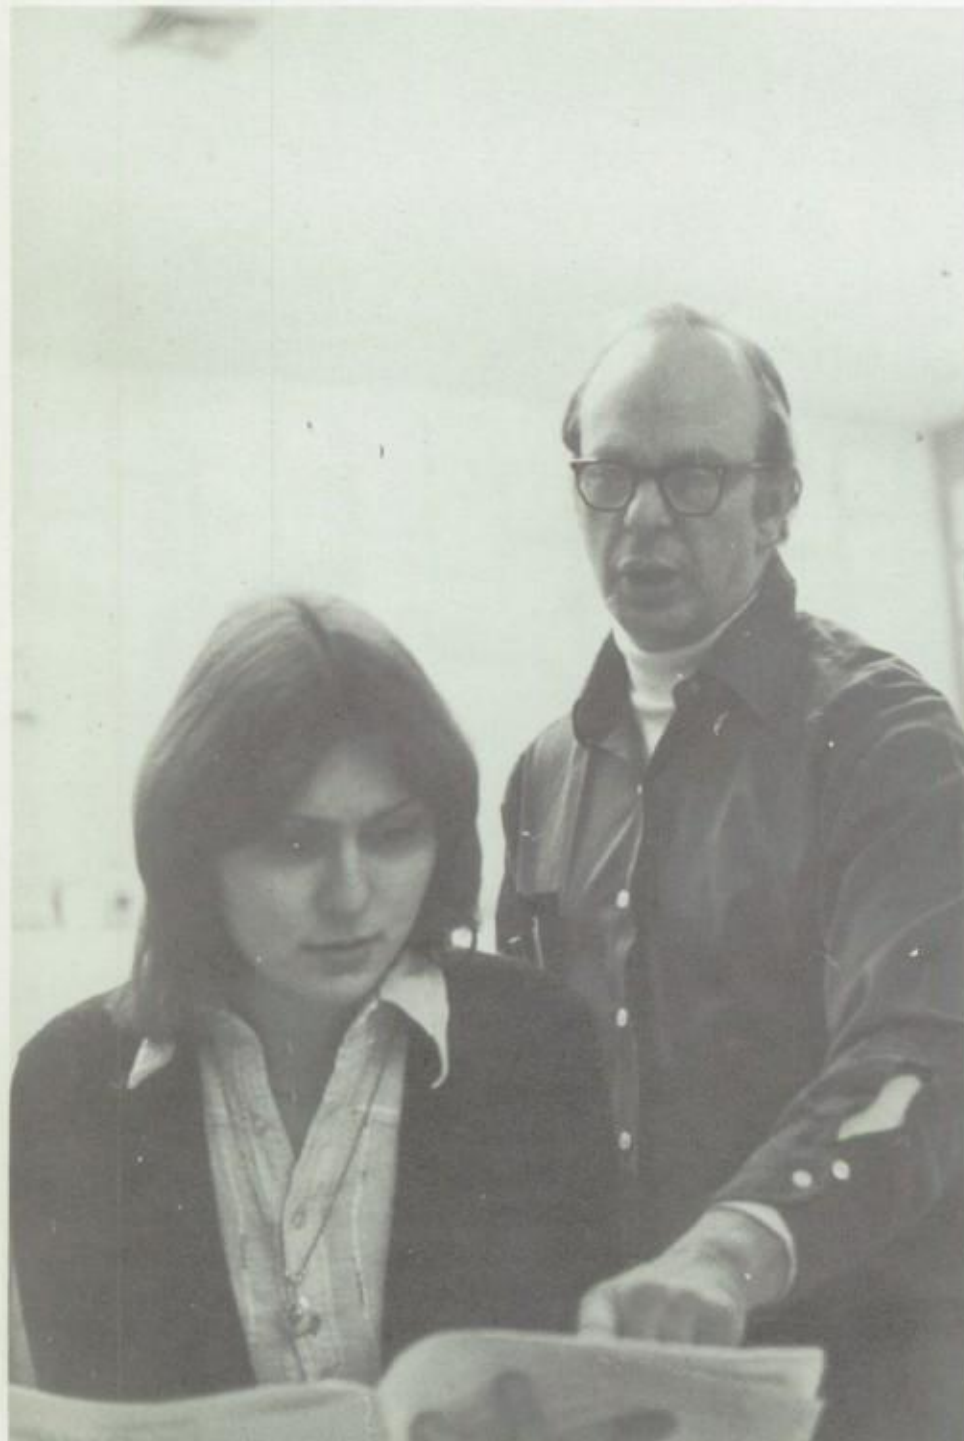

- Cindy: You're taking a speech class this year, aren't you?
Frank: Yea, That reminds me, I'll have to give another speech next week.
Cindy: What are you gonna give your speech on.
Frank: I have no idea yet. What are you doing in Journalism these days?
Cindy: Well, We've been doing a lot of newspaper writing. Pretty soon we are going to get into yearbook layouts, and after that we'll be giving news casts.
Frank: In a couple of weeks we will be doing some impromptu speeches. So they'll be kinda fun. I won't have to worry about being prepared for them.
Cindy: Communicative Arts classes are really interesting because they do so many different in-class projects.
Frank: That's what makes my speech class so interesting. We do every type of speech possible.
Cindy: Journalism, T.V. and radio classes teach students how to communicate through the media. I think I'm even going to get into Communicative Arts classes in college. Maybe I'll become a well known newspaper writer.

Mr. Paul Lowe lectures to his class about what is expected for their next in-class project. He teaches Theater Arts and Speech classes.

LC Band and Choir perform for region

Rick: I wonder if we are going to practice band outside today.
 Pat: It's kinda wet out, but with the state contest in a week we'll probably go out.
 Rick: That was exciting to take the sweepstakes again at NIS-BOVA. That makes it eleven now of the last thirteen times, doesn't it??
 Pat: Yea, I guess so.
 Rick: Are you gonna play in the Pep band this year during basketball season.
 Pat: I think I'm going to. I hope to play in the Pit band for the Theater Guild's production of "Sugar" too.
 Rick: I wonder how the making of the choir's Christmas record is coming along.
 Pat: I hope they sell a lot. They're gonna need the money since they are going to Europe in the summer. The choir is planning many ways to raise money.
 Rick: Yea, with their different concerts and candy sales.
 Pat: Well there's the bell. Now to find out if we're going to fight the water puddles during band.

Band Director, Mr. Doug Jordan instructs Senior Karen Clark as to what key to follow in his Music Theory class.

Mr. Mike Lewis directs the choir at St. Michael's Church while they made their Christmas record which helped to pay for their trip to Europe.

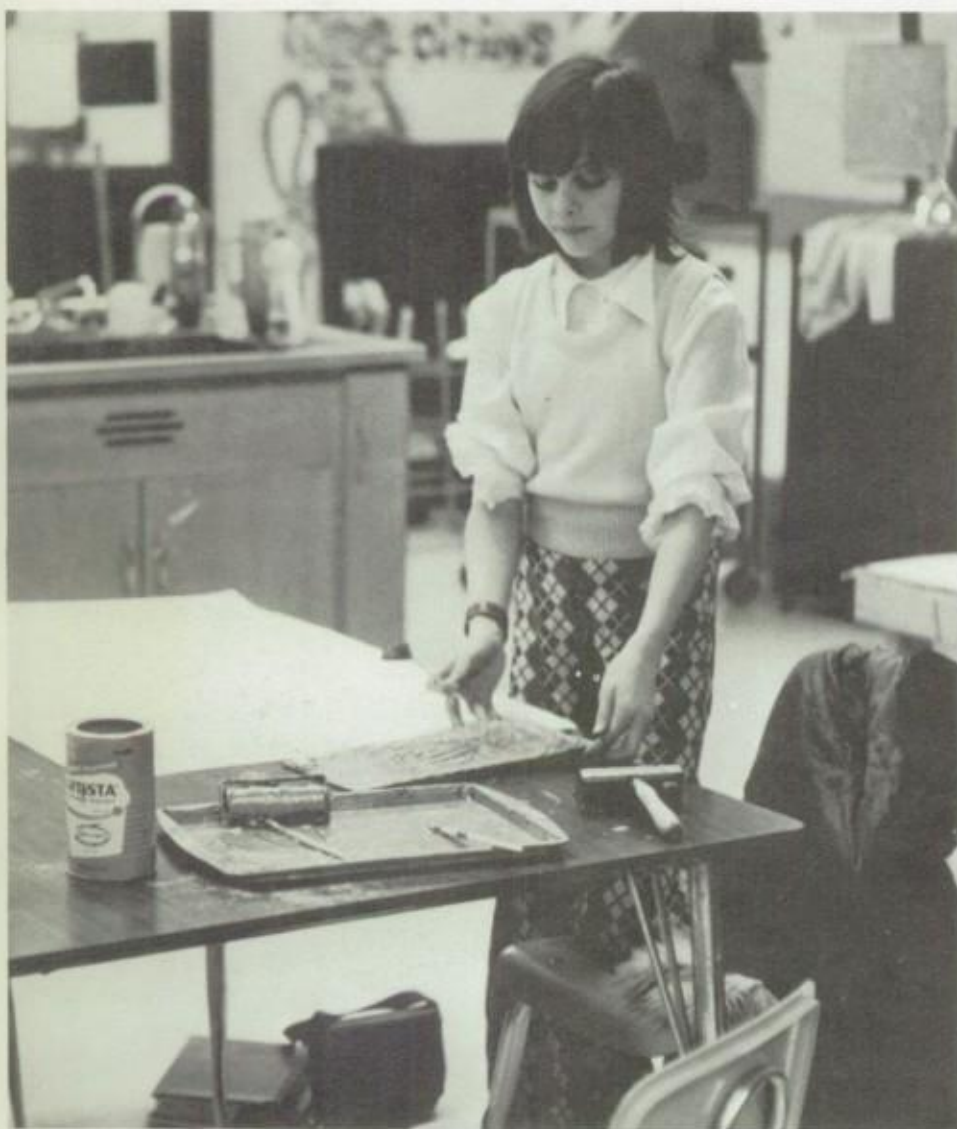

The Boys Choir carefully pays attention to the directions given by Mr. Lewis while they sing one of their many songs.

Art brings out a student's creativeness

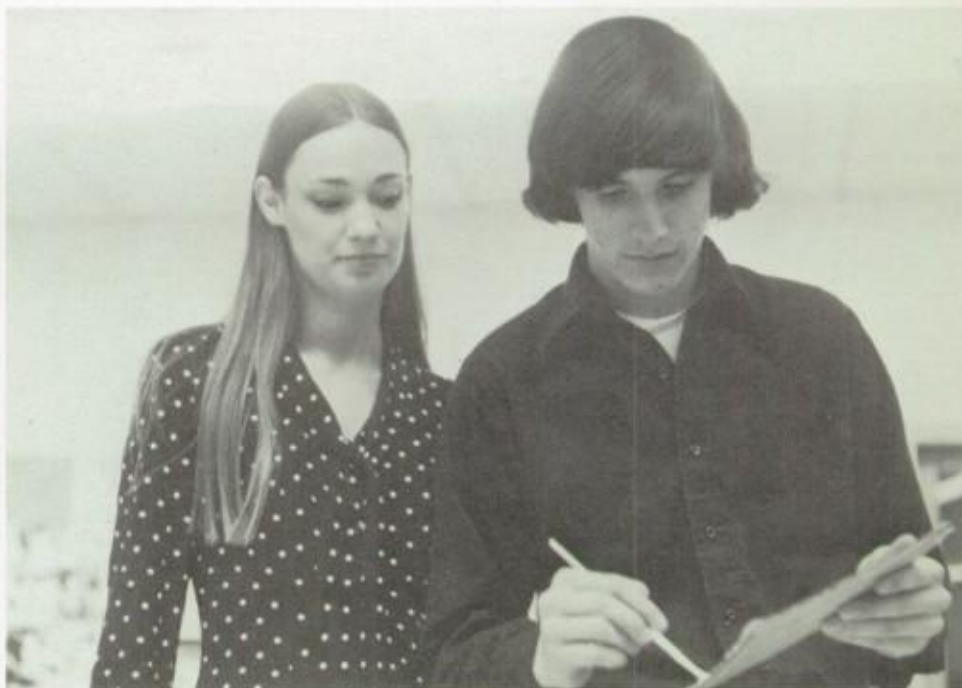

Junior Jill Gallet gets an assist in her crafts project from Mrs. Anita Trier. Mrs. Trier also teaches Introduction to Art.

One of the many projects in the Introduction to Art classes is learning how to silk screen as demonstrated by freshman Terry Brenner.

Mrs. Lenora Smith busily finishes some paperwork at the end of the school year. Mrs. Smith taught Crafts I and II.

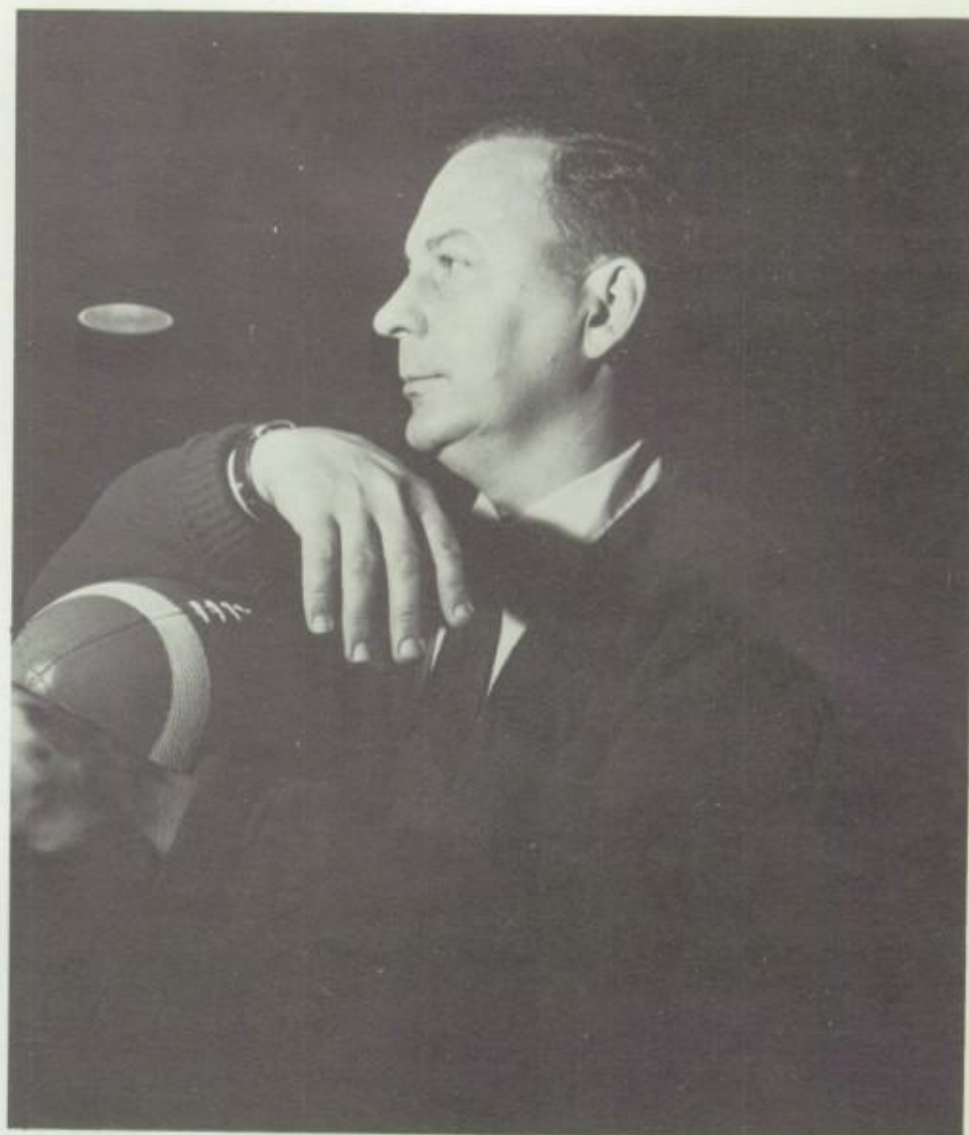

New to the Art Department at mid-term was Mrs. Jackie Hitt teaching the Introduction to Art classes. She replaced Mrs. Hopkins.

Mrs. Joanne O'Conner not only teaches art but was cited nationally for her paintings and etchings which are in traveling displays throughout the U.S.

Students shown various skills in P.E.

Mr. Al Pilarcik watches and waits while his Boys P.E. class finishes their exercises before instructing them in using a football.

Girl's P.E. I and II teacher, Mrs. Sandy Peters, watches and records the times of skill tests which are given to her students.

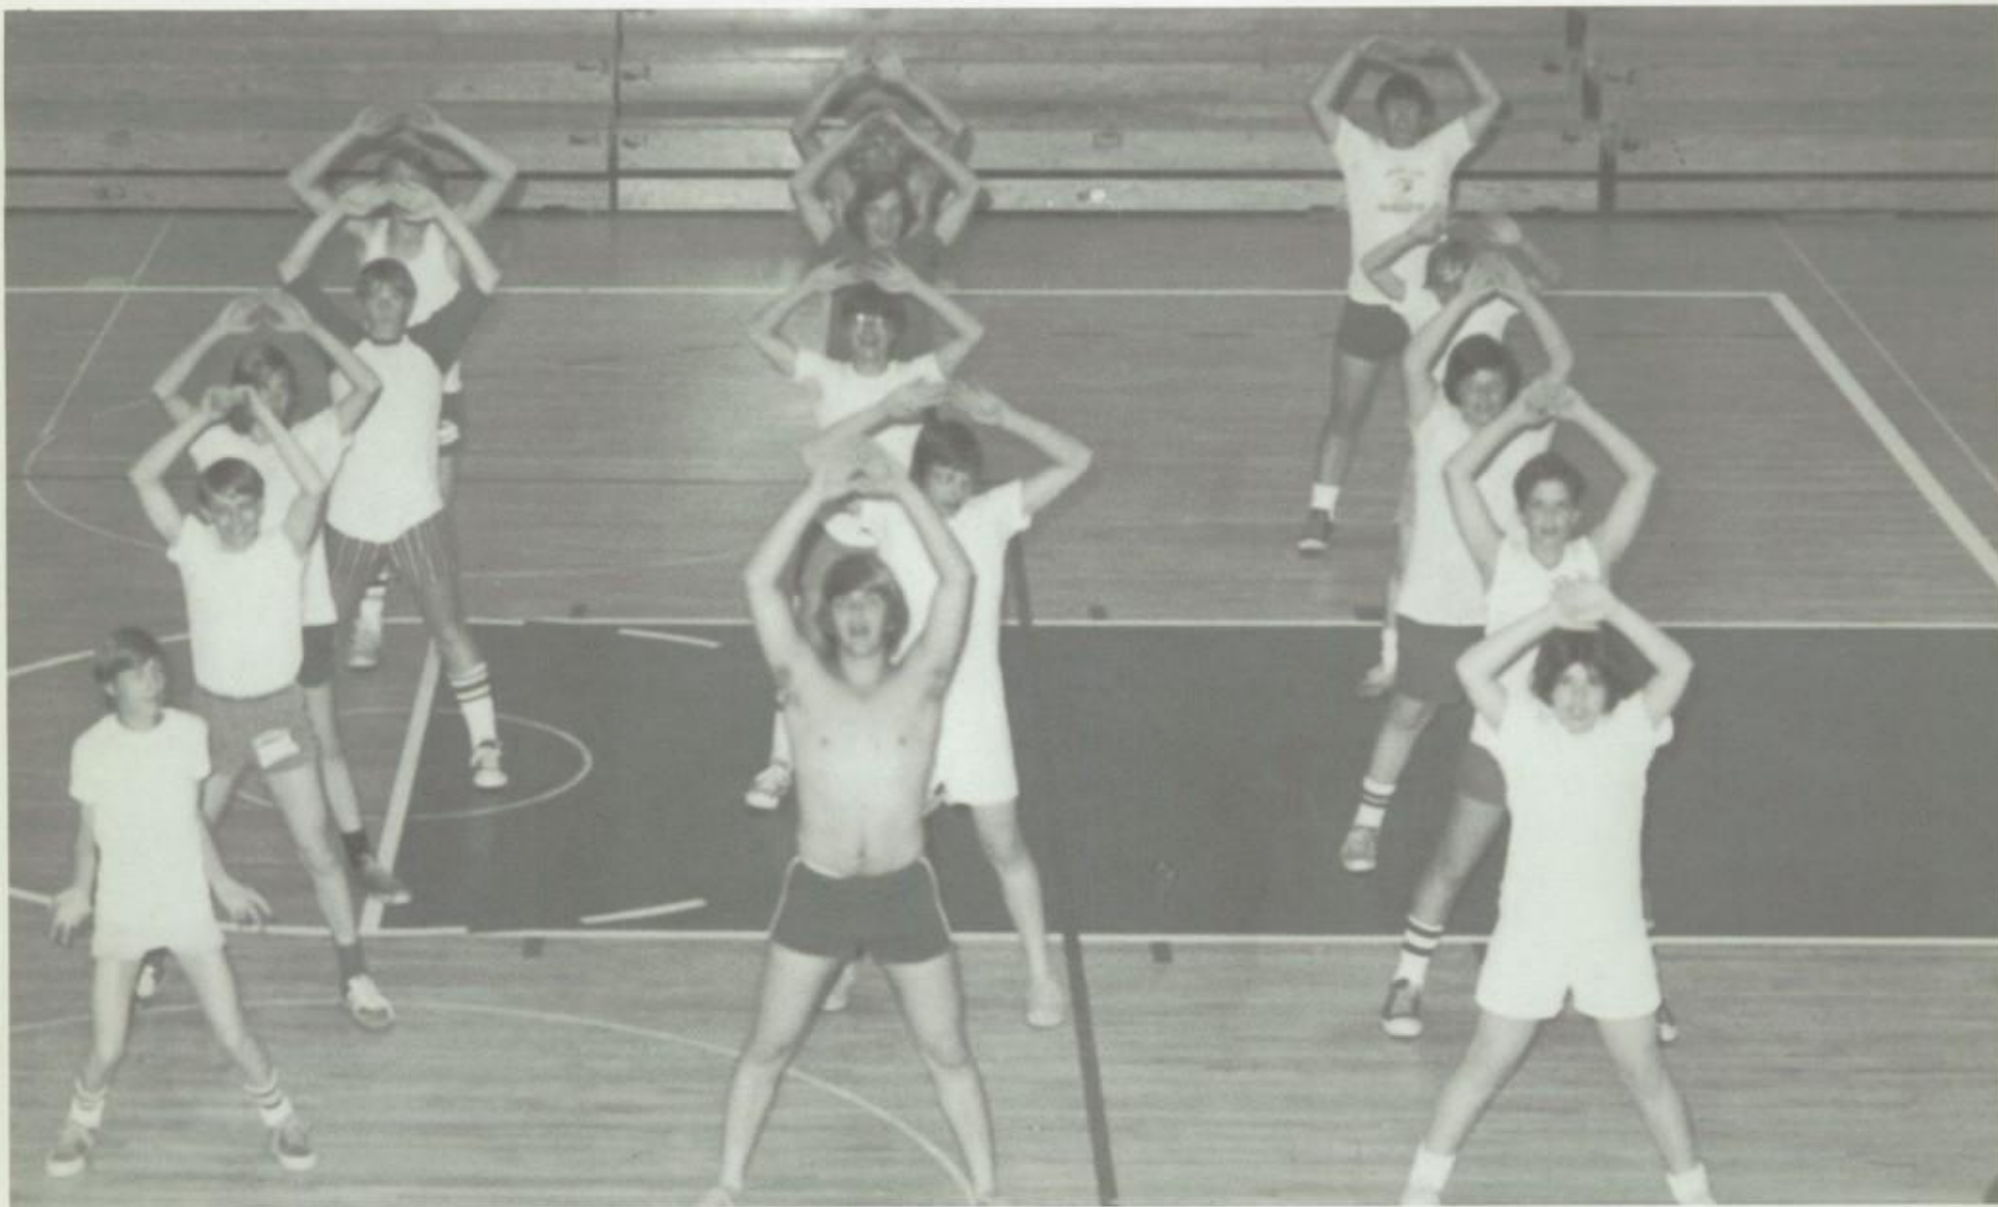

Mr. Bob Komara instructs a gym student in the demonstration of a push-up. Besides teaching gym, Mr. Komara also teaches Health.

Mr. Ed Wietecha talks to some students while supervising the foyer during lunch. He was the varsity football coach and taught Boys P.E. and health.

Miss Sandy Jones laughs at a student's comment. Miss Jones came at second semester to replace Mrs. Penzato. She teaches Girls P.E. and Health.

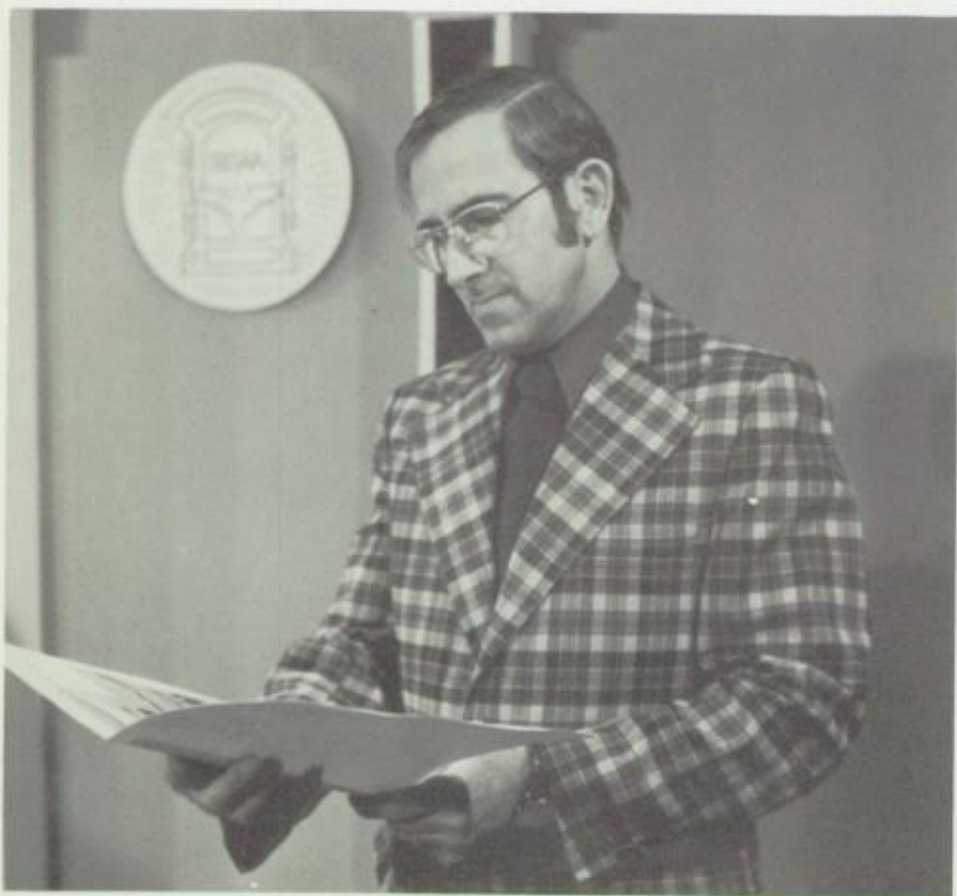

One of Mr. Pilarcik's Boys P.E. I class begins their exercises by doing jumping jacks. After the exercises they will learn some baseball techniques. One year of Physical Education is a requirement for all students at LC. In this year, students will go through various skill tests.

WCAE gives TV experience to students

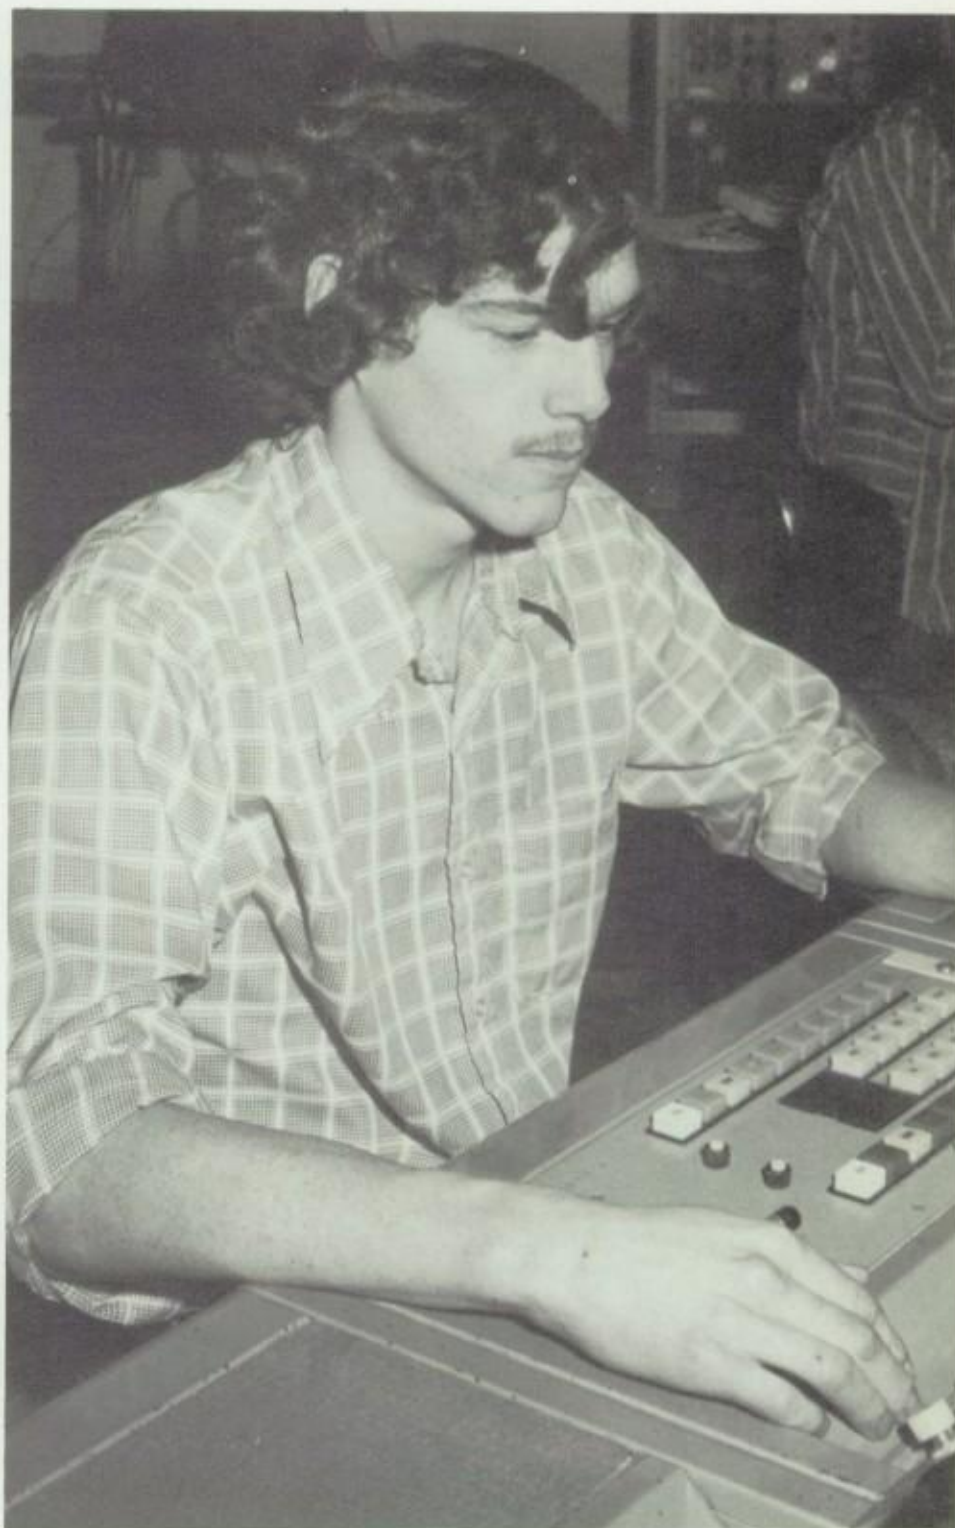

Mr. Jack Highberger, director of station development, left WCAE in March to go into business. Mr. Highberger was in charge of the Channel 50 auction.

Station Manager Lou Iaconetti appeals to viewers for funds during the half time of the Indiana State Tournament shown on WCAE.

Sam: Hey, what days are you supposed to stay after and work back here?
 Sue: I think Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
 Sam: I'm staying on Wednesday and Thursday.
 Sue: It sure is interesting to work with all of that TV equipment.
 Sam: Yea, like with the control panels, TV cameras, monitors and microphones.
 Sue: The programs are fun and interesting to watch too.
 Sam: Are you gonna work on the taping of the spelling bee next week?
 Sue: Yea, we need a lot of help on that.
 Sam: Our next special project will be the talent telethon in May.
 Sue: Each year WCAE seems to expand in some way. Like this year they added that new transmitter.
 Sam: Yea, they keep thinking of ways to make it better.
 Sue: We better get busy, it's time for another taping.

Students operate many of the control panels at WCAE. Junior Dennis Slattery prepares to switch cameras on the Channel 50 news.

A variety of shows

Junior Linda Orr carefully looks over the log before she begins working the microphones for another WCAE production.

Mr. John Gerrard handles a phone call in the course of another busy day. Mr. Gerrard is the program manager for WCAE.

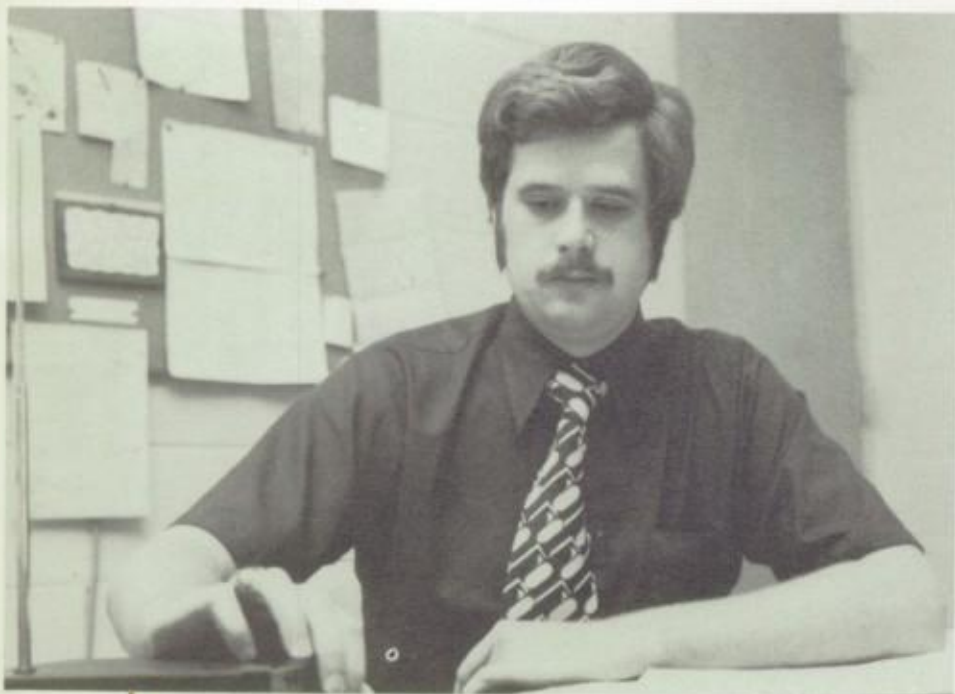

Secretary for WCAE is Mrs. Vena Perrings. Here she takes a phone call while in the middle of some paper work.

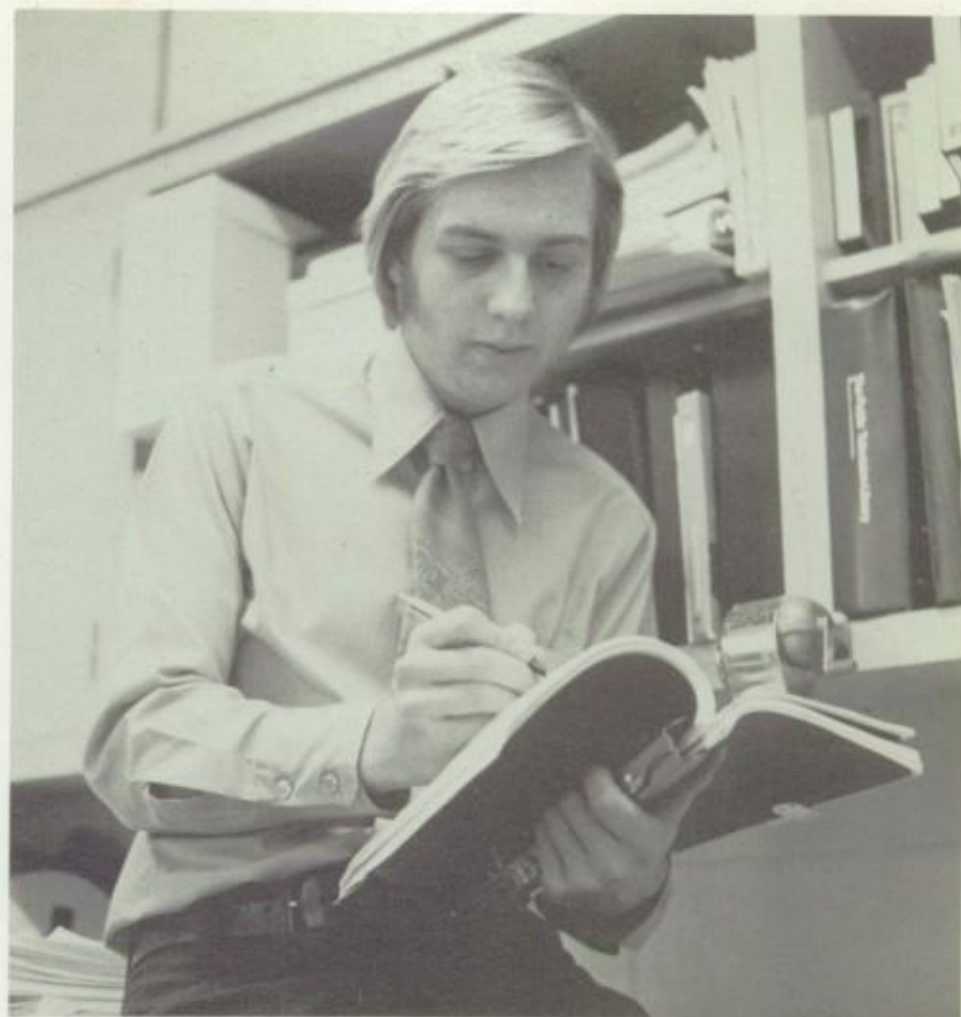

Mr. Bob Bell inspects some of the equipment that is used by WCAE. Mr. Bell is the technical engineer.

televised on WCAE

Mr. Scott Markley takes time out to tune in one of the radios. Mr. Markley takes care of the news and the public affairs.

Writing in a correction in one of the log books is Mr. Robert Chesney. Mr. Chesney is in charge of production for WCAE.

Mr. Harry Garba, chief engineer for WCAE, prepares to adjust the one of many monitors in the studio.

Senior Tim Behary watches one of the productions on a monitor in the control room. Students are a major part of the WCAE production.

Vocational classes teach useful trades

Mr. Les Milby lectures to a Metal I class about the basics of metal. He teaches Vocational Machines.

Dave: I can't wait till I get this lamp done. It will be my last project of the semester.

Bill: I'm way behind on my wood projects. Are you gonna take any wood classes next year?

Dave: Yea, I kinda like carpentry.

Bill: I don't. I've really gotten interested in my graphics class though.

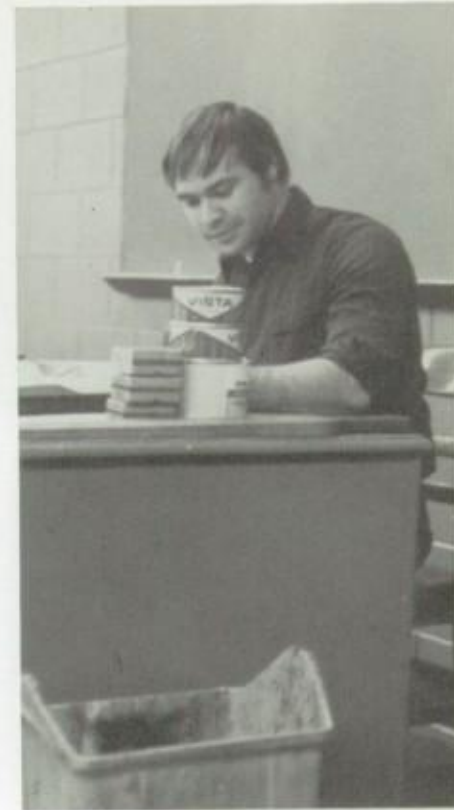

Dave: What do ya do in graphics class?

Bill: We do a lot of the printing of tickets, invitations, and programs for different clubs and activities.

Dave: There are really a lot of different vocational shops that you can take. Anything from welding, carpentry, auto, metal and machinery. You can also make your own scale model of a house in a drafting class.

Bill: I've heard that the machinery, graphics and other vocational shops have gotten some new equipment this year. The shops are really expanding.

Dave: Yea, they are. I've been thinking about getting into auto shop. Who knows, maybe I might even learn how to get my old car running again.

Auto shop teacher Mr. Dennis Brannock finishes some paper work before beginning class.

Junior Cathy Reed carefully draws out another one of her drafting projects. Girls are becoming more interested in drafting classes.

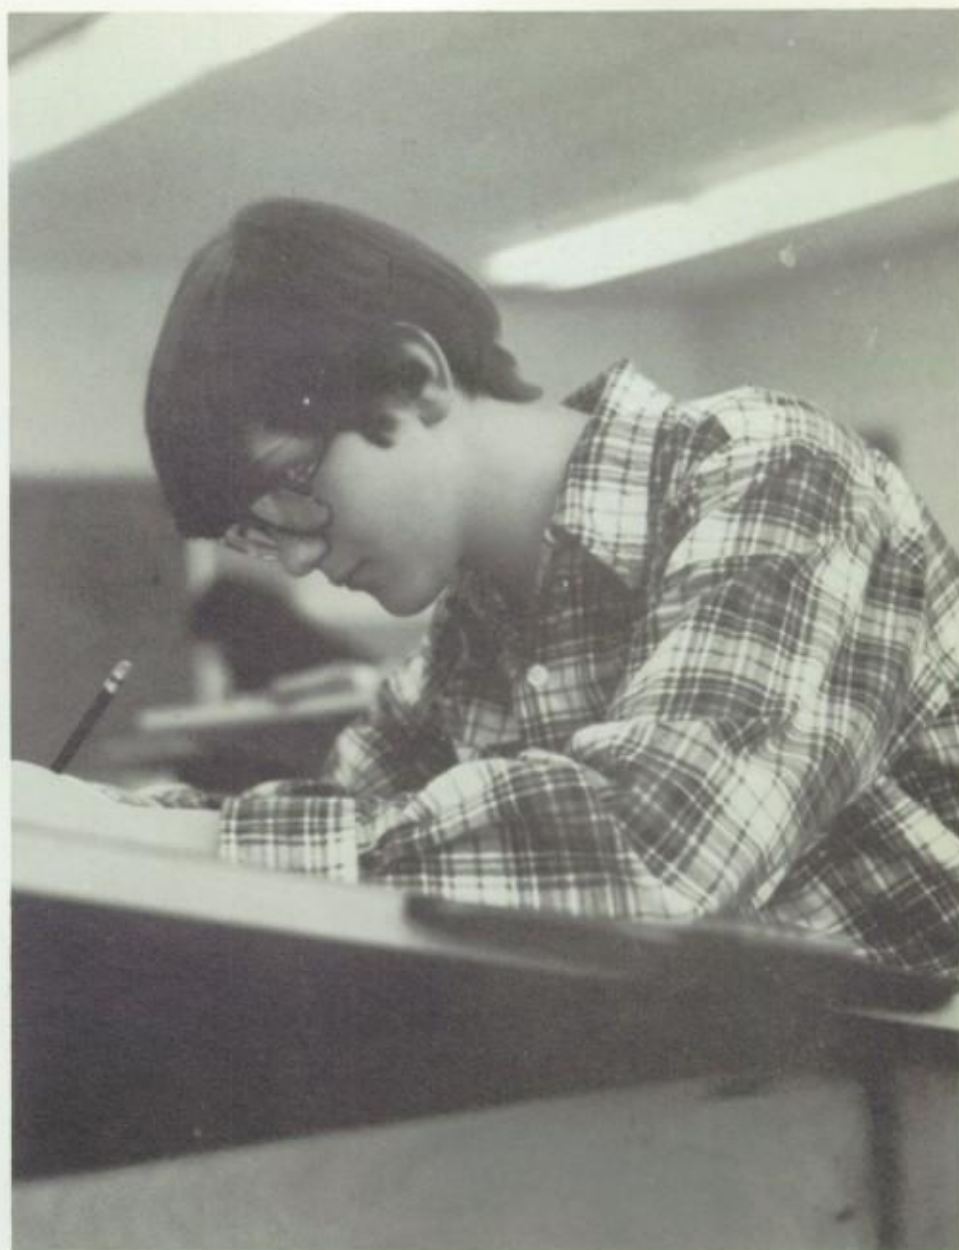

Sophomore Jim Ogden demonstrates the proper use of one of the many machines available in his Vocational Machines class.

Mr. Greg White observes the welding technique used by one of his students. Mr. White teaches Welding I.

Mr. Harold Volk demonstrates the proper way of swinging a bat to his Boys P.E. class. Mr. Volk also teaches welding and Auto I.

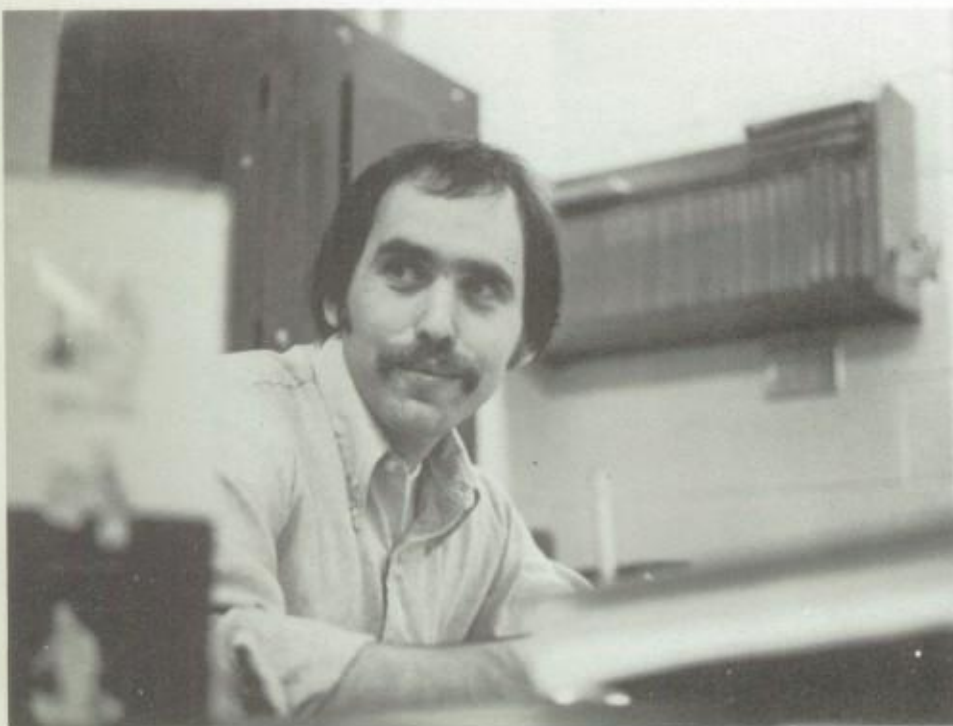

Sophomore John Jayjack concentrates on his drafting project. Each student works independently of each other on their projects.

Mr. John Linley inspects some of the equipment used in his drafting classes by the students. Mr. Linley teaches all levels of drafting.

After starting on a wood working endeavor, sophomore Richard Rech carefully examines his work before continuing on.

Some comments by his students distract Mr. Brian Board from his work. Wood I, Metal I and Intro. Wood are taught by Mr. Board.

Along with some graphics students, Mr. Bob Engerski looks over a newly printed football program.

Mr. Russ Tomjanovich sharpens one of the tools which is needed by his Vocational Carpentry class.

Scott Armstrong prepares for the beginning of another Wood I project. In a Wood I class students learn some essential ideas of wood working.

Students learn the fundamentals of wood

Mr. Tom Harris inspects the work of Scott Warren. He teaches Wood I and Intro IA Electric.

Wood III, II and Intro. Graphics teacher, Mr. Richard Wood, checks over the project of one of his students.

Sophomore Phil Karczewski proudly displays one of his many accomplishments which he made in his Wood I class.

Varsity Gridders suffer long season: 3-7

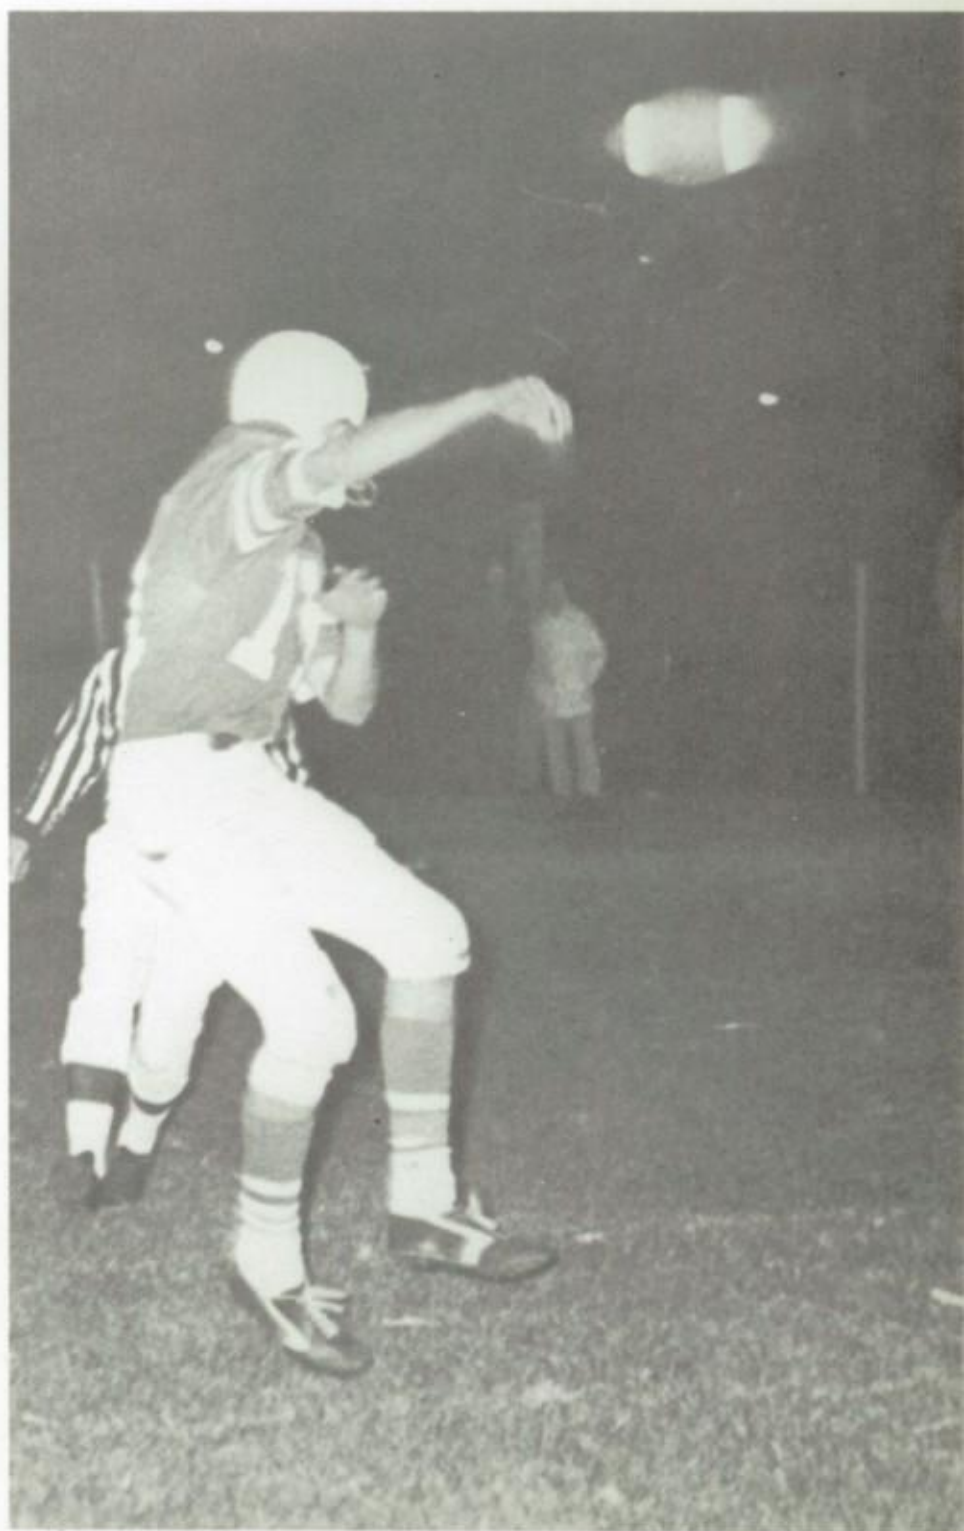

It was a long ride home from Terre Haute North after that first brutal loss to a merciless Patriot team.

Then started another dismal season for the Lake Central Indians which tragically ended in the same fashion.

There were some bright moments in the LC season when the Indians ran off with their second and third games, first by defeating East Gary by an impressive score of 28-6 and then unrelentlessly overrunning arch rival Crown Point by a score of 28-14. Then, just as things began to look up, Highland iced any chance of LC being a strong conference contender. The Indians ended the season with a 3-7 record, one of the poorest records in LC history.

Despite the Indians disappointing season, special awards were bestowed upon LC standouts; senior tackle Mike Maas, was honored with All-Area, All-Conference and nominated to the All-American team of one-hundred. Senior middle linebacker Dave Prange, was also titled All-Area and nominated to the All American team. Although these are high and respected honors, the highest prize given to Dan Richwalski, senior defensive end, this year was the All-State award. Dan was also nominated to the All-American team.

Senior co-captain, Dave Prange, confers with head coach, Ed Wietecha, about the type of defense to be used to battle their enemies drive.

(Top) A keyed-up LC offense hits the line in hopes of extending their one-point lead to eight. (Center) Mustangs defensive end prepares for a hard blow from senior end, Dan Richwalski. (Bottom) One of the Indian defenses' more dominant traits was gang tackling. This year senior linebacker Ed Cobb, lead the tackling for the defensive squad.

With the snap of the ball, the lines go all out to do their jobs. The Indians were outrushed this year, 2587 to 1754.

All-State candidate, Dan Richwalski, readies himself to throw an all-important block against his Munster opponent.

JV learns the going's rough

The record alone does not prove what a team has accomplished in a year. This is the case of the 1974 JV football squad.

Although their record reflects a 2-7 season, this does not show the time and effort put into the team. The main objective of the team was to give the boys experience that they need to compete in the varsity level next year.

The record shows a total of two wins, a 12-6 victory over Lowell, and a stunning 3-0 romp over Kankakee Valley.

JV coaches, Tom Linger and Fred Rafa, did a fine job in preparing the young gridders so that they can make next year's varsity a better team.

Varsity tight end, John Pavlik, (80) heads downfield hoping to tally up six more points to insure an Indian victory. Pavlik was the leading ground gainer of all the varsity receivers with 150 yards.

Sophomore, Greg Cowser, looks on as the JV defense shut out their Kankakee Valley opponent, 33-0.

Senior quarterback, Tom James unloads a third down pass to junior halfback, George Peters, as they try to tack up seven more points for LC.

Head Coach Ed Wietecha shouts directions at his Indian gridders to insure perfect execution while assistant coach, Bob Komara, anxiously looks on.

Frosh grididders best in LC history, 9-0

The first day of practice arrived and the juniors and seniors stood watching as all the "little" freshman jogged out to begin summer practice. There were a lot of smart remarks from the older players, but little did they know by the end of the year they'd be eating their words with a silver spoon.

Through the combined efforts of freshmen coaches, Nick Lemon and Chuck Pollen, the freshmen football team turned in an outstanding, 9-0 record, the best ever achieved in the history of Lake Central football.

To give some example of the team effort put forth by the freshmen, their average scoring for the year was 13.2 points per game as opposed to their rivals score of 4.6 points per game. All this was part of an outstanding team effort by both the offense and the defense.

Coach Lemon commented that the frosh proved to be steady winners in all sports, not just in football. He also added that if they wanted to continue to be winners, they would have to keep the attitude of a winner.

Brett Grooms and Pat Fagen run side-by-side in a quadrangular conference meet with rivals Munster and Calumet.

Lake Central Harriers finished up a good season with strong finishes in the conference and sectional meets. The Indians came in sixth in the conference and missed a third place finish by the small margin of twelve points. In the sectionals, LC came in eighth out of a field of twenty-two teams.

Sophomore standouts Pete Wielgos and Jim Robinson, along with senior captain Mark Karczewski, led the Harriers throughout the year. Coach Rudy Skrupa showed his coaching abilities as he guided his young team to the second best season Lake Central cross-country has ever seen.

Senior forward Tom James stretches high over his Calumet opponent to score two of his five pts. on the night.

Cagers end season 14-8, Hoover leaves

Closing out his final season as head coach of the Lake Central basketball team, Jerry Hoover turned in the best record in his three year reign over the varsity cagers, a respectable, 14-8.

Many considered the 1975 cagers the strongest ever put together by Hoover while at LC. At center he started with 6'1 senior Dan Richwalski, with backup work done by 6'5 senior Mike Hrunek. At the forward positions he had two of the best in the conference, Tom James who led the team in rebounds with 154, was voted All-Area, and was also voted as Most Valuable Athlete at LC for the 1974-1975 season. Opposite James at the other forward was junior Tom Varga who was second highest scorer on the team with 187 and third on the team in rebounding, behind Richwalski, with 144. Hoover had an excellent bench squad to back his starters also. Bob Bayer, senior transfer from Bishop Noll and junior Bob Barsic. At the guard spots stood senior John Hoffmaster and All-Conference sharp-shooter Jan Smoljan. There was also much depth at the guard positions when game fatigue struck one of the starters, Hoover called on one of three junior reserves, George Peters, Brian Dinges and Mike Skura.

Probably the biggest highlights of the basketball season is sectionals, one which brings crowds never to be seen or imagined during the regular season.

In the first game of the sectionals our Indians just slipped by the Crown Point Bulldogs in a real nail biter, 59-57. Then in the second game they had a little easier time with Calumet, outdoing them, 51-48. But, in the final game of the sectional the Indians met up with Merrillville. It was a slow exciting game with neither team dominating in the early going. Hoover put on the stall right off the bat and at the end of the first half the score was only 14-10. Hoover didn't give up but neither did the Pirates. Merrillville went on to score 15 points in the second half to the Indians 12. The final score of the game was 29-22.

Standout guard for the Indians Jan Smoljan demonstrates the shooting form which won him a position on the Lake Suburban Conference All-Conference team.

George Peters, junior guard, shows the emotional strain the players are under during Sectional playoffs. Peters didn't see much action but he served as an excellent booster when the team was in a slump.

Senior captain Dave Smith attempts to pin his Horace Mann opponent to help increase the score for Lake Central.

Head wrestling coach Bob Komara was very enthused with his mat squad as numerous individuals came forth to win conference, sectional, and regional titles. As a team the grapplers finished 4-6 on the season, sixth in the Hammond Tourney, and second in the East Chicago Invitational.

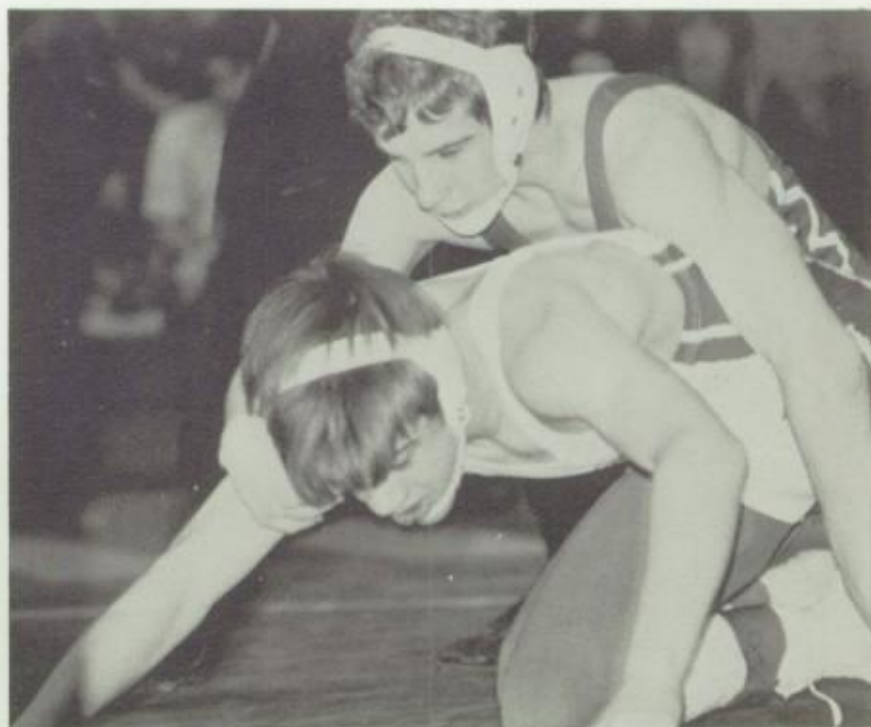

Ted Sangalis, at 105 lbs., was a Lake Suburban Conference champ and a sectional winner. Ted finished fourth in Regional competition. Tom Triumph was also a conference and sectional champ in the 112 lb. category. Tom also finished fourth in the Regional. In the 138 lb. class, senior Al Mathews took a double crown and also was a fourth place finisher in the Regionals. Dave Smith and Dave McKeny were runners-up in sectional finals. McKeny went on to capture third in the regionals.

The Indians edged Crown Point out the sectional team title by a score of 68½-60. Mathews had a season mark of 18-5 and McKeny led the team statistics with a record of 19-5.

All-Conference and sectional champ Tom Triumph takes the up position against his Crown Point opponent.

Tim Triumph ties his Highland opponent. Tim went on to earn a varsity letter during his freshman year.

Ken Kidd leads the field in the 880-relay at the Chesterton Relays.

Jim Robinson was co-captain and set the mile record for Lake Central indoors.

Brett Grooms runs the two mile race at the Chesterton Relays.

Young Tracksters Have Exceptional Year

Coach Rudy Skorupa's first season as head track coach resulted in one of the best seasons LC has ever had. The very young Indian team had exceptional seasons both indoor and outdoor.

Lake Central finished first in the Lake Central Relays and second in the Lake Suburban Conference Meet indoors. Sophomore Pete Weilgos emerged as a top-flight distance runner during the first part of the season.

The Indians had a good schedule outdoor as well. They finished second in the Highland and Griffith Relays. They had third place finishes in the Rensselaer and Chesterton Relays. In the outdoor Lake Suburban Conference Meet the Indians had a respectable fifth place finish.

Lake Central should have a strong team next year with returning standouts Bob Muha, Jim Robinson, Pete Weilgos, Mark Sumner, and pole vaulter Bob Lewis.

Brett Grooms moves up on teammate Pat Fagen in the mile run at Rensselaer.

Pete Weilgos finishes strong in the first outdoor meet of the season at Valpo.

Bob Lewis clears the bar during warm-up at a conference meet. Lewis set the school record in the pole vault this year.

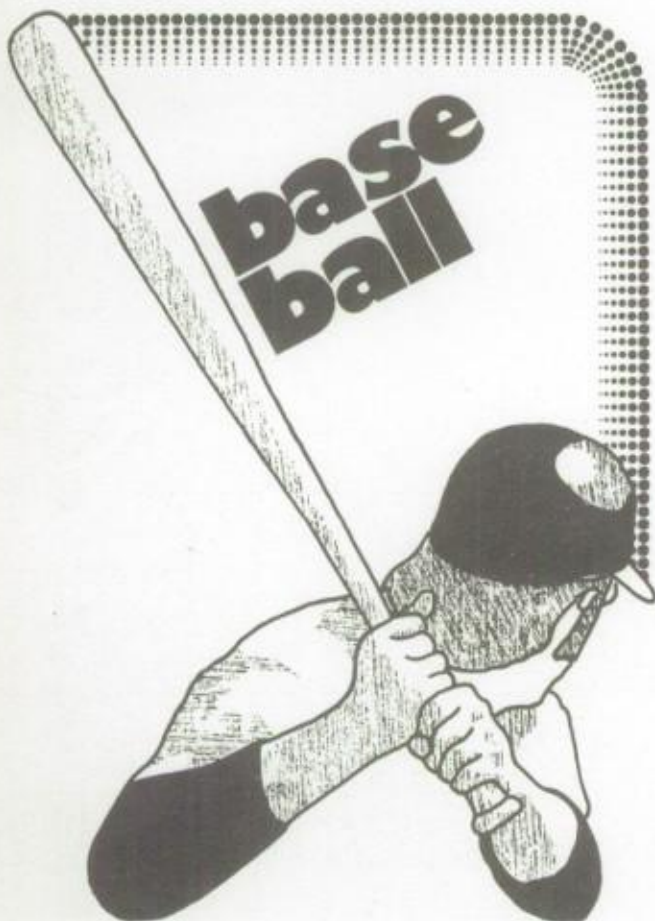

Hardballers finish with 8-6 season.

Senior second baseman Kent Howarth was probably the most effective lead-off batter in the conference with his ability to get on base. In the Highland game, Kent prepares to drive in Brian Harwood from second base.

Coach Al Pilarcik's hardballers finished with an 8-6 conference record and an overall 9-7 mark. LC finished third in the conference behind Munster and Highland. Coach Pilarcik was quoted as saying "I'd just like to end up at .500 this season." The Indian accomplished this plus a few better.

Junior Joe Smitka was named to the all-conference team for his ability in right field and his heavy bat. Smitka carried the best average on the Indian team this year with a .350. He had nine doubles and numerous clutch hits.

In sectionals, LC beat Hanover Central, 7-5. The Indians lost the championship to Crown Point, 2-1.

Senior pitcher Jim Lesniewski reads the sign before pitching against his Griffith opponent. Lesniewski was the Indians leading hurler.

Third baseman Dan Creviston trot to his position as he takes over the duties in the hot corner.

Members of the JV baseball team include: Row 1, L. to R., H. Parkinson, M. Katona, R. Vallaincourt, D. Cullen, M. Hulpa, D. Mauch, R. Vallaincourt. Row 2, A. Petrunich, Coach Ossanna, D. Theil, P. O'Leary, G. Cowser, T. Kennedy, M. Halton, M. Amberson, R. Companik, R. Humpfer.

Senior Tom Adams awaits a 3-2 pitch against Griffith. LC finished third behind Griffith and Highland in the LSC.

Junior pitcher Jan Smoljan warms up before the Lowell game as he waits his turn on the mound.

Jan Smoljan rounds first on a two-base hit against Highland at the LC field. Smoljian, a junior, was a stalwart on the Indian mound crew.

Girls sponsor first cheerleading clinic

The 1974-75 cheerleaders started a new money raising project this year in order to pay for their uniforms. The girls started a cheerleading clinic which any girls, fourth thru eighth grade could attend. They held the clinic in April for a week teaching the girls cheers, stunts and had talk sessions. 150 girls attended. Other fund-raising projects included bake sales and taffy apple sales during the homecoming season.

During the basketball season the girls presented the players mothers with flowers at half time. They served food and drinks to the parents and coaches on Parent night. The cheerleaders did all of the decorations for the Athletic Banquet. They had a party for the players before the sectionals and sent Christmas cards to the guys and coaches, also to cheerleaders of various teams.

Miss Kathy Arbuckle was the sponsor of the squads and senior Karen Buchler was captain. The varsity consisted of two seniors and four juniors. The junior varsity consisted of one junior and four sophomores.

The Varsity squad consisted of senior Marisa Girman, Captain Karen Buchler, Juniors: Cindi Pasternak, Sue Jordan, Danna Pozezanac, and Julie Bakker. The Girls attended a summer workshop at Valparaiso University learning different cheers and stunts while meeting other cheerleaders and exchanging views.

One of the requirements of being a good cheerleader is personality and the showmanship of each girl. A smile means a lot and the girls prove that. Many hours of work and concentration goes into their job and the Varsity squad is happy with the results.

Junior varsity cheerleaders bolstered team spirit and spent hundreds of hours at practice hoping to move up to the varsity squad next year. Four sophomores and one junior comprised the team. From left to right: Beth Bachnak, Patti Mulcahey, Rosie Koeple, Peggy Hilbrich and Cindy Stecyk.

JV cheerleaders practice one of their many formations used for games. The girls work out most of their routines and acrobatic stunts by themselves.

The spirit of the freshman cheerleaders lead their teams to an outstanding season. Their enthusiasm was remarkable.

Lake Central's Girl's Athletics finished with another year of winning records. In volleyball the record was 11-9. The roundballers finished 12-8 for the year, with Kim Prange being named to the Girl's Athletics Lake Suburban All-Conference Team.

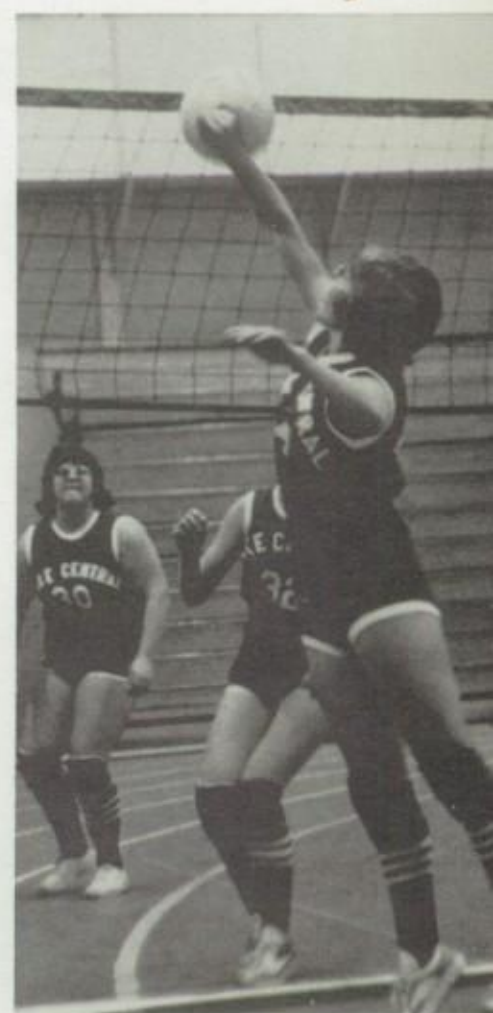

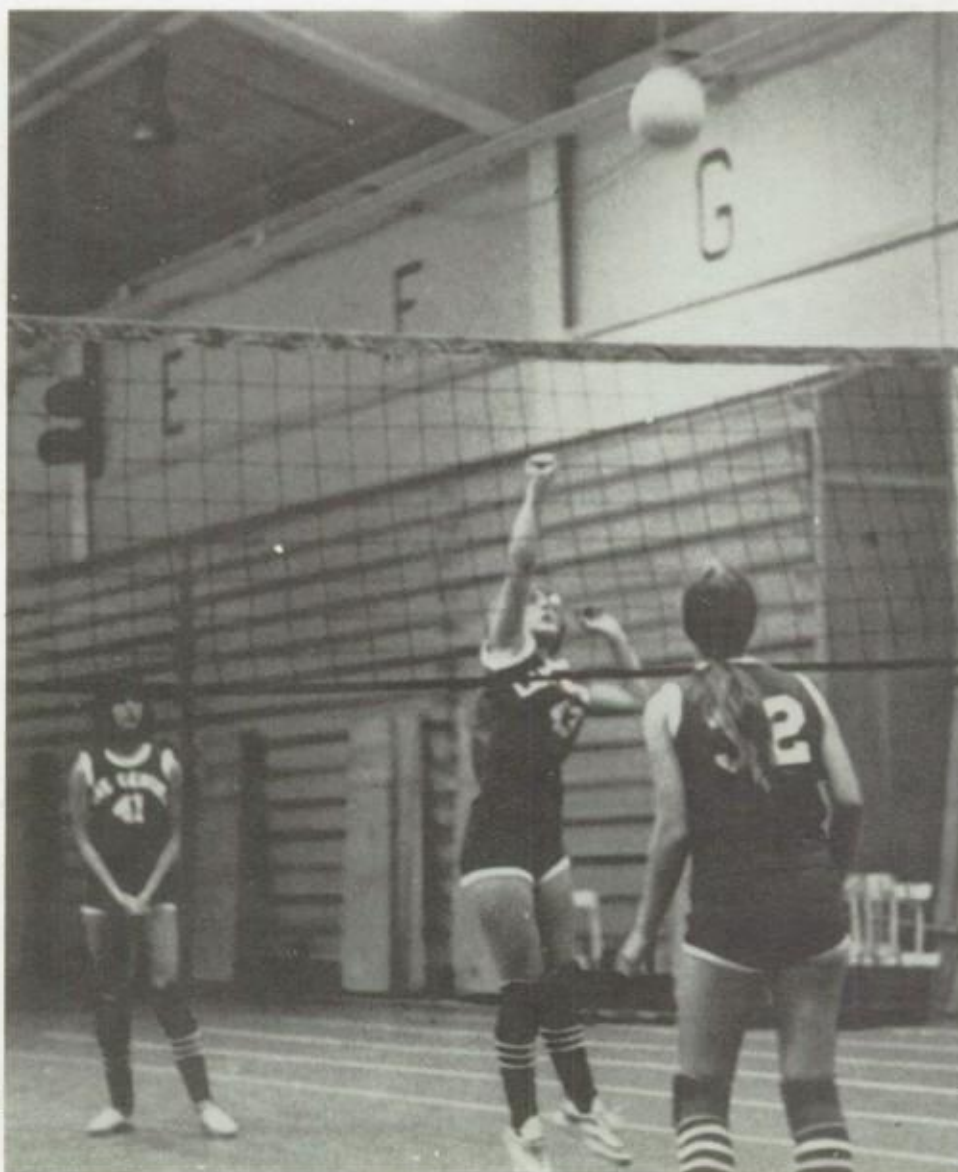

The track team has an 8-4 record for the year with high jumper Kathy Buchler, freshman, qualifying for sectionals and also making the girls all-conference squad. Also qualifying for sectionals was another freshman Lori Kirk, a long jumper.

Coach Sandra Peters named the best female athlete at Lake Central. Janet Schweitzer was the outstanding varsity volleyball player and Rhonda Burke on the JV team. Kim Prange was the best offense player and Karen Gallas was the best defense player on the basketball team. Kim Prange also won the most valuable award on the track team.

The Volleyball Team ended the year with an 11 win, 9 loss record. The team has six out of seven players returning for next years team.

Young linksters finish 7-11 for campaign

The golfing Indians couldn't seem to get the season underway as the four of the first five matches were either rained out or cancelled by cold weather. Once the season did get rolling the linksters had their share of trouble as they finished below the .500 mark with a record of 7 wins and 11 losses.

In tournament play, the team came in 17th place in the Rensselaer Invitational and finished ninth in their own Lake Hills Invitational. Jim Krol was first medalist in the Lake Hills match, but the rest of the team wasn't able to equal his performance.

Ed Larson tries an approach shot with his nine iron onto the green. Ed has been on varsity golf for two years.

Jim Krol uses a wood as he tries a hit off of the fareway. Jim has been playing on the LC golf team for his four years.

For many young sports enthusiasts weather sometimes can be a big hassle. For the golfer wet greens, soggy fairways and high winds can make playing the game all the more rough.

The Class of '75 focus on the image of Graduation - Baccalaureate day June 3

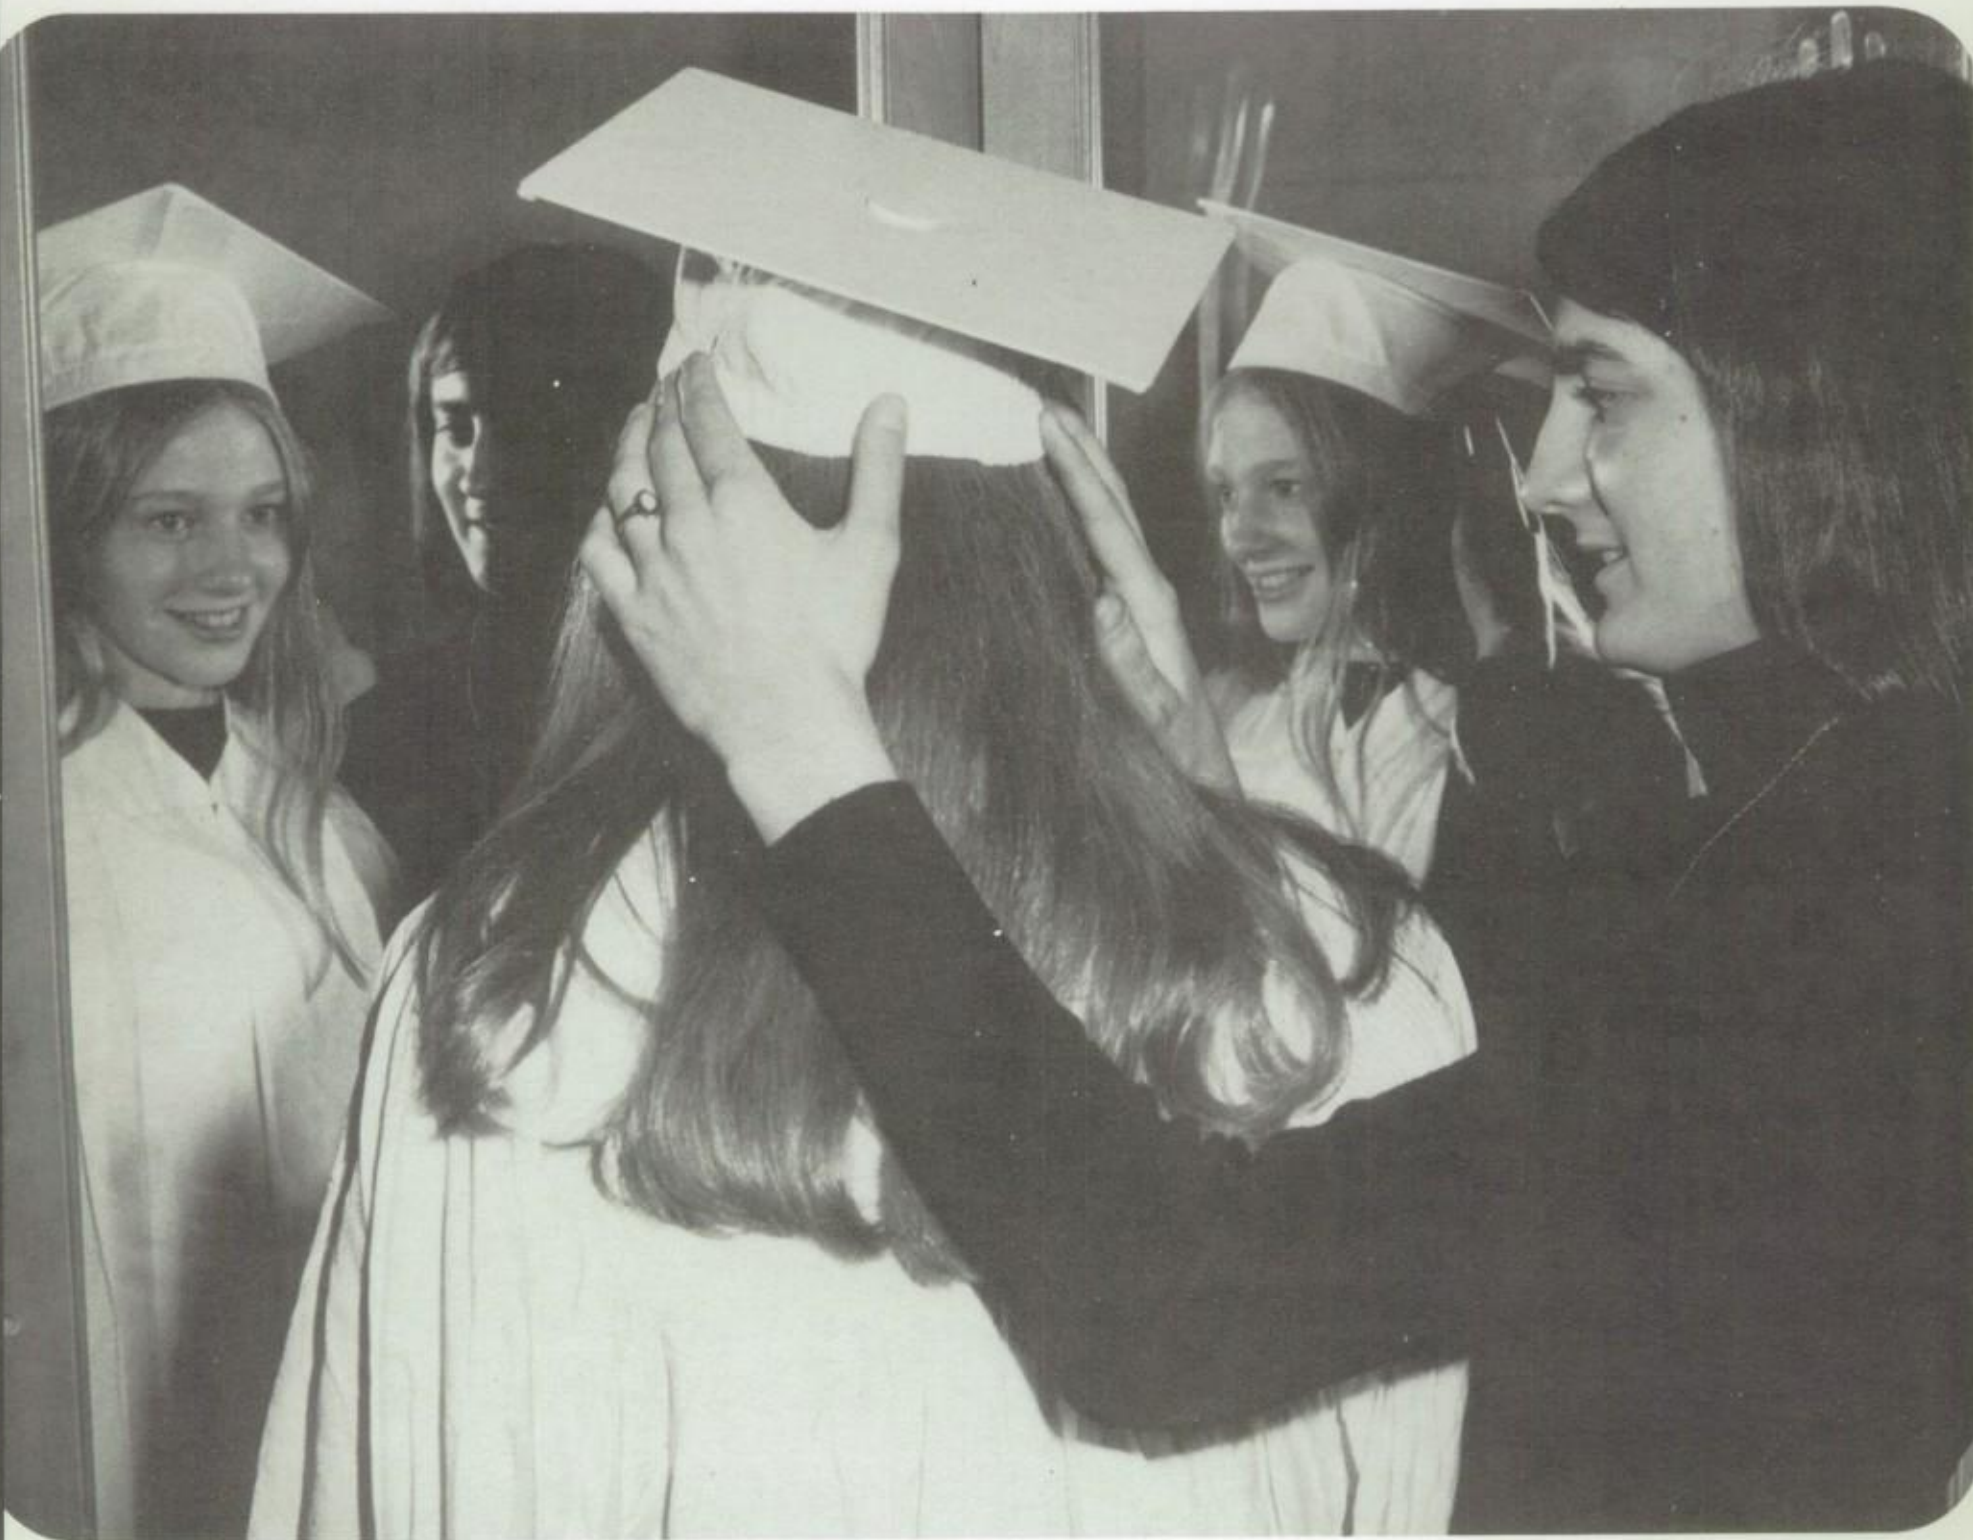

The Class of '75 started with 462 freshmen, eager to start high school but anticipating with fear the first day. Their freshman year went fast, and their sophomore and junior years even faster. Soon they were seniors ready to graduate.

Having gone through nine class sponsors, they were rescued by Mrs. Lowe and Mr. Vignocchi. The final year started with the seniors winning the Football Homecoming Sweepstakes trophy. The Jr.-Sr. Powder Puff game was skillfully won by the Senior Class after the final buzzer. Senior Vicci Watson ran and scored the winning touchdown. Basketball Homecoming proved another accomplishment for the seniors as they won first place for their float. Also, during the school year the Class of '75 rented cartoons that were shown in the auditorium. With this money the class put on the "Senior Banquet".

The Senior Review was performed two nights and proved entertaining for its audience and worthwhile for its participants. A night of relaxation was provided for the seniors at the Jr.-Sr. Prom, "Just You & Me". Semester finals were given and lockers were cleaned out. The countdown sign in the office read zero and Senior Week began. A Senior Picnic took place at Lemon Lake to give the fun-loving seniors a last time together. Baccalaureate-Commencement became one with the Class of '75 Speeches were made, diplomas handed out and tassels switched. The seniors were now alumni.

Now this class will be focusing on a new image. Each person will go their own way. And, the presence of the Class of '75 will always lie in the history of Lake Central.

Laura Siebert and Lisa Bocek made a few last minute alternations before Commencement exercises. The program consisted of speeches from class officers, valedictorian, salutatorian, administrators and guest speaker Father Ed Foley. The chorus sang the class motto "Corner of the Sky."

I'm going to find a 'Corner of the Sky'

Realizing she has been chosen Queen of Prom, Laurie Miller gratefully accepts her bouquet of roses from chairmen Karen Figler and Marcie Gronowski.

"Our Goal, An LC Reign Bow" led the Senior Class to first place in the Lake Central Football Homecoming Parade.

Senioritis set in and a countdown of "days left" before Senior Week was placed in the general office window. Graduation day was almost here.

Determination developed Spirit Of '76'

Student Government members for the class of '76 were Nancy Ayersman, Jody Lancaster, Barb Tucker, Barb Harrison, Pam Denslaw, Sue Czerwinski, Pat Conte, Danna Pozezanac and Jill Gallett.

The Coke Bar was used by the juniors instead of the student lounge. More money and time were saved this way. Prom was held at the Ramada Inn in Dolton, Illinois on May 24. The theme of this years prom was "Just You-n-Me." Nancy Ayersman, Jody Lancaster, Barb Tucker, Barb Harrison, Pam Denslaw, Sue Czerwinski, Dana Pozezanac, and Jill Gallet make up the Junior class SGA members.

Sponsoring the class are Mr. Rarick and Mr. Hensley who helped the class win hall decoration during homecoming week. Class officers are Vicki Keliman, Julie Bakker, Nancy Duncan, and Arlene Adler.

Fund raising projects and Prom took a lot of work from the class this year. Sponsoring the juniors are teachers Mr. Mike Hensley and Mr. Bob Rarick.

Class rings presented at Lake Central

Sophomore Class took the 1st place trophy in the home-yell contest. In the float competition they placed 3rd and hall contest placed 2nd. They also won the Drumstick in the annual Turkey Trot.

A raffle and car wash were some of the ways the class of '77 raised money. Helping with the projects were soph class sponsors Mr. Fraley and Miss Blasky.

Class officers this year are Kathy Pisut, Rhonda Gard, Sandy Kelly, and Patty Gariepy. SGA members for the sophomore class are Cindy Snyder, Brian Sandquist, Sheli Chermak, John Gunnum, Cheryl Glines, Barb Walz, Cheryl Cartensen, and Mary Townsend.

Sponsoring the Sophomore Class are teachers Mr. Fraley and Mrs. Blasky. They helped in putting a little more pride into what they were working for.

This year's sophomore class cabinet members are Ronny Kuhn, Terri Wells, Patty Gariepy, Cheryl Kilander, Tenna Zevkovich, Sandy Kelly, Cindy Stecyk, Cathy Pisut, Rhonda Gard, Lorie Hummel, Holly Nobosel, Pat Woods, Kendal Smith and Linda Bohny. They represent class unity.

Fun and success captured through unity

The Freshman Class of this year proved themselves as individuals. All through the year they showed their school spirit. They were quite active not only in Homecoming activities, but sponsored many of their own activities.

The effort put forth by the Freshman class to be successful in Homecoming activities was evident. They placed third in float competition, second in the yell contest, and fourth with their hall decoration.

The achievement of the class was attained through the leadership of the sponsors Mr. Zawada and Mrs. Korem along with the class officers, Kathy Buchler, Janet Bakker, Kim Anderson, Laurie Blaho and cabinet members: Roxanne Lewis, Lynn Christenson, Janet Bakker, Nancy Townsend, Kathy Morrison, Diana Holbrook, Jana Bell, Kim Anderson, Donna Wagner, Jeff Nordyke, Robin Gard, Laurie Blaho, and Julie Phillips.

Class cabinet members are R. Lewis, L. Christenson, J. Bakker, N. Townsend, K. Morrison, D. Holbrook, J. Bell, L. Blaho, K. Anderson, D. Wagner, J. Phillips, J. Nordyke and R. Gard. Their leadership made the year successful.

Freshman class officers, Kathy Buchler, Janet Bakker, Kim Anderson and Laurie Blaho led their class in many activities.

Sponsors Mr. Ray Zawada and Mrs. Irene Korem spent many hours organizing activities for the freshman class.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

The best way we could think of summing up our four years in high school is expressed by Chicago's "Old Days".

Old days, good times I remember,
 Fun days, filled with simple pleasure,
 Drive-in movies,
 Comic books and bluejeans,
 Howdy Doody,
 Baseball cards and birthdays,
 Take me back to a world gone away.
 Memories seem like yesterday.

Old days, good times I remember,
 Gold days, days I'll always treasure,
 Funny faces, full of love and laughter,
 Funny places, summer nights and street cars,
 Take me back to a world gone away.
 Memories seem like yesterday.

Old days, on my mind and in my heart to stay.
 Old days, darkened dreams of good times gone away.
 Old days, days of love and feeling fancy free.
 Old days, days of magic still so close to me.

So a sweet girl and the best caption I ever had. Please
lets always stay
friends

Donna

Deb,
 To A real
 not + that is pretty cool sometimes, only when you Aint (peninoid) on well Any way to A chick I like to freak out. Have fun in the years to come. Be cool.
 YVORR

Debbie
 I enjoyed ditching
 with you during 3rd year
 one day I was scared in though I was scared in the back to you always!
 I remember me!
 Love Penny

Deb,
 To a real nice person, I am glad I met you. Hope we stay friends. Good luck with the guys.
 N.M.

Deb,
 To a really neat person
 I hope you know. Hope you always have fun.
 Good luck always
 N.M.

Debbie
 I hope you have a really good time
 with your friends.
 Love
 Penny

Get a cool
to go lunch
really quick chick always always. Pan 118

Debbie,
To a really nice girl
Click, I met her year in
gym. Stay out of fights, maybe we can go to some more pizza Huts (44, 44, 44), some dinner with the group.
